At Plainfield, Architects W. H. Clum & Sons, want bids until August 22d for two-story and attic frame dwelling on Pemberton avenue, Westfield, N. J., for W. J. Hamilton, Jr.; slate roof, hot air, cabinet mantels; cost $3,500. A new church will be built here by the Swedish Lutheran congregation, Rev. G. Nelsensins, pastor; location New street, near West Front street. Architects Clum & Sons, 28 Somerset street, have plans ready for a two-story and attic frame dwelling on Carlton avenue, for Capt. J. E. Curtis; cost about $5,000; hot water, shingle roof, King's Windsor cement.

At Paterson, Architect Chas. E. Slaight, 129 Main street, has plans for a two-story frame school, 46x84 to be built at Ramsey Bergen county. Steam heat, shingle roof, blackboards and seats and desks; cost $7,000. Architect Cook & Buncie and Charles Ackerman, of Newark, N. J., are making plans for a brick school to be erected here on Market and Vine streets, for the Paterson Board of Education. Jas. J. Bailey, chairman building committee; cost about $35,000. Plans are to be submitted on September 3d. Bids are wanted for three new safes and office furniture for the City Hall at this place.

At Passaic, Passaic county, Architect E. E. Twist, News building, is making plans for a stone and shingle church for the Clifton (Passaic county) Reformed church, Rev. Ellwood, pastor. It will be 60x40. Slate roof, steam heat, stained glass, combination fixtures. Architect Herman Fritz, 43 Garden street, is making plans for alterations to Mrs. Moore's residence, on Harrison street. Architect E. E. Twist, New's Building, is also making plans for a limestone and brick church and parsonage, at Hamilton avenue and Jackson street, for the Dundee Presbyterian church, N. S. Becker, pastor; cost about $18,000; slate roof, steam heat, stained glass.

At Camden the rough plans for the new county building have been announced. On the first floor of the structure will be located the offices of the Surrogate county clerk, Register of Deeds, Prosecutor of Pleas and the Sheriff. The offices for the county courts, including the Chancery court, will occupy the second floor and the county jail will occupy the whole of the third floor. The structure will be of stone and will form a quadrangle on the centre of the plot bounded by Broadway, Sixth, Market and Federal streets. At the suggestion of Advisory Architect Warren Laird, of the University of Pennsylvania $3,200 has been set aside for distribution among five competing architects. Each of the four will receive $800 and the successful architect will receive only compensation for the supervision of the work. There will be four fine entrances and a rotunda.

At Newark, Architect Alfred Walters, 22 Clinton street, has plans for a three-story story and flat for Yeague Bros., Vailsburg, N. J., three baths, cabinet mantels; cost $5,000. Owners receive bids. Architect Eugene A. McMurray, 22 Clinton street, is making plans for a one-story and attic frame club house 25x46, for the Citizens Association of Vailsburg; cost $5,000; steam heat. A dance hall 38x75 will also be built to club house. William Billington is president of the Citizens Association, Vailsburg, Essex county, N. J. Same architect is also making plans for a one-story frame addition to the Vailsburg Presbyterian church, to cost $1,800. D. M. Lake chairman of the building committee. Parker will alter his brick dwelling, 170 Blaine street, into flats, cost $4,500. Architect McMurray, 22 Clinton street, is making plans.

At Atlantic City, it is stated that William A. Brady is seeking a suitable site on which to erect a large theatre. The only available site offered for the new Federal building is too valuable, as the government has limited the price to $75,000. F. A. Souder has begun work on the erection of two frame dwellings at Chelsea Heights. They will be four stories high and will contain fourteen rooms each; also has contract for four-story dwelling to contain fourteen rooms for Kennedy Crossan. It will occupy a site at Trenton avenue and Boulevard avenue. The two other dwellings will be erected for Dr. Filbert. Work has begun on the erection of a large grain elevator on Baltic avenue, for William Heald. The plans have been prepared by Architect H. A. Stout. It will be 40x120 feet and 30 feet high and will have all the latest improvements in machinery and storage bins. E. J. Petroff has bought from Daniel W. Myers the Square fronting on the ocean at Chelsea, between Montgomery and Tallahassee avenues. The new owner will sub-divide it into fine building lots and put on the market for sale. No site has been selected for the new post office. Those offered thus far are too valuable to leave enough money to put up a suitable building. It is thought an effort will be made to have the appropriation increased.

Through Delaware

At Wilmington, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has awarded the contract for piling for the foundations for the new round house to Armstrong & Pritzenhoff, of Philadelphia. Proposals will soon be asked for the construction of the round house and twelve shops to be erected at Todd's Cut. C., in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by him.

Washington, D. C. The congregation of the Berean Baptist congregation has bought a site for a new church on the east side of Eleventh street, between W and Y streets Northwest. The present church property on Eighteenth street, was sold about two weeks ago. Conrad Roeben and John G. Slater can give information. Lieut. Colonel A. M. Miller, engineer officer in charge of the Washington Water supply system, has recommended that the bridge over Rock Creek at Pennsylvania avenue be widened. The estimated cost of the work is about $75,000.

At Ridley Park, Delaware county, sealed proposals, addressed to George C. Hetzell, Chief Burgess, Ridley Park, will be received not later than October 10th, and in order proposals, plans and specifications for sewage purification and disposal. Said proposals must include the cost of completion of sewage disposal and purification plant, exclusive of land damages. Full description, with plans and specifications, of the method suggested must accompany each proposal. Further information may be obtained by personal interview with the Borough Surveyor, 24 West Sellers avenue, Ridley Park.

At Pittsburg, Pa., proposals will be received at the office of the city controller until August 25, for the erection of an engine house in the Twenty-third ward. Plans and specifications may be seen at office of Harry S. Estep, Publication Building, 209 Ninth street, Pittsburg, Pa.—Sealed proposals will be received until Saturday, August 23rd, for the erection of a fourteen room school building to be erected in the First ward, Wilkinsburg, Station D, Pittsburgh. At Washington, D. C., Mordecai T. Endicott, Chief of Bureau Yards and Docks, Navy Department, will receive sealed proposals until September 13th, 1902, for constructing concrete and granite dry dock, exclusive of pumping plant and caisson at the Navy Yard, Norfolk, Virginia. The authorized cost of entire work is $1,200,000. Plans and specifications can be seen at Navy Yard, Norfolk, or at the Bureau of Yards and Docks.

At Harrisburg, Pa., sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Board of Public Works, 27 South Second street, Harrisburg, Pa., until 2.30 p. m., Wednesday, September 3, for furnishing all materials and performing all labor for the construction of approximately three miles of concrete and expanded metal intercepting sewer and appurtenances, in the city of Harrisburg. About one and one-half miles of the sewer will be five feet in diameter, and one and one-half miles four feet in diameter. There will be seven inverted siphons on connections with existing sewers, about forty manholes, fourteen flap gates and a cast-iron outfall sewer. The entire work is to be let in one contract and a certified check for $5,000 must be deposited with the bid. A surety company bond for $30,000 will be required of the successful bidder. Specifications, plans and blank form of proposal can be obtained, upon making a deposit of $10, at the office of the board of public works, or at the office of James H. Fuertes, consulting engineer, 140 Nassau street, New York. The $10 deposit will be given back to the bidder upon the return to the board of the plans and specifications in good condition. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. A. C. Stamm, Secretary Board of Public Works.

DEVOTED TO REAL ESTATE, BUILDING, ARCHITECTURAL AND INSURANCE INTERESTS

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVII.—No. 35.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27 1902.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

At McKeesport, Pa., Architect W. F. Wilson has made plans for a brick and stone business block to be erected at McKeesport for the B. P. O. Elks. The estimated cost is about $50,000.

Arthur H. Brockie, architect, 228 Chestnut street, has completed revised plans and specifications for the Sedgely Club House, at Fairmount Park, and will send same out for estimates in a short while.

The firm of M. H. & C. S. Dickinson, architects and engineers, 14th floor of the Real Estate Building, have dissolved partnership by mutual consent. Mr. M. H. Dickinson has bought Mr. C. S. Dickinson's interest in the firm and will be known in the future as M. H. Dickinson, architect and engineer, who will conduct business at the same place.

It is stated that Contractor John Stafford, Room 45, 1112 Chestnut St., will begin, in a short time, the erection of a large apartment house on Sixteenth St., below Walnut. Carl Zilenziger, formerly associated with Horace Trumbauer, has been engaged by Mr. Stafford to prepare the plans. The estimated cost is about $1,000,000.

Chas. W. Bolten Co., architects, Wither-spoon building, are working on plans and specifications for an addition to the Reform church at Blue Bell, Pa. It will be one-story and basement and gallery high and will be built of stone with slate roof. It will contain Sunday school room and infant's room. It will be heated by steam. Will be ready for bids in about 10 days time.

Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut St., has plans under way for a church for a new Polish congregation at Thurlow, Pa. Rev. Janiskiszew is pastor. It will be built on Fourth St., below the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore Railroad station, on a site 125x140 feet. The basement of the proposed structure will be built at once and will measure 60x100 feet, of Port Deposit stone, and have a seating capacity of 700 people.

Wm. C. Priebe, Jr., architect, 418 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owner, who will take estimates for a twin house to be built at Llanerch, Pa., for Mr. James Orr. It will be two stories and attic high, 36x47 feet, and will be built of stone and frame, with shingle roof. It will have a porch on front, the interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain all modern appointments.

At Sewickley, Pa., the Borough Council has under consideration the erection of a municipal building to cost not over $40,000. Competitive plans from architects are desired, and architects may submit drawing under the following conditions: A fee of five hundred dollars will be paid to the architect whose plan is accepted, and should the Council proceed with the building the sum thus paid will be applied as part payment for plans, construction and superintendence. For particulars address D. H. Campbell, Borough Engineer, Council Chamber, Sewickley, Pa.

R. A. Plowman, architect, Betz Building, has completed plans and specifications for an operation of 101 two and three story dwellings with corner stores to be built on Hav-erford and Westminster Aves., between 57th and 58th Sts.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new parish building for St. Peter's P. E. church, to be built on Lombard street, above Third street. It will be three stories and basement high, 73x77 feet, and will be built of brick and stone, with slate roof. It will have a porch on front, the in-ish, and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Bids due August 29th. The following builders are bidding: Wm. R. Dougherty, R. C. Ballinger & Co., Doyle & Doak, J. S. Cornell & Sons, Stacey Reeves & Son and Geo. F. Payne & Co.

J. Franklin Stuckert & Sons, architects, 1421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a light manufacturing building for Frank Hardart of the firm of Horn & Hardart, to be built on Filbert street, below 9th. It will be six stories high, 145x326 feet, and will be built of brick and stone, concrete and fireproof construction with plate glass bulks. It will be equipped with elevator, wired for electricity, heated by steam, with every modern convenience. Bids due September 1st. Angus S. Wade Co., H. B. Shoemaker & Co., Wm. R. Steele & Sons, builders, are bidding.

H. J. Lohman, McKeesport, Pa., is preparing plans for a large building to be erected on the site of the Baptist church on Walnut street, McKeesport, Pa., recently bought by Donovan & Elkin, for $65,000. The proposed structure will be seven stories high and will be fitted up for hotel and business purposes. The first floor will contain two store rooms, of which one will be supplied with vault to make it suitable for banking purposes. The hotel will contain about sixty-five rooms. The interior will be finely finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences, including elevators, steam heat, &c. The estimated cost is about $200,000.

Wilson Bros Co., architects, Drexel Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a building to be erected at southwest corner of 16th and Chestnut Sts. for W. F. H. Reed, Esq. It will be two stories and basement high, 145 feet 2½ inches by 27 feet. It will be built of brick and stone, with slate roof. The proposed structure will extend on 16th St. to the small street in the rear. It will contain all modern improvements. Bids due September 2d. The following builders are bidding: Geo. F. Payne Co., J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Stacey Reeves & Sons, A. Raymond Raff, John R. Wiggins & Co., W. A. Hurlock & Sons.

Newman Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to the residence of Mr. Herman Denkla, at Penlyn, Pa. Plans provide for a three-story rear wing of stone and plaster; a tank house also three stories of stone and plaster, and a number of gardening houses to be one story high, of frame; also general interior improvements to the present residence. Bids due September the first. The following builders are bidding: H. Lutz, of Penlyn, Pa., Mr. Camburn, of Plymouth Meeting, J. S. Wilson, of Ambler, and E. Barton, of Ivyland, Pa.

There is to be a handsome new court house and jail to be erected on the present site of the old court house at Camden, N. J. It will be three stories high and will be built of stone with an ornamental front, and will form a quadrangle on the center of the plot now bound by Broadway, Sixth, Market and Federal streets. On the first floor of the proposed structure will be located the offices of the Surrogate, County Clerk, Register of Deeds, Prosecutor of the Pleas and Sheriff. The several apartments necessary for the County Courts, including the Chancery Court, will be on the second floor, and the county jail will occupy the entire third floor. The sum of $500,000 has been appropriated for this new building. The following architects have been invited to submit plans in competition for the erection of the same: Rankin & Kellogg, Frank Miles Day & Bros., W. D. & G. W. Hewett Horace Trumbauer, of this city, and Geo. B. Post, of New York; each of four will receive $800 for his labors, and the successful architect will receive only compensation for his supervision of the work. Warren Laird, of the University of Pennsylvania, has been selected as advisory architect. The competing plans are due in the office of Mr. Buckle, chairman of the Building Committee December 31st.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

F. L. Hoover & Sons, 705 Ranstead street, have been awarded the contract for alteration and improvements to the residence of E. H. Austin, Esq., at 1010 Spruce street. Cost, $650.

ing, builders, are requesting sub bids on a mill and power house for E. W. Fleisher &
Morris Pfeiffer, to be erected at the southwest corner of Westmoreland and H streets.
The mill will be three stories high, 200x110 feet, and the power house one story high, 38x
28 feet, both to be built of brick and slow burning construction, and will have all the up-to-date appointments. Bids due August 30th. Plans by Wm. R. Steele & Sons.

Jno. L. Fry, builder, Real Estate Building, is requesting sub bids on one two-story store and dwelling for Mr. Wm. Hancell, at 61st and Haverford avenue. It will have a front of Pompeian brick with a bay window 16x52 feet and will contain 9 rooms, including store. The interior will be in hardwood finish and contain all modern improvements.
Bids due August 29th. The same builder will break ground this week for 12 two-story
8 room houses to be built at 59th and Lansdown avenue. They will be built of Pompe-ian brick with porch fronts and will contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $20,000.

M.F. Roofing Tin is the first requisite; capable work the second—that is all—except, the roof will last 50 years. The manufacturers of M.F. Roofing Tin have lately published a complete manual of roofing and roofing material which will be sent free to anyone interested in roofs.

MF Roofing Tin

is heavily coated with pure tin and new lead by the most favored old style process. The thorough amalgamation of the coating with the surface of the black plates, effected by this process, makes the plates impervious to rust or atmospheric gases. Ask your roofer—or send for a copy of the book.

Architect Notes.

Architect Robt. C. Dickson, address Bull's Ferry Road Union, Union county, N. J., has been designated to prepare plans for a new industrial school to be erected at Bordentown, N. J., for colored children. It will cost $20,000. It will be modern. W. D. Forbes, J. B. Wood and Sweetling Miles and others are the building committee.

F. H. Keisker & A. R. Durvee, associate architects, Arcade Building, have completed plans and specifications for builder W. N. Allen for a three-story store and dwelling, to be built at 30th and Oxford streets. It will have a front of Pompeian brick and will measure 20x70 feet. It will contain all modern improvements. This is part of an operation now in the course of erection at the above streets.

Chas. E. Oelschlager, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for an addition to R. De Angelus & Co.'s macaroni factory, at 915-21 S. 7th St. It will be built of brick, 52x64 feet. Bids due Sept. 14th. The following builders are bidding: David McClelland, Angus S. Wade Co., Henry C. Dahl, Mitchell Bros. and Geo. W. Pierson.

Perot & Bissell, architects, 503 Bourse Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for a new residence to be known as Commission 238, to be built at Wilmington, Del. It will be three stories high, 45x33 feet, built of pebble dashed, with shingle roof, porch on two sides, interior white pine painted. It will have all modern improvements. Bids due September 10th.

Bunting & Shrigley, architects, 140 N. 15th St., have plans in the course of preparation for a new building to be built on Lansdowne Ave., Lansdowne, Pa., for the Lansdowne & Darby Savings Fund Society. It will be one-story high, 30x50 feet, and will be built of brick with stone trimmings and will be fireproof. It will have all the appointments of a building of its kind. Further details later.

David K. Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a stable for Mr. F. N. Treat, to be built at Wyncote, Pa. It will be two stories, 29x71 feet, of stone and frame, with shingle roof. The first floor will contain stalls, harness closet and carriage room. The second floor men's quarters and hay loft. It will have the usual sanitary stable appointments.

Clark & Hubbard, architect and engineers, Crozier Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a large fireproof warehouse to be built at the northwest corner of 3rd and Chelton ave., Camden, N. J., for McAndrews & Forbes. It will be one story high, 375x302 feet, and will be divided into three separate warehouses. It will be built of brick with cement floors, iron doors, with slag roof, and will have all the up to date appointments of a building of its kind. Bids due September 4th. The following builders are bidding: Lewis Haven & Sons, Jno. R. Wiggins & Co. and Ryan & Kell.

Thomas Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has plans in the course of preparation for additions to the Keystone Leather plant in Camden, N. J. The plans provide for a one story brick addition to the present plant and a building of a new structure to be one story high, 100x200 feet, to be built of brick and slow burning construction. Will be ready for bids in a short while.—The same architect is working on plans and specifications for a new residence for Harnold Refsnyder, to be built at Langhorne, Pa. It will be two and a half stories high, of frame and stone, and will contain all modern improvements.

Henry D. Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut streets, has been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications to govern the erection of a new convent for the Dominican Sisters of the Perpetual Rosary to be built at 15 Hadden ave., Camden, N. J. It will be two stories high, 150x150 feet, and will be built of stone. It will contain a chapel to seat 350 people. There will be a refectory Novitiate Communion room and etc., on the first floor. The second floor will contain cells and bath rooms for the Sisters. There will also be a cloister with an interior garden for the Sisters. The corner stone for this structure was sent by the Pope from Rome. The building will be built in parts and when finished will cost $250,000.

Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications for a handsome residence and stable for D. M. Barringer, Esq., to be built at Radnor, Pa. The residence will be three stories high, 60x44, with a wing each side 22 feet 6 inches by 38 feet. It will be built of stone, with slate roof. It will have a portico on the front and rear. The interior will be in hardwood finish with tile bath, wired for electricity and every up-to-date appointment. The stable will be two stories high, 36x79 feet, and will also be built of stone. The first floor will contain stalls, harness closet and carriage house; the second floor men's quarters and hay-loft. All work on this house and stable will be done by sub-contractors.

H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 430 Walnut, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to builders for estimates for a handsome Colonial house for Mrs. Mary G. Marsten, to be built at Havertford, Pa. It will be three stories high, of brick and rough cast, with shingle roof, 32x46 feet. It will have a porch front. The interior will be in chestnut and hardwood finish with all modern improvements. It will cost about $8,000. Bids due September 8th.—In the same office have completed plans and specifications and also sent same out to builders for estimates for three new Colonial residences, two to be built at Noble Station, and the other one at Langhorne, Pa. They will be two and a half stories high, 32x46 feet. Two will be built of frame and stone with shingle roof and one will be stone and rough cast. They will have porch on front, interior in hardwood finish and will contain all the latest appointments. They will cost from $5,000 to $9,000 each. Bids are due September 12th.

J. C. M. Shirk, architect, 421 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to the Philadelphia Horse Exchange at 38th and Market. Plans provide for the demolishing of the building on the northeast corner of 38th and Market streets, and the erection of a two-story structure on this site. It will be built of brick and iron with a frontage of 65 feet. The first story will contain a speedway 200x46 and 30 feet high. The second floor will be a gallery. There is also some minor changes to be made to the present structure. Bids due September 4th. The following builders are bidding: J. S. Cornell & Sons, Jno. N. Gill, Chas. C. Haines, Wm. Steel Sons, Penn Erecting Co.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

H. Marion Zane and Jno. R. Wiggins & Co., builders, have filed bid with Architect John T. Windrum, of 1107 Walnut street, who prepared revised plans for the new residence of C. P. McCurdy, Esq., to be built at Bala, Pa. It will be three stories high, of stone 55x62, with porch front and will contain all modern improvements.

H. B. Shoemaker & Co., 113 N. 7th St., builders, have plans posted for a footway tunnel, with cement story, under the track at Jenkintown Station, together with moving and rebuilding of the present porte cochere, the rebuilding of cement platforms and shelter sheds on both sides of the track and a new stairway and porte cochere on Beechwood avenue for the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad. Plans by Chief Engineer Hunter. Bids due Sept. 12th.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 3, 1902

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Edward C. Knight, of this city, has purchased a plot of ground at Newport, R. I., and it is rumored that he will have built on this site a handsome summer residence.

It is reported that bids are about to be asked by the Bureau of Surveys for dredging the channel of the Schuylkill River southwest from Gray's Ferry bridge at an estimated cost of $200,000.

David Thompson, builder, at Ballston Park, N. Y., has been awarded the contract to build the summer home for Chauncey Olcott, at Saratoga Springs (details previously noted.) Plans by Chas. Barton Keen, architect, 1604 Chestnut St.

Mr. A. Allen, builder, of Paoli, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the nave to the church of the Good Samaritan of that place. Plans and specifications by George Nattress & Son, architects, 430 Walnut street.

W. K. Gorton, builder, of Langhorne, Pa., has been awarded the contract to make extensive alterations and improvements to the M. E. church at that place. Contract price $3,500. Plans by Thos. Stephens, architect, Camden, N. J.

D. W. Sperry, builder, of 1305 Arch street, has been awarded the contract for stone work, excavating and the furnishing of cut stone for the new greenhouse of Mr. John Gribbel, to be erected at Wyncote, Pa. Contract price $2,798.

Geo. Taylor, builder, of Delmar, will erect a store and dwelling at East Lansdowne, Pa., for Mr. Harry Davis. It will be situated on Baltimore avenue, and will be two stories and attic high and will be built of stone and frame and contain all modern improvements.

W. R. Steele & Sons and Appleton & Burrell, builders, have filed bids for the handsome new residence for J. R. Seltzer, to be built on Highland avenue, Merion, Pa. It will be three stories and basement high, 46x67 feet, and will be built of stone with shingle roof. It will have a handsome porch front, the interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain all modern improvements. Bids due September 2nd. Plans by Architect C. H. Kirk & Co.

Director of Public Works Haddock will probably readvertise for bids for the Lardner's Point pumping station, and revised plans will be prepared so as to bring the total cost of the operations to $550,000. The lowest bid of $725,000 was submitted by builder Geo. C. Dietrich.

Irvin Armstrong, of Berwyn; Jno. Morris, of Radnor, Pa., and Chas. Gilpin, of this city, have submitted bids to T. Mitchell Hastings, architect, 328 Chestnut street, for a new stone bridge and roadway to be built on Conestoga Road, Rosemont, Pa., for Mr. Geo. McFadden.

Appleton & Burrell, builders, 1204 Chancellor street, have been awarded the contract for alterations and additions to the residence of Mr. Geo. H. Colket, at 2004 Spruce streets (details previously noted.) Plans by Kennedy & Kelsey, architects, 931 Chestnut street.

George W. Pierson, builder, Lippincott Building, has filed the lowest bid with Major Frank Heath, of the Frankford Arsenal, for the new packing shop, 47x108 feet, a one-story brick connecting passage 20 feet long, and a one-story brick power plant. His bid was $64,361.

The large building of D. Landreth & Sons, seed merchants, recently destroyed by fire at Bloomdale, the outskirts of Bristol, Pa., will be rebuilt from the original plans. It will be brick and slow-burning construction. Messrs. Landreth & Sons will be ready for bids in a short while.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, builders, 305 Walnut, have been awarded the contract to build the new addition for the Orthopaedic Hospital at 17th and Summer streets (details previously noted.) Plans by Architects G. N. & W. D. Hewitt, Bullitt Building.

Kendrick & Co., builders, 1709 Sansom street, have been awarded the contract to build the handsome new residence at 5315 Wynnefield ave., Wynnefield, Pa., for Mr. Chas. Schaefer. It will be three stories with slate roof. It will have a porch on the front and side; the interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain all the up to date appointments. It will cost about $15,000. Plans and specifications by Walter Smedley, architect, Stephen Girard Building.

F. L. Hoover Sons, of this city; Burke & Dolhenty, Wyncote, Pa., and Jas. Reily, of Germantown, Phila., have filed bids with Architects Dull & Coates, 1126 Walnut street, for a new residence as planned by them, for Mrs. M. C. Bolton, to be built at Wyncote, Pa. It will be two stories and attic high, 30x50 feet, with a wing 14x20 feet. It will be frame and stone with shingle roof, porch on front, interior in hardwood finish and will contain all modern improvements.

Angus S. Wade Co., builders, 1501 Sansom street, have been awarded the contract to make extensive alterations and additions to 139 North 11th for Benjamin Alexander. The plans provide for lowering the entire first floor, a rear one-story brick addition 16x60 feet and the remodeling of the interior. The first floor will be used as a restaurant and the upper floors for apartments. It will cost $4,000. Plans by Chas. B. Oelschlagel, architect, Harrison Building.

J. S. Rodgers, builder, of Stanwick, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the foundry building, annealing shop and pattern shop for Thos. Devlin & Sons, at Burlington, N. J. ing by March 1, 1902. E. T. Long & Co., of Wilkesbarre, Pa., is the contractor, and York & Sawyer, of New York, prepared the plans.

—At New Castle, Lawrence county, the New Castle Traction Company has under consideration the extension of its line.

—At Wellsville, York county, a trolley line will be constructed to run from Wellsville to Dover, a distance of about four miles.

—At Millvale it has been decided to issue bonds to the amount of $75,000 to be used in the purchase of the Bennett Water Works.

—At Lebanon, Lebanon county, Council has under consideration an ordinance to issue bonds to the amount of $500,000 for street and sewer improvements.

—At Honesdale, Wayne county, Town Council has granted a franchise to the Consumers Water Company to construct and maintain a system of water works.

—At Somerset, Somerset county, work will soon begin on the erection of a new municipal building. C. W. Walker is secretary of the Municipal Building Committee.

At McKeesport, Pa., Architect W. F. Wilson has prepared plans for a brick veneered church to be erected at Fulton and Gilmore streets, McKeesport, for St. Ann's congregation.

At Reading, Pa., A. F. Smith, 519 Court street, has prepared plans for a club house for the Country Club. It will be two stories high, of frame, modern conveniences and will cost about $10,000.

—At Shenandoah, a system of water work will be constructed from plans prepared by D. G. Adelsberger, of Baltimore, Md. The supply will be brought from the hills about four and a half miles distant.

—At Connellsville, Fayette county, the Glenwood Bridge Company has applied to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company for permission to construct a bridge one mile long across the company's yard at Connellsville.

—At Mendelsohn, Allegheny county, the Mendelsohn Planning Mill Company, has been awarded the contract to erect the First National Bank at Fourth and Lincoln streets, West Elizabeth. The cost will be $20,000.

—At Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, the Jefferson Street Railway Company will construct a line from Reynoldsville through Wisam to Big Run, a distance of about eight miles. J. A. Whitman, of Punxsutawney, president.

At Harrisburg, Pa., T. H. Hamilton, 409 Market street, has prepared plans for an addition to the present building of the Pennsylvania Telephone Company, at 210 Walnut street, Harrisburg. It will be 22x70 feet, four stories high, of brick and iron and will cost $15,000. Address L. H. Kindard, general manager, for information.

—At Dillsburg, York county, an electric railroad will be constructed between Dillsburg and Beavertown, Williams Grove, Kunkle's Mill and Allen or Churchtown. The capital is $50,000. Those interested are Peter Sidle and Geo. W. Cook, of Dillsburg and J. C. Hutton, of Harrisburg. The road will be about six miles long.

—At Homestead, Allegheny county, the Homestead Lumber Company has been awarded the contract to erect a three-story frame hotel at Heisel street and fifth avenue, Homestead, for D. Creeden. It will cost about $10,000.—The Carnegie Steel Company has bought ground on Eighth avenue and will erect an office building for the use of the company.

—At Clifton Heights, Delaware county, a charter has been granted to Gideon Boericke, Robert W. Emerton and Louis L. Tafel for a corporation to be known as the Delaware County Sewer Company, for the purpose of constructing and maintaining sewers, etc., for surface and under drainage and sewage drainage in the boroughs of Clifton Heights, Alden and vicinity.

—At New Castle, Lawrence county, it is reported that the Pittsburg & Western railroad, a branch of the Baltimore & Ohio, will be reconstructed from New Castle to Akron, Ohio. This will include extra tracking for some distance and new yards at New Castle. The improvements contemplated will cost about $4,000,000. H. O. Dunkle, Division Superintendent, New Castle, Pa.

—At Pittsburg, Frank H. Schwarz, Superintendent of Construction, has reported that the Point Bridge across the Monongahela river is unsafe and that it will require $150,000 to put it in proper condition.—It is reported that the directors of the Convent of the Good Shepherd has decided on plans for a new convent in the East End to cost about $60,000. Work on the structure will begin in the spring.

—At Middletown, Dauphin county, it is stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will make extensive improvements, including Union street subway to cost $25,000; wood street subway, $25,000; Catharine street subway, $10,000; a new station to cost $15,000, and sewerage of streams to cost $10,000. W. H. Brown, Philadelphia, Chief Engineer.

—At Abbottstown, Adams county, the Paradise farm near Abbottstown has been bought by Bishop Shannahan, of the Harrisburg Diocese of the Roman Catholic church, and will be utilized as the site for a boy's orphanage. The farm contains about two hundred acres and funds have been donated to erect suitable buildings and for furnishing. It is proposed to teach the boys scientific agriculture and probably manual training.

At Harrisburg the bids for improvements to Bethlehem Lutheran church were opened a few days since and the contract will be awarded to Josiah K. Ness, 220 Peffer street. His bid was $8,275. Dr. Charles J. George is chairman of the Building Committee.

—At Kennett Square, Chester county, Mrs. Emma Taylor Lamborn, sister of Bayard Taylor, will erect a dwelling at Kennett, not far from Cedarcroft, the Bayard Taylor homestead. Mrs. Lamborn is now living in New York.

—At Lansdowne, Delaware county, the new Lansdowne and Darby Saving Fund and Trust Company has elected the following officers: George Foster White, of Lansdowne, president and treasurer; W. Lane Verlenden, of Darby, vice president; Morgan Bunting, 15th and Cherry streets, Philadelphia, secretary. Nearly $100,000 has been subscribed to the capital stock. A site for a building for the new company has been secured on Lansdowne avenue, opposite the postoffice.

At Erie, Pa., Charles P. Cody, 26 Downing Block, has prepared plans for a boys' club house. It will be of brick and cement, fire proof construction, all modern conveniences. Bids for its construction will be received in about a week.—The congregation of the Salem church, at Eleventh and Myrtle streets, of which Rev. E. Koehne is the pastor, will erect a church to cost $25,000 from plans prepared by William R. Watterson, 181 Euclid avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad intends to build a number of new stations, and as soon as President Cassatt returns from Bar Harbor the question is to be taken up. These stations are out of the ordinary, and are necessary, owing to a change of line and grade. In all there are five to be built, and it is understood that they are to be begun this Autumn. On the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore there are to be two new stations, one at Wilmington and the other at Chester. The plans have not been prepared, but they are to be up-to-date. At East Liberty there is to be another new station. This place is just outside of Pittsburg. The changes in the line in and around Pittsburg, and the elevation of the tracks in that city, make it necessary for a change in the station at East Liberty. There is also to be a new station built at Latrobe, on the Pittsburg Division. On the New York Division there is to be a new station at New Brunswick. This is made necessary by the elevation of the tracks through that city. There is to be a station on both sides of the track.

—At Harrisburg the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings have accepted plans and specifications for the rebuilding of twenty-one bridges, which have been destroyed by floods. Bids will be called for to be submitted on September 23rd and 30th. The new bridges will be erected in the following counties: Juniata, Lycoming, Forest, Carbon, Wyoming, Sullivan, Wayne, Lackawanna, Jefferson, Bradford, Clearfield, Luzerne, and Berks. Emil Swenson, of Pittsburg, Pa., is the engineer in charge for one of the bridges in Juniata and two bridges in Lycoming county; R. Bowman, of Mahanoy City will be the engineer for the Berks county bridge, and A. J. Whitney, of Rome, Pa., for the one of Bradford county bridges; H. Laub, of Pittsburg, will have charge of the erection of the Forest, Clearfield and Jefferson county bridges, and Oscar E. Thompson, of Phoenixville, Pa., will be the engineer for two bridges in Bradford county, two in Wyoming county, five in Wayne county and one each in Carbon, Luzerne, Sullivan and Lackawanna counties. The plans and specifications for these new bridges will be on file with Secretary John E. Stott, secretary of the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings, Harrisburg.—A permit has been issued for the erection of the new Reading Railroad passenger station on Market street. J. V. Henry, of Reading, will have charge of the work. The structure will be three stories high, of brownstone, Ohio blue stone and buff brick. The length including car sheds will be 453 feet and the width 836 feet. An arched driveway will extend across the front of the building.

—At Pittsburg E. J. Carlisle & Co., Westinghouse Building, have prepared plans for a store and apartment house to be erected at Sixth and Eleventh streets, Braddock, for Joseph P. Behr. It will cost $15,000. Steam heat, all modern conveniences.—A charter has been granted to the new brewing company which will erect a plant at Irwin, Pa. It will be called the Crescent Brewery. Most of the stockholders live at Jeannette, Pa. Ellsworth Dean, Fitzsimmon Building, is receiving estimates for a brick addition to the bottling house to be erected at Millvale for the American Brewing Company. It will cost $15,000.—William Kauffman, Lewis Building, is preparing plans for a theatre to be erected at Greensburg, Pa., for George W. Good and Company, of Greensburg. It will be of brick and stone, well furnished and thoroughly equipped for the purpose intended.

—Roger & Currier, Smith Building, have prepared plans for a brick and stone public building for the Borough of Muncie, Pa. It will cost $35,000; also plans by the same architect for an engine house and patrol station. It will be of brick and stone and will cost about $10,000.—W. J. [ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XVII.—No. 37. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1902. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Paul & Seymour Davis, architects, 907 Walnut St., have completed plans and specifications for an exchange building for the Keystone Telephone Co., to be erected at Frankford avenue below Somerset street. It will be two stories and basement high. It will be built of Pompeian brick and terra cotta. It will measure 32x79 feet. Bids due Sept. 11th.

Chas. Balderson, architect, 411 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for a new residence for Hanson H. Haines, Esq., to be built on Springfield avenue, near 48th street. It will be three stories high and it will be built of brick and stone, and will contain all modern improvements. Bids due September 11th. F. S. Riggs is bidding.

At an interview with Mr. H. L. A. Jeckel, of the Thompson Starrett Co., he stated that the report in the "daily papers" that his firm had been awarded the contract for the proposed new building at 1218-20-22 Chestnut St., for Bailey, Banks & Biddle was entirely false and there was no truth whatever in any such statement and furthermore his firm had not been awarded the contract.

Mollivaine & Roberts, architects, Land Title Building, have completed revised plans and sent same to builders for estimates for the new station for the Philadelphia and West Chester Traction Company, to be built at Llanerch, Pa. (details previously noted). The following builders are bidding: Maconagh Bros., F. T. Maguire, Ballinger Co., of this city, H. S. Saunders, W. C. Shuster, J. S. Wilson, of Lansdowne, Pa. Bids due September 17th.

The following is a completed list of builders bidding on alterations and additions to property, 20-26 West Main street, Norristown, Pa., which is to be altered to suit the needs of a department store (details of this work previously noted). Plans by H. L. Reinhold, Jr., 430 Walnut street. Bids due September 15th. H. M. Zane, Kendrick & Co., Kendrick & Roberts, R. Monroe Stout, D. A. McClelland, of this city, Shoffner Bros., F. R. Havener, Mr. Oberholzer, of Norristown, Pa.

Field & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, have plans in the course of preparation for two silk mills, a dye house and a power house for the Merrill Silk Co., to be erected at Hornellsville, N. Y. The mills will be two-story high and will measure 25x115 feet and 43x112 feet, and will be connected by a wooden bridge. The dye house and power house will be one-story high, all to be built of brick and slow-burning construction. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks.

Perot & Bissell, architects, 303 Bourse Building, are working on plans and specifications for a handsome new residence to be built near Wilmington. Owner's name withheld. It will be three stories high, 50x65 feet, built of stone with slate roof, with porch on front, the interior will be in hardwood finish, heated by hot air, tile baths, leaded glass windows, open plumbing work and all modern improvements. Will cost $12,000.—The same firm has completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to a residence at Chestnut Hill. Plans provide for the building a new bay window and general interior improvements. Bids due September 12th.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new restaurant building to be built on the north side of Market street, east of Thirteenth street, for Messrs Horn & Horn. It will be four stories high and will have an ornamental front of limestone with terra cotta trimmings. It will be built of brick and will be fireproof in its construction. The first and second floors will be fitted up as a restaurant. The third floor will be the kitchen. On the rear of this structure will be a modern fire escape and it will have every modern appointment of a building of its kind. Bids due September 15th. Cramp & Co., Thomas McCarthy, J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Stacey Reeves & Sons and Kendrick Co. are bidding.

The following architects have been invited to submit plans and specifications in competition for the erection of the new municipal building to be erected between 13½ and 14 and D and E streets Northwest, Washington, D. C.: Messrs. Glenn Brown, Hornblower & Marshall, Marsh & Peter, William A. Poindexter, Robert Stead, James G. Hill and Wood & Deming, of Washington, D. C.; A. W. Longfellow, of Boston, Mass.; E. P. Casey, Heinz & Lafarge and Albert R. Ross, of New York, and Cope & Stewardson, of this city. A uniform sum of $500 will be paid to each competitor invited. It will be five stories and basement high and will be of fireproof construction. It is to be English Renaissance in design and is to cost $1,000,000. All plans must be submitted before 2 o'clock P. M. December 8th.

R. C. Loos, architect, 1021 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to owners, who are taking bids for a new edifice for the First Baptist congregation to be erected at Newport, N. J. It will be one story high 60x80 feet, built of frame with shingle roof. It will contain auditorium, Sunday school room and will have the usual church furnishings.—The same architect has also completed plans and specifications and sent same to owner for a new church for the First Methodist congregation of Delanco, N. J. It will be one story and basement high, 75x80 feet, built of frame with stone foundation. The basement will contain class rooms, the first floor church proper with Sunday school room, class room, etc. It will be open timber ceiling, rolling partitions and will be equipped with the necessary church furnishings.

Chas. W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherspoon Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to the Boehm Reformed church at Blue Bell, Pa. The addition will be one story basement and gallery high. It will be built of stone with slate roof. It will contain Sunday school room and infant class. The following builders are bidding: J. W. Lutz, of Penlynn, Pa.; Wm. Shaeff, of Blue Bell; J. S. Wilson, Benj. Russell, L. B. Hecker, of Ambler, and F. L. Hoover & Sons, of this city. Bids due in about 10 days time.—The same firm have been commissioned to repair plans and specifications for a new edifice and parsonage for the First M. E. congregation of Meyersdale, Pa. The church will be one story and basement high, the parsonage will be three stories high. They will be built of stone, and will have the usual appointments of buildings of this kind, and when finished will cost about $25,000.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for a house and stable for Mr. C. T. Quinn, to be built at 261 West Walnut Lane, Germantown. The house will be three story high, 50x125 feet, and will be built of stone with slate roof; the interior will be in hardwood finish with tile baths, wired for electricity, heated by hot water and will contain all modern improvements. The stable will be one and a half story high, also of stone and will contain stalls, carriage house, man quarters and will have all the up-to-date sanitary stable appointments. Bids due September 12th. The same architect has plans in the course of preparation for a handsome new residence for Mr. Walter W. Law, to be built at Briarcliff Farms, N. Y. It will be two and a half story high and will be built of stone with slate roof. It will have a porch on three sides. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will have tile baths, leaded glass windows, wired for electricity, heated by hot water and will have all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

"Limoid."

"Limoid" is a product made by the Charles Warner Company, of Wilmington, Del., with a Philadelphia office in the Land Title Building, Broad and Chestnut Sts. Cedar Hollow lime from which "Limoid" is made is so well known that any comment upon its reliability would be superfluous, as its manufacture and constant use by masons and builders date back to long before the Revolutionary War, the old headquarters of General Washington at Valley Forge having been constructed with Cedar Hollow lime.

As a basis for the production of "Limoid" it must be conceded that there could be nothing better than Cedar Hollow lime as its many sterling qualities, such as its freedom from impurities, its wonderful adhesiveness and its freedom from slacking mean smoother finishing, greater bulking, and greater economy than if made of any of the less pure limes.

"Limoid," then is Cedar Hollow lime in an improved form, and is rapidly displacing lump lime in many sections. It will not slack and, in fact, it will keep in its powdered condition for ages if properly sheltered from wet and dampness. It is a wonderful time and labor saver, for like Portland cement it needs but sand and water and the proper mixing to make it ready for use.

The Cedar Hollow plant has been greatly improved by its present owners, for besides the introduction of a new and better burning process, a stone crushing plant of 800 tons daily capacity has been erected. Five additional improved kilns have been built, thereby increasing the output of building lime to 3000 bushels a day. An automatic forking machine enables the shipping of lump lime absolutely free from dust or powdered lime, automatic conveyors are run by electricity, while the same power is utilized in the grinding, sorting and other work. Hundreds of tons of "Limoid" are used daily throughout the country, consequently it has long since passed the experimental stage and reached one of great popularity.

The Government's new printing office at Washington, D. C., will be plastered first, second and finishing coat with "Limoid."

Architect Notes.

E. M. Sansom, architect, 110 South Fourth St., is working on plans and specifications for a new building for the Reformed Episcopal Church of the Mediator to be erected at the southeast corner of 22d and Lombard Sts. It will be a stone structure, 66x87 feet, and will have a handsome ornamental belfry and tower.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

C. R. Siegel, builder, will erect 124 two-story houses at 52d and Arch streets. They will be built of brick and will contain 8 and 9 rooms each, with all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $300,000.

P. L. Hoover & Sons, 705 Ransford street, have been awarded the contract for shoeing up the buildings, 20-22 South Marshall street, for C. C. Garrett & Sons. Contract price $2000.

Angus S. Wade Co., builders, 1501 Sansom St., have been awarded the contract for the remodeling of the interior of the Grand Opera House at Broad and Montgomery for John F. Betz, Jr.

D. W. Sperry, E. Barton and James Ryan, builders, are bidding on revised plans and specifications for the new residence of Mrs. M. H. Boden, to be built at Wyncote, Pa. Dull & Coates, 1127 Walnut St., are the architects.

The alterations and general interior improvements to be made to the residence of Mr. Gibbie, at 714 Spruce street, as planned by Wm. Copeland Furber, architect and engineer, 421 Chestnut street, will be done by days work.

Elben Cut Stone Co., Limited, of Reading, Pa., has been awarded the contract for the stone work on the residence of Mr. M. O. Weand at Winson and Rose streets, Reading, Pa. Plans by Jacob Naschold, architect, 504 Walnut street.

D. W. Sperry, builder, of 1205 Arch street, has been awarded the contract to build the new stone school house at Ambler, Pa. (details of this structure previously noted.) Plans and specifications by J. C. M. Shirk, architect, 421 Chestnut street.

George W. Pierson, builder, Lippincott Building, has been awarded the contract for the new improvements and additions to the Frankford Arsenal. The work includes a new packing and boxing shop, a connecting passageway, a cartridge factory and power plant. His contract was $64,361.

Frank E. Wallace & F. L. Hoover Sons, builders, are requesting sub bids on alterations and additions to the stable of C. H. Clark, Jr., at the southwest corner of 47th and Locust streets. Bids due September 15th. Plans and specifications by C. C. Zantinger, architect, 263 South 4th street.

Charles H. Eckman, contractor, 2126 North Sixteenth St., is taking sub-bids on all work for a two-story foundry building for the Eynon Evans Manufacturing Company, Fifteenth and Clearfield Sts. The plans have been drawn by Charles H. Eckman.

Geo. A. Dietrich, builder, 939 N. 9th St., has been awarded the contract for the foundations of A. Cameron Co. factory at Glenwood avenue and Pacific street, Frankford, Philadelphia. Plans and specifications by Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building.

Edward Thompson, builder, has been awarded the contract for alterations and additions to boiler room and the building of a new iron stack for the Chestnut Hill Academy at Wissahickon Heights from plans of Architects Duhring Okie & Ziegler, South Penn Square Building.

John W. Emory, builder, 1534 Sansom street, have been awarded the contract for extensive alterations to the car barn at Richmond and Allegheny avenue for the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co. It will cost about $10,000. Plans by W. S. Twining, chief engineer for the company.

William R. Steele & Sons, builders, Witherspoon Building, are requesting sub-bids on addition to the office of the Philadelphia Textile Machinery Co. at Somerset and Hancock streets. Plans provide for a two-story brick addition. Bids due Sept. 11th. Plans by William R. Steele & Sons.

Cramp & Co., builders, 1421 Filbert street, is requesting sub bids on a new power house for the Lehigh Valley Traction Co., to be built at Allentown, Pa. It will be two-story and basement high, built of brick and galvanized iron and will be fireproof in its construction. Bids due September 13th. Plans by A. H. Waller, the company's engineer.

David McClelland, builder, 518 S. 20th St., has plans posted for a new factory for the International Sprinkler Co., to be erected at 20th and Washington avenue. The structure will be three stories high and will be built of brick and slow-burning construction, and will be equipped with every appointment of an up-to-date factory. Bids due Sept. 11th. Plans by private party.

Thos. Little & Sons, builders, 1224 Ransford street, have plans posted for four two-story twin houses to be built at Roxborough, Philadelphia. They will be built of brick with porch fronts and will measure 56x20 feet. Plans by Fred. Fox, architect.

H. Wolff, builder, of Bryn Mawr, and Greys Bros., of Rosemont, Pa., have submitted bids to H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 430 Walnut street, for alterations and improvements to the residence of William H. Weimer, at Bryn Mawr, Pa. Plans provide for the building a new bay window over a circular porch of frame and stone with slate roof and general interior improvements.

Chas. Gilpin, builder, northeast corner of 15th and Chestnut streets, has been awarded the contract for the large addition to the Nurses' Home of the University of Penn.

Cost $8,000.—The commission for the erection of the new City Hall will receive proposals until Sept 24th for the installation of a heating and ventilating system, for electric and telephone tubing, generating plant excepted, for passengers elevator and ash lift, also for erection of boiler house on Broad street between Green and Franklin streets. Plans, &c., with Jas. M. Seymore, Jr., engineer, 43 Lawrence street, Newark.

At Atlantic City, the State Road Commissioners at their last meeting formally approved the new drive to be constructed between Chelsea Heights and Pleasantville. Bids for the construction of the road will be advertised for at once and opened at the October meeting of the Board. The plans and specifications have been prepared by County Engineer Albertson. The road will cross two large bodies of water and several small streams necessitating the construction of a number of bridges. Two of the bridges will be drawbridges to cost about $5,000 each. The driveway of the proposed road will be sixty feet wide. The cost will be about $83,000, not including the cost of the bridges.

At Pleasantville, Atlantic county, work will begin at once on extensive improvements to thirty-two acres of ground on Washington avenue, which has been bought by the Atlantic City Suburban and Traction Company for park purposes. The company will erect a hotel and several kinds of outdoor amusements and fit the grounds up for picnic purposes. A branch trolley line will be constructed from the Shore Road up Washington avenue to the grounds. The Seaside Land Company of Atlantic City has been incorporated with a capital of $750,000.—S. Hudson Vaughn is preparing preliminary plans for the proposed new county building. The estimated cost is $150,000. The site has not yet been selected.

Washington, D. C.

Among the new buildings to be erected by the government in Washington are a new building for the National Museum, to cost $1,500,000, a municipal building for the District of Columbia, to cost $1,500,000; a new building for the War College, to cost $250,000, from plans by McKinn, Mead & White.—The following architects have been invited to submit bids for the proposed municipal building: Glenn Brown, Hornblower & Marshall, Marsh & Peter, William A. Poin dexter, Robert Stead, James G. Hill and Wood & Demming, of Washington; A. W. Longfellow, of Boston, Mass.; E. P. Casey, Heinz & La Farge and Albert R. Ross, of New York city, and Cope & Stewartson, of Philadelphia.—James A. Parsons has been awarded the contract for the apartment house to be erected for Secretary John Hays. The bid of Mr. Parsons was $467,000. The plans were prepared by James G. Hill.—Competitive plans are being prepared by architects for the new Foundry M. E. church, to be erected at Sixteenth and Madison streets. The amount available for the building is about $145,000.—Richardson & Burgess are the contractors for the large office building to be erected for Thomas F. Walsh. It will be one of the largest office buildings in the city.—Geo. W. Dove is the architect for the country house for Mr. David Moore. It will contain twelve rooms and will cost $10,000.

About ten acres of the Ryan tract, including the ground from Quincy to Shepherd St., has been set aside for the purpose of laying out a suburb similar to Chevy Chase. Extensive improvements will be made to prepare the tract for building purposes. A granolithic foot pavement and a parking of fifteen feet is provided for each lot. There will be about fifty lots. The suburb will be known as Potwood Heights, and will be under the supervision of The Thomas J. Fisher Company. Another improvement under consideration is the extension of Cleveland Park across Connecticut avenue, which is to be undertaken by Thomas E. Waggaman and John Sherman, the trustees of the Subdivision. The extension will include about fourteen acres, and lots will be plotted to face Connecticut avenue. Mr. Waggaman will also make improvements to Woodley Park, just across Rock Creek. The new tract includes about one hundred and twenty lots. Across Connecticut avenue is a larger piece of ground which has been subdivided into building lots and will be improved as soon as there is a prospect of the District Government finishing the Connecticut avenue bridge, for which the foundations have already been prepared. In case of delay it is said the projectors of Woodley Park may conclude to erect the bridge.—The extension to the New Willard under construction by the George A. Fuller Co. will be finished by November, 1903. The addition will follow the design of the main structure, both designed by H. J. Hardenberg, of New York City. When completed the new hotel will contain about four hundred and fifty rooms, with a large number of bath and toilet rooms. Much costly marble will be used, and the floors will be handsomely tessellated. There will be a handsome ball room, 50x185 feet, containing a low balcony for chaperons and non-dancers, and another for the musicians.

VOL. XVII.—No. 38. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1902. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

At Baltimore, Maryland, it is stated that Baldwin & Pennington are preparing plans for a handsome church to be erected by St. Catherine's Catholic Society.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, have extended the time on filing bids on the new restaurant building of Horn & Horn, to be built on Market, east of 13th street, from September 15th to 9 o'clock September 17th.

Emil R. Hartman Co., architects, 514 Walnut street, have plans in the course of preparation for a Brew House to be built at Bethlehem, Pa., for Jacob Witman Co., Brewers. It will be five stories high, of brick, iron and slow burning construction, 36x40 feet, will be ready for bids in one week's time.

It is reported that Chas. Barton Keen, architect, 1604 Chestnut street, has plans in the course of preparation for a new power house for the Conaught & Erie Traction Co., to be built at Erie, Pa. It will be two stories high, 90x67 feet and will be built of brick and iron.

Baker & Dallett, architects, Crozier Building, have prepared plans for a residence for Henry P. Scott to be erected at Rebold Station, Del. It will be four stories high, built of pressed bricks and marble trimmings, and will contain all up-to-date improvements. It will cost $30,000. The owner will take bids.

Arthur H. Brochie, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed revised plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the Sedgely Club House, to be built at Fairmount Park (details of this Club House previously noted), the following builders have been invited to bid: W. R. Dougherty, F. L. Hoover & Sons, Angus S. Wade Co., Machin Brown and Frank E. Wallace.

Cramp & Co, builders, 1421 Filbert street, are requesting sub bids on plans and specifications now posted in their office for the handsome new United States Custom House and Post Office, to be built at Newport News, Va. It will be two stories and basement high, 133x65 feet and will have an ornamental front of stone. bids due October 9th. Plans by James Knox Taylor, supervising architect of the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

The following builders have been invited to bid on the three new residences to be built at Noble Station, as designed by Harry L. Reinhold, Jr., 430 Walnut street, (details of this work previously noted): H. B. Shoemaker Co., Kendrick & Roberts, Kendrick & Co., Sherman Orem Co., Edw. Fay, George W. Ash, C. F. Sharp, D. W. Sperry, Frank Mahan, of Ardmore, and B. Russell, of Jenkintown, Pa. Bids due September 23d.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title Building, has invited estimates from F. L. Hoover & Sons and H. Marion Zane and D. W. Sperry, builders, for a handsome new residence to be built on Ashbourne road Elkins, Pa., for John I. Morton. It will be three stories high of brick and frame, 46x35 feet with a wing 48x37 feet. It will contain all modern and up-to-date appointments. Bids due September 20th.

Chas. E. Oelschlager, architect, Harrison Building, has completed revised plans and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to 138-40 North 10th street for H. W. Lobb. Bids due September 20th. The following builders have been invited to bid: John R. Wiggins & Co., Angus S. Wade Co., David McClelland, A. Raymond Raff, N. M. Bean, Stacey Reeves Sons and Penn Erecting Co.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to builders for estimates for three new houses to be built at Elkins Station, Pa., for Mr. Theo. Voorhees. They will be three stories high and will be built of brick and pebble dashed, and will measure 48 feet 11 inches by 39 feet 10 inches each. They will have porches on the front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will have all up-to-date improvements. Bids due September 18th.

There is a hotel and apartment house to be built by a company known as the Belmont Hotel Co., and to be built at 33d and Chestnut streets. William H. Ayres, of 220 Chestnut street, is the president, and W. B. Riley, of 324 Market street, is the secretary and treasurer. It will be eight stories and basement high, 180x93 feet, built of stone, brick and iron and will be fire proof, in construction. It will contain all modern improvements. The company will make application for a charter October 1st, and as soon as granted will proceed to erect the hotel.

Carl P. Berger, architect, South Penn Square Building, has just completed plans for a handsome memorial church, patterned after the old English Church to be erected in memory of John and Elizabeth Haurs, at Montanessa Park, Mt. Pocono, Pa. It will be built of stone and will be two stories and basement high, 45x95 feet and will have a slate roof, the finish on the interior will be in hardwood, best plumbing, heated by steam, wired and lighted by electricity, with all up-to-date church furnishings. The basement will contain recreation room and toilets, the first floor, church, choir, study and lecture room. Second floor, ladies' parlor, etc. Will be ready for bids next week. Admiral George Dewey broke ground for this edifice last week.

Architect D. Everett Ward, 160 Fifth avenue, New York, is making plans for a number of buildings for hospital purposes to be erected on the site of the Long Island College Hospital on Amity street, near Henry street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Five new buildings will be erected, three of three stories and two of five stories each. The site is 200x250 feet. Brick and stone, tile or slate roofs, steam and ventilation, electric plants. The cost to be met by bequests through the will of the late Henry W. Maxwell. Cost is estimated at $500,000.

Wilson Bro. & Co., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new stone residence to be erected on Gowen avenue, between Stenton avenue and Crittenden street, Chestnut Hill. Owner's name withheld. It will be three stories high 48x35 feet and will be finished on the interior in hardwood and will have all modern conveniences, bids due September 19. The following builders are bidding: Geo. F. Payne & Co., Lewis Havens Sons, W. A. Hurlock Son, W. J. Gruhrer, John Owens, Ashton S. Touseon and Scott & Kriebel.

Edward Langley, Connell Building, Scranton, Pa., has prepared plans for a dwelling to be erected for Mr. F. C. Peck. Also for an additional stock house for the Scranton Bolt and Nut Company. It will be one story high of brick, 50x120 feet in dimensions, of slow burning construction. Also plans for a barn to be erected at Glenburg for Mr. James Linen. Also plans about completed for a country residence to be erected at Glenburn for Edward Blair, Esq. The architect is receiving estimates for the above work and has let the contracts for an addition to the residence of Mr. A. A. Underwood, of Scranton, to cost $5,000. Also for a semi-detached dwelling for Mr. M. L. Deubler, at Scranton. Also for a handsome church to be erected at Carbondale, Pa., for the First Methodist Episcopal congregation at a cost of $40,000. It will be of native stone, slate roof, hardwood interior finish, steam heat, electric lights. Seating capacity, of auditorium, with gallery, eight hundred; of Sunday School with gallery, seven hundred.

Architect Harry Allan Jacobs, 1135 Broadway, New York, has nearly completed plans for an apartment hotel building to cost three quarters of a million dollars. It will be located at the Southwest corner of Broadway and 103d street. The site has a frontage of 120 feet on 103d street, and about 101 feet on Broadway. It will be nine stories, of brick, stone and terra cotta and fire proof. Roof of tile or plastic slate. The cellar will contain the power plant and ventilation, electrical apparatus, refrigerators, air filtering machinery, water filters and steam heating plant. The dining room will be located on the first floor and will be 40x100 feet; so also the office, parlors and three private dining rooms. The dining room for the maids and children will be on the second floor. There will be about thirty-one chambers to each floor with about eighteen bath rooms. The top floor will be for the use of employees and servants. The roof will be arranged for a roof garden. There will be two passenger and one freight electric elevators, and telephone for each apartment. J. A. Pinchbeck, 674 Columbus avenue, New York, is at the head of the syndicate.

Building Bridges of Brick.

The news that the famous London bridge is to be enlarged ought to be of great value and interest in this country, as it is a demonstration that the people of olden times knew much more about building permanent bridges and roadways than do the engineers of the twentieth century. In this country we are busy talking about the unsafe condition of the famous Brooklyn bridge, a steel structure which has been in existence less than a quarter of a century, and the trustees are talking about spending $1,000,000 in repairs, while in England they are preparing to enlarge a bridge that has stood nine centuries. Until a century ago the London bridge was the only structure crossing the Thames and for hundreds of years it accommodated all the traffic, but now that two-fifths of the people of London live on its southern side, the bridge is unable to handle the traffic, even with the help of the new Tower bridge, thirteen other bridges, a cable ferry and a tunnel. An average of 22,000 teams and 100,000 pedestrians still cross the famous old bridge every day, and as its 53 feet of width is severely taxed to furnish accommodations, it has been decided to build out the sides and increase the width to 66 feet, no changes being made in the old stone foundations, and no steel entering into the construction of the new part. Steel rats and rusts in a few years, but granite and vitrified brick last forever, and these will be used in building out the "corbeling" or cantilevers that will support the extensions. It is a lesson America has been slow in learning, but many of the railroads of the country have seen the light and are using nothing but stone and vitrified brick for their bridges wherever possible, and city and county governments will soon take similar action. —Ex.

In a recent issue of the Atlantic Monthly Hon. William R. Merriam, Director of the Census of 1900, gave some interesting facts in relation to the "Trusts" of the United States, from which the following is compiled. The most superficial glance will show that it is far from complete, but it will serve to show the tendency of the times and the extent to which the people of this country are surrendering themselves to the grip of the Trust:

	No. of Combinat's or Trusts	Sub'te Report'g Estab'ts	Actual Assets
*Iron and Steel	69	469	$348,000,000
Other metals	16	94	120,000,000
Food products	23	277	247,000,000
Chemicals	19	287	187,000,000
Beer, liquors and beverages	29	236	120,000,000
Textile manufact's	9	72	92,000,000
Vegetables	6	66	86,000,000
Leather and leather products	6	100	63,000,000
Paper and paper products	8	119	59,000,000
Clay, glass and stone	17	201	49,000,000
Lumber	18	65	25,000,000
Tobacco	5	41	16,000,000
Miscellaneous	30	120	45,000,000

*Before the organization of the United States Steel Corporation.

Mr. Merriam figures out that the Trusts in 1900 had a total capitalization of $3,569,615,808. The value of land, buildings and other assets was $1,458,522,573, revealing the rather startling fact that the total property value lacks about $216,000,000 of equaling the value of the bonds and preferred stock alone, to say nothing of the common stock, which, if included, would make a deficit of more than $2,000,000,000, covered only by good will, franchise, wind, water and other intangible things. A fine situation this, and growing worse and more complicated every day.—Midland Bulletin.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Browning King Co., the New York and Philadelphia clothiers will erect on a site extending from 1265 to 1269 Broadway, New York, and extending back and including 530 to 534 Sixth avenue, a store and office building. It will be a 7 story building of brick, stone and terra cotta. Plans will be made this winter and work will commence next spring. John E. Michil, Pank Row Building, New York, is said to be the architect engaged.

James Reily, builder, Willa avenue and Upsal street, Germantown, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence at Wyncote, Pa., for Mrs. M. H. Boden. It will be two and a half stories high, of stone to the first floor, the balance in shingle with shingle roof. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be heated by hot air, wired for electricity and contain all modern improvements. It will cost, when finished, $5,000. Plans by Dull & Coates, architects, 1126 Walnut street.

F. L. Hoover Son, builders, 705 Ransdend street, are requesting sub bids on a country residence for W. E. Hering, to be built at Abington, Pa. It will be of the old English style of architecture and will be built of stone and pebble dashed. It will be three-stories high, 89x43 feet with a servants' wing 53x19 feet. It will be finished in the interior in hardwood with tiled floors, electric lights, open fire places and all modern improvements. Bids due September 19th. Plans by Oswald C. Hering & Hess & Wilks, associate architects, New York City.

The contract for the new State Capital building at Harrisburg, Pa., has been awarded to Geo. F. Payne & Co., of this city, for $3,110,000. The entire building is to be granite including the dome, while a granite dome will cost $110,000 additional. Payne & Co.'s bid for the entire building with a terra cotta dome, being but $3,600,000. The commission through the earnest recommendation of both the architect and engineer, very wisely decided on granite. It is expected that the building will be completed before 1906. The bid of Roydhouse Atty & Co., including granite dome, was $3,773,000.

David McClelland, builder, 518 South 20th street, has been awarded the contract by Wm. McCoach, custodian, to repair post office and United States Court rooms, at 9th and Chestnut streets. Contract price $6,000, including carpenter work, painting, plastering and iron work. He is also bidding on Garrick Hotel, 13th below Chestnut streets, bids due September 18th. Plans posted for alterations and additions to 1938 Market street for Mr. Lighthart, bids due September 18th, and is bidding on two dwellings at 63d and Girard avenue, for A. Nassano and P. Canelmo. Bids due September 18th.

George F. Payne & Co., builders, 409 South Juniper street, have been awarded the contract to erect the two proposed new buildings, one at the Southwest corner of 16th and Chestnut street, will be for Mr. Read and will be two stories high, extending along 16th street to Exter street; the other building on the Southeast corner of 16th and Chestnut streets, will be for Perry & Co., and will be 3 stories high. They will be built of brick and stone and will contain all modern improvements. Plans and specifications for both structures were prepared by Wilson Bros. Co., architects and engineers, Drexel Building.

We cannot find any authority for the statement that the Continental Hotel property has been sold to Seigel Cooper & Co., of New York, for a department store. It is evident that the heads of the departments in the New York concern know nothing about the reported sale as we have seen letters wherein they disclaim such knowledge. Rumor has it, however that S. C. Co., will continue the hotel for a year, when it will be torn down and a large department store erected on the site.

We are informed that the present lease for the property has three years yet to run; that contracts and engagements have been made by the hotel management with clubs, etc., for banquets and rooms, etc., which will be complied with in every particular.

Hotel accommodations in this city are already greatly impaired.

Negotiations are already underway for the property Southeast corner 10th and Filbert, 928 926, 924 and 922 Filbert street, and 25, 23, and 21 Filbert street, properties extending back to Commerce street. The whole of this area, 200x80 feet, being wanted for a site for 14 story hotel building.

Wm. R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, has been awarded the contract for the handsome new residence for Jos. Clark, to be built on Highland avenue, Chestnut Hill. It will be built of stone with slate roof and a porch on the front and side. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will be equipped with all the latest improvements. It will cost about $40,000. Plans and specifications by C. C. Zantizinger, architect, 263 South 4th street.

Architect Note

The partnership heretofore existing between Samuel A. Brouse and Ernest A. Arend, under the firm name of Brouse & Arend, has been dissolved by mutual consent. The firm had offices in Trenton and Asbury Park, N. J., and formerly at 931 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. Their increasing business in New Jersey necessitated their closing the latter office this summer. Mr. Brouse will continue at Trenton, with offices in the First National Bank Building and Mr. Arend at the Asbury Park office, though neither one confines himself to any territory. Mr. Brouse reports that he is very busy completing the Inter-State Telephone Building, Roebling School and other work in Trenton. He will shortly let the contract for the Fillmore Street School and a school at Wharton, N. J. He is also very busy on plans for other work which will be noted later.

Architect Note

By a typographical error in last week's issue the name of Architect Dan Everett Waid, 155 Fifth avenue, New York City, was printed Ward.

Holt & Schober, architects and engineers, Bourse Building, have completed plans and specifications for an ice plant for the Montgomery Ice and Coal Co., to be built at Wyncoote, Pa. It will be one story high, 100x50 feet and will be built of stone with slate roof. Owner will take bids.

Duhring O'Kie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, have plans on the course of preparation for a tenement house to be built at 7th and Christian streets. It will be four stories high, built of brick and will be fire proof in its construction and will be ready for bids in a short while.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, has plans in the course of preparation for a pair of houses to cost $5000 for Mrs. F. A. Joseelyne, to be built in Germantown, Pa., on Chelton avenue, east of York road. They will be three stories high, 35 feet 6 inches x 42 feet 9 inches and will be built of frame with stone foundations and will have a shingle roof and will contain all modern improvements.

Amos W Barnes, architect and engineer, Northeast corner of Ninth and Walnut streets, has plans in the course of preparation for alterations and additions to the store properties, 434-36 Market street, for Joseph Goldsmith. The plans provide for an additional story to the present structure to measure 44x113 feet. A brick tower fire escape will be built and a sprinkler system installed will be ready for bids in a short while.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to builders for the superstructure for the new mill for A. J. Cameron & Co., to be built at Glenwood avenue and Pacific street, this city. It will be three stories high, 377 x 70 feet and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. It will be equipped with tower fire escapes and will have all the up-to-date factory appointments. Bids due September 26 at 4 P. M. The following builders have been invited to bid: A. Raymond Raff, Henderson & Co., Limited; George Dietrich, Harrison Rea, W. R. Dougherty, Michael Magee, Chas. McCaul Co., Lewis Havens & Sons.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications for a stable and dwelling for Mr. Isaac Nicholson to be built at Upsal, Germantown. The house will be three stories high, 38 x 23 feet, and will be built of brick. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all modern improvements. The stable will be two stories high, also of brick and will contain all the latest sanitary stable improvements. Bid due September 26. The following bidders are bidding: W. S. Kohl, McClintock & Weaver, Lynch Bros., and G. B. Wright. In the same office have also completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to the residence of Geo. F. Read, at Lumberton, N. J. plans provide for a new wing to be three stories high of frame and general interior improvements. Bids due September 26th. The following builders are bidding: John Farrel, of Marlton, N. J.; J. S. Rodgers, of Stanwick, N. J.; M. S. Watson, of Lumberton, N. J.; E. Ewan Zack, Eckam and Geo. Brenin, of Mt. Holly, N. J.

Totten & Rogers, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have prepared plans for an annex to the State Insane Asylum at Farnhurst, Del., to cost $10,000, for the trustees of the poor of New Castle county.

C. J. Young, engineer, 3718 North Carlisle street, has plans in the course of preparation for a power house and dam to be built at Hawley, Pa., for the United Water Power Improvement Co., of Philadelphia. It is estimated that this work will cost about $200,000.

Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owners who will take bids for alterations and additions to the stock house for the Rosineck Brewing Co., at Richmond. Also for a 100-ton refrigerator plant for the same company. The same architect is working on plans and specifications for a new brewery for the Philadelphia Brewing Co., to be built at Sixth and Clearfield streets, will be ready for bids in about two weeks' time.

Hale & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for six buildings to be erected at Hazleton, Pa., for the Jeanville Iron Works, of that place, they comprise as follows: A foundry and machine shop, one story high, 106x537 feet, a pattern shop, two story, 50x75 feet a pattern storage shop, 50x200 feet an office building, three stories 65x65 feet, a power house containing a boiler house and engine room, and to measure 80x27 and a stable to be two stories high, 38x50 feet, all to be built of brick and slow burning construction. Bids due October 3. All buildings to have all up to date appointment.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Frank Mahan, of Ardmore, has been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to the residence of William H. Weimer, at Bryn Maur, Pa. Plans by H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 430 Walnut street.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, is requesting sub bids on alterations and additions to the residence of J. Franklin McFadden, at Haverford, Pa. Plans provide for a three story addition of brick and frame and general interior improvements. Bids due September 26th. Plans and specifications by Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, Mordecai T. Endicott, chief of the Navy Department Bureau of Docks and Yards, has invited estimates for a new brick and steel coppersmith shop and a steel frame building for locomotive crane machinery to be erected at the League Island Navy Yard. Bids are due on the coppersmith shop on October 18th, on the other building on October 17th.

David McClelland, builder, 518 South Twentieth street, has been awarded the contract for the alterations and additions to 138-40 North Tenth street for H. W. Lobb. Plans provide for the building of a new rear addition and general interior improvements, and when finished will cost about $16,000. Plans and specifications by Chas. E. Oelschlager, architect, Harrison Building.

Kendrick Co., builders, 1709 Sansom street, have been awarded the contract to build the new restaurant building to be erected on the north side of Market street, east of Thirteenth for Horn & Horn. It will be four stories high, 30x50 feet and will have an ornamental front of limestone, with terra cotta trimmings. It will be fire-proof in construction. The first and second floors will be devoted to restaurant purposes, the third floor will be the kitchen which will have walls of white enamel brick. It will be equipped with tower fire escapes and will have every modern appointment of a building of its kind. Plans and specifications by Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, Work will proceed at once.

Doyle & Doak, builders, 1509 Sansom street, have plans posted for the proposed apartment house addition to be built at 19th and Kitchenhouse streets. It will be four stories and basement high, 53x40 feet, built of brick stone and iron and will have every appointment of a first-class apartment house. Bids September 26th.—In the same office are requesting sub bids on an addition to the Ross Manufacturing Company factory at Eleventh street and Washington ave. The addition will be five stories high, 48x81 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. Bids due September 24th. Plans by Amos Barnes' architect and engineer, Ninth and Walnut streets.

Baldwins' Locomotive Works are to build a large power house on the northeast corner of Sixteenth and Hamilton streets and on the opposite side of Hamilton street, extending to Pennsylvania avenue, there will be built a two story flange and smith shop. They will also erect a six story brick and iron building at Fifteenth and Hamilton streets to take the place of the hammer shop, now there. All the present buildings on the south side of Hamilton street, west of Seventeenth street, will be remodeled. They will also build a large engine house and finishing shop at Twenty-seventh and Pennsylvania avenue, capable of holding 30 finished locomotives. This building will be 400 feet long. Plans and specifications for the structure were prepared by the company's engineers.

We are assured by a gentleman of this city who has had many years' experience as a coal mining superintendent that if the mining of anthracite coal was to be commenced to-morrow it would be impossible, before cold weather sets in, to mine enough coal to furnish each family accustomed to its use with a single ton each.

In the first place, he says, that the working force has been depleted by removals, etc., by at least thirty per cent. as many thousands of the workers have returned to Europe and as many more have found profitable employment in the bituminous regions.

Those who are depending upon soft coal as a substitute when the time comes will realize that this will also be difficult to obtain as it will be badly needed in all directions at the same time and the railroads have in a large number of instances, been already seriously blocked through the great demand for soft coal for manufacturing purposes.

The question of a coal supply for domestic use is extremely serious and it's about time that the people East of the mountains understood the seriousness of the situation.

It is all right for Mr. Baer, the talking president of the Reading Railroad to tell the reporters that "all the King's horses and all the King's men could not open the mines," but it's very near time all the same, for the King's men to act, notwithstanding Mr. Baer to the contrary. It won't do to wait until people are frozen to death in their dwellings either. All that is needed is a fresh application of the right of eminent domain in another than the usual direction. If the water supply was cut off, what then?

At Secaucus, Hudson county, two additions will be made to the Hudson County Hospital for the Insane, by the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

At Bridgeton, Cumberland county, William
E. Weber will erect a large confectionery establishment.—Wesley Memorial M. E.
Church will be rebuilt on a larger scale.

At West Orange, Essex county, the town council has under consideration the erection of a police station, so arranged as to accommodate the other town departments. No plans have been made.

At Plainfield, Union County, Mr. Hugh Mc-Donald, of Park avenue, will erect a handsome dwelling on Arlington avenue. It will have fine interior finish, open plumbing, thoroughly equipped bath room, tile work and all modern conveniences.

At Crawford, Union county, the contract for improvements to the Sherman School Building and the construction of a new school building at New Orange, have been awarded to the Peck Lumber Company, of Crawford.
They will cost about $5,000 each.

At New Brunswick, Middlesex county, the plans of Henry Rutgers Marshall, 3 and 7
West 29th street, New York City, for the new library for Rutgers College have been finished and call for a two story structure of Long Meadow sand stone, the basement and first story to be fire proof. Slate roof, direct and indirect steam radiation, wire lath tiling, gas and electric lighting, open plumbing, all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $30,000.

At Sea Isle City, Cape May county, a large tract of land has been bought by Ocean City and Philadelphia capitalists. Part of it includes the C. K. Landis estate adjoining Sea Isle City at Whale Beach. The lines of the Reading and the West Jersey Railroad pass through the tract. It is said that the new owners will establish a new summer resort. Many improvements will be made and the land will be sub-divided and put on the market.

At Perth Amboy, a $20,000 church building will be erected on Madison avenue by the Hebrew Mutual Aid Society. The building will be of brick and a local architect will probably make the plans after visiting several big cities to view other synagogues. The church will be 85x40 ft.—The contract for the erection of a brick block for Jacob Goldberger on State street, was given to Donohue & Leary, for $13,000.

At Clayton, Gloucester county, one of the large windows of the Baptist Church was broken last week by the cord giving way.

At Red Bank, Monmouth county, it is said that Joseph Swannill, New Bank Building, Red Bank, will prepare the plans for the proposed armory for the Monmouth Cavalry Troop. The structure will be 60x270 feet, of brick, fifty-foot towers at each corner, iron truss roof covered with block slate, steam heat, electric lights, open plumbing. Cost $40,000.

At Springfield, Union county, the citizens having voted to build a town hall, plans are being made by Architect Carter.

At West Orange, the Board of Education will meet on October 10th, next, for final decision on the revised plans for the new school to be built at Pleasantville, Essex county, N. J.

The designs will include several styles of building so that an attractive choice of yellow or red brick, with stone trimmings to conform to the color scheme of the structure can be selected.

Architect Notes.

Dennison & Miller, Youngstown, Ohio, have prepared plans for a school building to be erected at Sharon, Pa., at a cost of $60,000.

It is reported that Messrs. Derr, Haney & Co., of 425 Market street, will make extensive alterations and additions to the above property.

Strawbridge and Clothier have bought the Central Hotel at 825 to 831 Market street, for $700,000 and it is reported that they will spend about $400,000 in fitting it for department store uses.

Frederick Rautert, 99 Metropolitan Block, Chicago, Ill., has prepared plans for a brewery to be erected at Irwin, Pa., for the Crescent Brewing Company. The estimated cost is about $125,000.

Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans for two three story frame Swiss Chalets 30x38 feet, each to be built on the grounds of Pocono Manor at Mount Pocono, Pa.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, plans and specifications have been accepted in competition for the erection of the handsome new hotel to be built at Spring Lake, N. J., for the Spring Lake Realty Co. It will be four stories high. We will be able to give further details later.

Harry A. Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building, has completed revised plans and specifications and sent same to the building committee who will advertise for bids on the Camden Public Bath House. It is a one story structure of brick and will contain swimming pool, shower baths, etc.

J. Elvin Jackson, architect, 719 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to owner, Robt. P. Morton, 1414 South Broad street, for a new factory to be built at 770 South 2nd street. It will be four stories high 19x53 feet and will be built of brick and slow burning construction.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has completed plans and taking bids on two cottages and two hitching sheds to be built at Briarcliff Farm, N. Y. The cottages will be two stories, 30x60 feet, built of frame and stone; the hitching sheds will be 18x150 feet each. Also built of frame.

Chas. W. Bolton Co., architects, Witherpoon Building, are working on plans and specifications for a new chapel for the South U. P. Church, to be built at 17th and Snyder avenue. It will be constructed of stone with slate roof, and will measure 40x70 feet and will have the usual church furnishings. It will be ready for bids in a short while.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to the basement of Thompson & Co., Southwest corner of 11th and Chestnut streets, and is now receiving bids on the same.—The same architect is engaged on plans and specifications for a hot water heating plant, for the new Parochial residence for the Church of Our Lady of Victory, 54th and Vine streets. Rev. Father McNulty is the pastor.

C E Rahn, 410 Walnut street, architect, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to owners, Ramsey Bros. and Wilson, who have an office at 51st and Arch street, for 28 colonial style of architecture, two story houses, to be built on Lewis street between Haverford avenue and Vine street, near 51st street. They will be built of brick with porch fronts. The interior will be in hardwood finish and they will contain all up-to-date improvements. They will cost about $25,000 each. Ground will be broken for these houses this week.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to owners who will take estimates for a casino building and restaurant to be built at East Pittsburg, Pa., for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. It will be three stories high, 130x120 feet and will be constructed of brick and iron, and will be fireproof. The basement will contain bowling alley, billiard room on the first floor; restaurant and hall on the second; and third floor, servants' quarters.

Chas. L. Hillman, architect, Provident Building, has completed plans for two sanitary dairies one for Geo. Wood, to be built at Wawa, and other at Haddonfield, for E. S. Gill. The former structure will be of stone, two stories in height, 32x88 feet and the latter one story high of brick and frame, 63x17 feet.

W. L. Price, architect, 231 Walnut street, has completed revised plans and sent same out for estimates for new residence for Mrs. C. W. Borton, to be built at Haddonfield, N. J. (Details previously noted).

Duhring O'Kie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to builders for estimates for the new residence to be built at Glenside, Pa., for Mr. Conway. It will be three stories high, 63x45 feet, and will be built of stone with shingle roof. It will contain all the up-to-date improvements. Bids due October 3rd. The following builders have been invited to bid: John Owens, John Davies & Sons, H. Marion Zane, M E Hauser, James Cook, Jr., N. Thompson, Kendrick & Roberts, Sherman Orem Co., and E. Barton, of Ivyland.

M. H. Dickinson, architect, Real Estate Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to owner, who will take bids for a new factory building for the Mason Multiple Plate Washer Co., to be built at Oxford, Pa. It will be one story high, 50x100 feet, built of frame with brick ends for boiler and engine house and will contain all up-to-date factory appointments. It will cost about $3000.—The same architects has plans in the course of preparation for a handsome colonial residence, to be built in West Philadelphia. It will be three stories high and built of brick and cost $15,000. Further details later.

W. L. Dockstader, of Wilmington, Del., has commissioned Geo. I. Lovatt, architect, 416 Walnut street, this city, to prepare working drawings and specifications for a new theatre to be located on Market street between 8th and 9th streets, east side. The ground covered is 48 feet front on Market street, running back 217 feet to King street. On this spot will be built stores and office building. On Market street front will be a wide and elaborate lobby leading to the theatre, which will have a seating capacity of about 1250. The theatre is to be complete in all its appointments and will have all modern stage appliances. The building will be three stories high built of brick, with an ornamental front of stone and will be semi fireproof. On King street front there will be built stores, allowing for an 8 feet drive to the street.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Wallace S. L. Rhodes, Real Estate Broker and Conveyancer, 2208-10 North Broad street, reports the sale of 2819 Lee street, a 2 story, 6 room dwelling, lot 13x48.6, for Anna E. Evans to Henry Seher, consideration $1450.

Sperry & Treat, builders, of New Haven, Conn., have been awarded the contract for the new residence to be built at New Haven, Conn., for James E. Wheeler. It will be three stories high, 60x35 feet and will be built of brick stone and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans by Mantie Fielding, architect, 110 South 4th st.

O'Brien Bros., builders, 5622½ Chew street, Germantown, have purchased the old Forepaugh property, fronting on Stenton avenue, Madary avenue and Cora street, and it is reported that upon this site they will erect 100 houses. They will be built of brick and will contain 7 or 8 rooms each, only 25 of these houses will be built this fall.

The following builders will be invited to bid on the proposed new Lulu Temple on Spring Garden street, below Broad street (details previously noted in these columns). PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 24, 1902

A Concrete Skyscraper.

The building authorities of Cincinnati are in consultation with the owners and architects over plans for the erection of a 15-story and attic building built wholly on the Ransome system of concrete and cold-twisted steel construction, the extreme height to be 210 feet above the curb; ground area, 50x100. The architects are: A. O. Elzner and George M. Anderson. The owners, the Cincinnati Fireproofing Co., Tyler Field, treasurer. Building Inspector Tooker is assisted by Prof. C. M. Marx, of the Engineering Department of the University of Cincinnati, and L. Eid, one of the engineers of the new water works, who has made a special study of concrete construction. It was shown to Mr. Tooker that the concrete construction proposed is stronger and more rigid than steel, and will stand the vibrations and strains due to wind pressure better and in a more perfect way. The strength of the structure doesn't depend on riveted joints, but on the monolithic character of the concrete, being all one solid mass of stone held together by twisted steel rods, and imparting to it an elasticity equivalent to that of a steel building.—Exchange.

Glass Paving Brick.

The Garchey glass paving blocks laid down in Lyons, France, recently, according to a French mechanical journal, appear to wear very well, only a few having become chipped. The blocks have a superficial area of about 64 inches, the face being divided into sixteen squares by cross furrows so as to afford better foothold. They are set close together to prevent percolation, and are stated to be more durable than granite, whilst cleaner than wood blocks or asphalt. A large factory has been erected near Lyons for the production of these blocks, as well as plain and ornamental blocks for building purposes.

This glass stone is made from bottle glass and window glass cullet, is crushed in a mill, sifted, and slowly heated for an hour in cast-iron moulds, to devitrify the glass and convert it into a very viscid, pasty mass, which is then heated for a few minutes in a furnace at 1,300 degrees C, and pressed by hydraulic power. According to the color or fineness of the materials the appearance of various kinds of stone can be imitated. From official tests it appears that the glass stone will resist a pressure of 2,023 kilos. per square cm., whereas granite will not stand more than 650 kilos. pressure. It also (says J. Heurivaux in La square cm. In point of resistance to attrition (Ceramique) withstands the action of cold, sample plates cooled to twenty degrees below a pressure of 2,028 kilos. per sq. cm. the new product is found to be superior to St. Raphael porphyry, and as good as combination building stone A 4.2 kilos. weight falling from a height of 1 metre effected the fracture of the blocks after twenty-two blows, whilst similar blocks made from blast furnace slag and Cherbourg quartzite were broken at the nineteenth blow. The tensile strength is 15.3 kilos., blocks measuring 50x33 cm. requiring a force of 25,000 kilos. to tear them asunder. Among the advantages claimed for glass stone for building purposes are its non-porosity, insulating power, insusceptibility to atmospheric and other influences, cheapness and hardness, the latter being so great as to necessitate the tempering in mercury of the cutting tools used in working the stone. As a street paving material it is able to stand any vibration of traffic, is easy to clean and hygienic, whilst "the pavement does not become slippery."—Clay Record.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A Raymond Raff, builder, 1635 Thompson street, has been awarded the contract to build the one story addition to the plant of the Tioga Foundry Co., at 22d and Allegheny avenue. It will be built of brick and slow burning construction and will measure 50x50 feet, and will cost $4000.

S. R. Riley, builder, 627 Filbert street, has been awarded the contract for alterations and additions to the residence of Theodore Voorhees at 1025 Spruce street. (Details previously noted). Plans by Louis C. Hickman, architect, 328 Chestnut street.

H. B. Shoemaker Co., builder, 113 North 7th street, will erect two three story pompeian brick front dwellings for Morris Buckins, at 75 and 77 East Seymour street, Germantown. They will contain all modern improvements and will cost $5,000 each.

Jos. Ashby, builder, of Fox Chase, has been awarded the contract to build stone mansion farm house and stock barn for George S. Coyne, at Fox Chase. (The work has been fully described in these columns). Plans and specifications by C. E. Shermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street.

According to plans agreed upon by the Rapid Transit Co. and the city authorities, the present piers of the Market street bridge will be extended on the south and the entire bridge moved several feet toward Chestnut street. The piers on the north will also be extended and strengthened and an elevated structure built on them.

Hill & Stevens, builders, at Oak Lane, Philadelphia, have been awarded the contract to build the new edifice for the Presbyterian Congregation at that place. It will be one story and basement high, 62x68 feet, and will be built of stone with slate roof and will have the usual church furnishings, with stained glass windows, heated by steam, etc. Work will proceed at once.

Wm. R. Dougherty and L. H. Focht, builders, are requesting sub-bids on the six new buildings for the Jeansville Iron Works, to be built at Hazelton, Pa. Bids due October 6th. Plans and specifications by Hales and Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street.

Doyle Doak, builder, 1509 Sansom street, has plans posted for a new Roman Catholic Cathedral to be erected at Lloyd avenue and Laurel street, Richmond, Va., it will measure 220x160 feet and will be constructed of brick, faced with stone and marble and when finished will cost about $400,000.

Wm. Steele & Sons, builders, Witherspoon Building, have filed bids for a Gardner and Farmers' Cottage to be built for Pennhurst estate of Pencival Roberts at Narberth, Pa. They will be two story and basement high, 29x26 feet, built of frame and stone. Plans by Peabody & Stearn, architects, Boston, Mass.

H. Marion Zane, builder, Hale Building, has been awarded the contract for alterations to residence of F. V. Jarden at Rosemont, also for a new stable and automobile house for the same party at the same place. (Details previously noted). Plans by Frank H. Keisker, architect, Arcade Building. Work will proceed at once.

Kendrick & Roberts & Wm. R. Steele & Sons, builders, have plans posted for a new office building to be built on the Southeast corner 10th and Columbia avenue. It will be three stories high, 144x64 feet, and will be built of brick stone and iron, with all up-to-date appointments. Bids due October 6th. Plans and specifications by J. Franklin Stuckert & Sons, architects, 1421 Chestnut street.

W. R. Steele & Sons, builder, Witherspoon Building, has plans posted for a new factory for Williamson Bros., to be built at Aramingo and Cumberland streets. It will be three stories high, 150x181x227 feet and will be built of brick and slow burning construction and will have every appointment of an up-to-date factory. Bids due October 7th. Plans and specifications by Wm. R. Steele & Son.

Jno W. Emery & Wm. R. Steel & Son, builders are bidding on the new brew house for the Philadelphia Brewing Co., to be erected at 6th and Clearfield streets. It will be four stories high, built of brick and stone and will contain all the up-to-date appointments of a building of its kind. Bids due October 6th. Plans and specifications by Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, is requesting sub-bids on the handsome new residence for Mr. Jno. Dunlap, Jr., to be built at Southwest corner of Orchard way and Aberdeen avenue, Wayne, Pa. It will be three stories high, built of stone and half timber, with shingle roof. It will have a porch on the front and two sides. The interior will be hardwood finish and will have tiled bath, open plumbing work and all modern improvements. Bids due October 8th. Plans and specifications by Francis A. Gugert, architect, Wayne, Pa.

Architect Notes.

H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 430 Walnut street, has plans in the course of preparation for a two story, colonial style brick office building, 25x130 feet, to be built at Norristown, Pa. Owner's name withheld.

Jacob Naschold, architect, 504 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications for alterations and additions to the Northeast corner of 15th and Arch streets, which will be converted into a restaurant and apartment house for W. C. Schrenk. H. B. Shoemaker is bidding. Bids due October 11th.

Chas. E. Oelschlaeger, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for extensive alterations to the Southeast corner of 21st and Cherry streets. Bids due October 10th. The following builders are bidding: Mitchell Bros., Jno. H. Gill and Stacey Reeves & Son.

Thomas V. Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., is working on plans and specifications for extensive alterations and additions to the residence of Robt. H. Hancock, Esq., at Collingswood, N. J. Plans provide for the building of a back building and general interior improvements. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, have prepared plans and specifications for alterations and additions to Dr. D. C. Guthrie's residence, at 722 North 44th street. Plans provide for the building of a back addition to be three stories high, of brick and general interior improvements.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, are working on plans and specifications to govern the handsome new residence of Francis L. Potts, to be built at Bryn Mawr, Pa. It will be a three story stone, old English style of architecture, and will measure 30x60 feet. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all up-to-date improvements, and will cost $70,000.

Hale & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are working on plans and specifications for a new factory for the Victor Talking Machine Co., to be built at 112 North Front street, Camden, N. J. It will be four stories high, of brick and steel and will measure 30x200 feet and will have the usual appointments of a building of its kind.

At Bradford, Pa., E. F. & W. S. Brickell have prepared plans for a building to be fitted up as a market house for S. A. Mundy. It will be of frame, brick and stone, structural iron and grill work, metal ceilings, felt and gravel roofing, tiling, patent plaster, skylight, gas and electric fixtures, toilet room and water-closet fixtures, heating and the cost will be about $20,000.

At Altoona, Pa., Frank A. Hersh has made plans for remodeling the building at Chestnut and Ninth streets for Daniel McCrory. The structure will be thoroughly remodeled to fit it for hotel purposes, and another story will be added, containing ten additional rooms. There will be new bath rooms, and other improvements, including new gas fixtures, and iron balcony, tiling, sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences.

Duhring Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, have plans and specifications in the course of preparation for a handsome new edifice with a Sunday School building in the rear for the congregation of the First Baptist Church of West Chester. Rev. William A. Needham is the pastor. The church will be one story high and both structures will be built of stone and lighted by electricity, heated by steam heat and will have the usual church furnishings. We will be able to give more details later.

Thomas Bohaiman has purchased the property of P. T. Hallanan, at the Northeast corner of 19th and Mt. Vernon streets, for the sum of $20,500 and he has commissioned the firm of Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, of the Real Estate Building, to prepare plans for extensive alterations and improvements, the plans provide for the demolishing and the rebuilding of the rear wing which is to be two stories high and will be built of stone with a mansard roof, the interior of the present house will be rearranged. The stable is to be enlarged and other minor improvements will be made.

Jos. Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building, is engaged on plans for a handsome new residence for Gov. W. A. Stone, to be erected on Beacon near Murdock street, East End, Pittsburg, Pa. It will be of brick and stone, three stories in height, the interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all the up-to-date appointments, such as wired for electricity, tile baths, open plumbing work, etc., and will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.—It is reported that the same architect is preparing plans for an office building to be erected on East 5th st, Chester, Pa., for Josiah Smith and William I. Shaffer.

W. J. McAnley & Co., architects and engineers, Arcade Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to the residence of Hon. Robert H. Foerderer at Torresdale, Pa. Plans provide for a two story addition of brick, 50x80 feet, new stair hall, dining room, banquet room, conservatory, art gallery, pipe organ, gallery, eight new tile bath-rooms, and general interior improvements. There is also a servant wing to be built two stories high, which will contain kitchen, dining room, 5 bed rooms and bath, Geo. Kessler, W. R. Dougherty and Doyle & Doak are bidding.

A. A. Ritcher, architect, Lebanon, Pa., has been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications to govern the erection of a new store and office building for Mr. E. Mann, of Lebanon, Pa. The building will be five stories high with steel skeleton frame encased with Pompeian brick and stone trimmings. There will be highly ornamental copper cornices and bay-windows. The building will be fitted out in hard wood, elevators, tile floor, wainscoting and tin roof. The fifth floor will be designed for apartment purposes, containing all modern improvements. The building will measure 52 feet by 200 feet.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, are working on plans and specifications as reported in last week's issue, to govern the erection of a magnificent hotel to be built on the site of the old Monmouth House at Spring Lake, N. J. It will be four stories high, of red and buff brick, in Spanish Renaissance style of architecture and will measure 200x350 feet, and will have a large dome in the center while both ends will be flanked by an ornate tower. In the basement will be billiard room, shuffleboards, etc. The first floor, office exchange, reception room, etc., the upper floors will contain 175 bed rooms and 50 baths. It will cost about $200,000.

At Baltimore, Maryland, George Archer has prepared plans for the proposed charity hospital to be erected at East Cambridge, Maryland. There will be an administration building, three stories high, of brick and stone and a two story brick and stone ward building. There will be accommodations for thirty-five patients.—

Thomas C. Kennedy has prepared plans for a church to be erected at Old Point Comfort, Va., for the Roman Catholic Congregation of St. Mary Star of the Sea. It will be of stone and will cost about $20,000.—Baldwin Pennington has prepared plans for the addition to the Fidelity and Deposit Company's building at Lexington and Charles streets, Cost, $125,000. Work on this addition will begin next spring.

Owens & Sisco have prepared plans for improvements to the summer home of J. J. Speck, of Pittsburg, Pa., at Snug Harbor, Maryland. There will be a new dining room, bed rooms, plumbing, and new heating plant.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

J. W. Burner Co., builders, have been awarded the contract for alterations and improvements to the basement of Thompson Company's building at the Southwest corner of 11th and Chestnut streets. Plans by Rowland Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street.

Geo. Branim, builder, of Mt. Holly, N. J., has been awarded the contract for alterations and additions to the residence of Mr. Reid, at Lumberton, N. J. (Details previously noted). Plans and specifications by Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street. D. W. Sperry, builder, 1395 Arch street, has plans provided for a two and a half story stone and frame residence, 32x20 feet, to be built at Lynwood avenue, Glenside, Pa., for J. W. Purves. Plans by Architect F. A. Tucker, 167 Allen street, Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 8, 1902

The Standard Plunger Elevator Company.

The Standard Plunger Elevator Co., recently organized and chartered with a capital of $600,000, and with an extensive manufacturing plant and general office at Worcester, Mass., has entered the field in this section under the most promising auspices, for, besides other important contracts, it has succeeded in contracting to erect the entire elevator plant to consist of ten elevators for the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, which, when completed, will represent the finest Plunger Elevator plant in the world.

The Philadelphia office of the Standard is at 1416 South Penn Square, its entire business in this section being under the supervision of Mr. Leonard G. Paine, a practical and competent engineer, with an extended experience in the construction of elevators.

Mr. Paine desires it emphatically stated that the Standard Plunger Elevator Company has no connection, direct or indirect with any other elevator manufacturing concern in or out of this country. His company does not belong to the Elevator Trust but to the contrary it is free and untrammelled and bound by no obligations of any kind. It makes and sells what he considers the most efficient and reliable and safe elevator in the world; it being of simple mechanical construction, entirely free from complications, it does not and cannot get out of order, consequently there are none of those endless bills of expense for repairs which are so generally associated with elevator service in both large and small buildings.

The principles of construction in the new Standard Plunger Elevators are not only simple but differ from all other plunger elevators because of the introduction of a new valve and an automatic stop, both of which are on entirely new lines, and are owned and controlled by the Standard Company, which has covered them by broad patents.

Mr. A. E. Batchelder is the Superintendent of Construction for the Standard Company in Philadelphia and vicinity. He has had long and continued experience in the erection of plunger elevators and is well-known among architects for his expert knowledge.

The officers of the Standard Plunger Elevator Company are as follows: Wm. H. Woodin, President; John Sherman Hoyt, Vice President; Fred A. Jones, General Manager.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Hiram Miller & Sons, builders, Stephens Girard Building, have plans posted for a new residence for R. E. Shelley, to be built at Wyncote, Pa. It will be three stories high, of stone and frame, with all the latest improvements. Bids due October 9th.

R. Kerns, builder, of Norristown, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the new department store for B. E. Block & Bros., at 20-22-24-26 Main street, Norristown. Contract price $10,500. (Details previously noted). Plans and specifications by Harry L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 430 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

Geo. C. Dietrich, builder, 939 North 7th street, has been awarded the contract to build the superstructure for the new mill of A. J. Cameron Co., to be built at Glenwood avenue and Pacific street. It will be 70x377 feet and a boiler house 50x90 feet to be built of brick and slow burning construction and to cost $80,000. Plans by Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building.

David McClelland, builder, 515-17 South 20th street, has been awarded the contract to build a four story addition, 75x26 feet, and another addition also four stories 58x92 feet, for the Adams Westlake Company, at 10th and Diamond streets to cost about $18,000. Plans and specifications by Peter Kuhn, 2928 North 8th street. Work will proceed at once.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., New York City, has bought a lot with a frontage of fifty-two feet on Fifty-first street, near Madison avenue, New York. It is said $400,000 was paid for the ground, which is part of the block formerly owned by the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum. It is Mr. Vanderbilt's intention to erect a handsome dwelling on the site just purchased.

Architect Notes.

H. L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 430 Walnut street, has completed revised plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new residence for Mrs. Mary Marsten, at Haverford, Pa., and the three new residences to be built at Noble Station, Pa. (Details previously noted): Bids due October 21st.

Harry Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building, is working on plans and specifications for a new residence for Mr. F. P. Orleman, to be built at Sesside Park, N. J. It will be three stories high, 20x45 feet, with a wing 16x12½ feet. It will be built of frame with shingle roof and will have a porch on two sides. It will contain all up-to-date improvements.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owners, who will take estimates for a large stock barn, to be built at Norma, N. J., for the Allewine Co., of that place. It will be two and a half stories high, 70x40 feet, and will be built of stone and frame, with shingle roof. It will be equipped with every up-to-date appointment.

It is reported that Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, are working on plans for a handsome new residence to be built at Bryn Mawr, Pa., for Francis L. Potts, who has an office in the Bullitt Building. It is to be three stories high, of stone and will measure 27x55 feet, and will cost about $55,000. It will be equipped with all up-to-date appointments.

Amos W. Barnes, architect, 901 Walnut street, has plans in the course of preparation for a ten story apartment house and hotel to be erected in this city, the exact location withheld. It will be in the Renaissance style of architecture, and will measure 80x130 feet. It will have a granite base with Indiana limestone to the second floor, the balance will be in Pompeian brick and terra cotta trimmings. It will have all the appointments of a first-class apartment house.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a residence hall for the Bryn Mawr College, to be built at Bryn Mawr, Pa. It will be three story and basement high, and will be built of stone. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Bids due October 23d. W. R. Dougherty is bidding.

Savery & Schetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for 4 two story factories, 60x40 feet, a two story addition, 40x18 feet, and a boiler house, 40x18 feet. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 15, 1902

Old Time Notions Often False.

Old time notions as to the value of things for certain uses are often wrong.

Some years ago it was held that there was nothing so good for harness as Neatsfoot oil, while the fact is there is nothing worse.

Old time people used to insist that there was no paint so durable as that made of pure white lead and linseed oil, and indeed there are lots of people who think that this is true even now.

In as terse a way as we know how to put it we suggest for the benefit of those who think that there is no paint so good as that made with pure white lead, that they determine the question for themselves.

Take a single pound of Samuel H. French & Co.'s Buck White Lead, reduce it with linseed oil and then paint any old thing. A panel of your fence, one side of a boat or the wheel of a wagon and then with the rest of the linseed oil, and pure white lead, paint the other side of the boat or the rest of the fence or the other three wheels of the wagon and let them go for one, two or ten years and see if the pure white lead doesn't look sick along side of Buck lead.

The reason for this is, the pure white lead is pure, while the Buck lead isn't.

Everyone who has things painted ought to know this, but they don't.

If you want to test the truth of the foregoing statement, particularly in and about salt water, Samuel H. French & Co., Fourth and Callowhill, will furnish the Buck lead free of charge.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Capitol Commission has decided to erect two temporary buildings for use while the new capitol is building. They will be two stories high, 125x128 feet, of frame, slate roofs, steam heat, gas and electric lights.

Kendrick & Roberts, builders, 1200 Chestnut street, has been added to the list of builders on the new hotel to be built at Spring Lake, N. J. Milton W. Younge, builder, at Overbrook, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the new barn for H. S. Kerbaugh, to be built at Rosemont, Pa. Plans by McIlvaine & Roberts, architects, Land Title Building.

J. S. Cornell Sons, builders, Gard Building, have been awarded the contract for a two story squashball court, 30x60 feet, to be built at Princeton, N. J., for Junius S. Morgan. Plans and specifications by Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street.

Lynch & Bro., builders, have been awarded the contract to build the frame and galvanized iron chapel, 60x24 feet, for the First Presbyterian congregation, at Sixtieth and Master streets. Plans by Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street.

The property, 1417 Walnut street, 18x100 feet, has been sold by Edward B. Smith to Samuel Huckel, Jr., of the firm of Watson & Huckel, for $70,000.—The property, 1603 Walnut street, 22x120 feet, has been sold by Ella S. Smalty, to William C. Goodno, a physician at 1724 Chestnut street, for $68,000.

Hill & Stevens, builders, of Oak Lane, Philadelphia, have been awarded the contract to build the new stable for Dr. Stewart, at that place. It will be one story high, of stone, shingle roof and will have the usual sanitary stable appointments. It will cost about $4,000. Plans by William C. Hays, 1020 Walnut street.

Mitchell Bros., builders, 2125 Race street, have been awarded the contract to make extensive alterations to the southeast corner of Twenty-first and Cherry streets. Plans and specifications by Chas. E. Oelschlager, architect, Harrison Building.

James Stewart, builder, of Pittsburg, Pa., has been awarded the contract to erect a three story fireproof storage house, 60x40 feet, and a laboratory building at Pittsburg, Pa., for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. Plans and specifications by Bailey & Truscott, architect, 421 Chestnut street.

H. Marion Zane, builder, Hale Building, has filed bid with Mantle Fielding, architect, 110 South 4th street, for alterations and additions to Walter M. Gorham, Esq., residence at Wissahickon avenue near Chelton avenue, Germantown. Plans provide for a three story addition of stone and frame, with shingle roof and general interior improvements.

M. E. Hauser, builder, of Wyncote, Pa., has been awarded the contract to build the three dwellings at Wyncote for Frank E. Schellay. They will be three stories high, of stone and frame with porch on the front. The interior will be hardwood finish and they will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans by Architect A. Pogue, of this city.

Geo. F. Payne Co., builders, 400 South Juniper street, have plans posted for a private hospital to be erected at 1618 Summer street, for Dr. B. F. Baer. It will be four story high, of brick and stone, with a slated Mansard roof, and will measure 28x100 feet. It will be wired for electricity, heated by steam and will have all up-to-date appointments. Bids due October 18th.

Jno. D. Owens, builder, 136 East Sharpnack street, has been awarded the contract to build the new residence at Glenside, Pa., for Mr. Conway. It will be three stories high, 63x45 feet, built of stone with shingle roof and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans and specifications by Duhring Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square, Building.

Geo. Meyers Co., builders, have been awarded the contract to build the new edifice for the Bethel Evangelical Lutheran Congregation, at Fifth and Sedgely avenue, this city. It will be one story high, of brick and stone, slate roof, with the usual church furnishings. Plans by T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building.

The Manufacturer's Contracting Co., of Newark, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the handsome new residence for Mr. Dupont, near Wilmington, Del. It will be three stories high, of stone, 63x75 feet. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all up-to-date improvements. Work will proceed at once. Plans by Perot & Bissell, 303 Bourse Building, this city, are the architects.

The following builders have been invited to bid on the magnificent new hotel on the site of the old Monmouth House at Spring Lake, N. J. (Details previously noted.) Plans and specifications by Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street. Bids due October 17th: J. E. and A. L. Pennock, Cramp & Co., Geo. F. Payne & Co., Frank S. Riggs, Kendrick & Co., J. H. Jordan and D. A. McClelland, of this city; C. W. Kafer, of Trenton; H. H. Moore and Wyncoop & Bealey, of Spring Lake, N. J.

Mr. Jos. VanWinkle, linen department of Strawbridge & Clothier, and Mr. Neal of the upholstery department, same, have both purchased lots at East Lansdowne, Delaware county, Pa. Mr. VanWinkle has contracted with his brother, Charles VanWinkle, Clayton, Del., to erect a 10-room, 2½ story frame dwelling on First avenue, to cost about $3,000. Y., for Charles S. Shepherd, and will award contracts for other work in about a week.—Myer L. Sire, 15 Cortland street, has bought ground at Seventh avenue and Forty-ninth street and has under consideration the erection of stores and a theatre on the site. No architect has been selected.

Flemer & Kochler and J. M. Farnsworth drew the plans for a similar building to be erected by Mr. Sire at Broadway and 45th street.—It is said that John D. Rockefeller, Sr., has decided to erect a new home on the site of Boxwood, at Tarrytown, N. Y., which was recently destroyed by fire. The new structure will be of granite and will cost about $500,000.—Buckman & Fox, 11 East 59th street, have prepared plans for two five story and basement brick dwellings to be erected on the North side of 86th street, East of Fifth avenue, for the J. C. Lyons Building and operating company. They will be finely finished, sanitary plumbing, tiling, handsome bath room fixtures, art glass, and all modern conveniences.—President Butler, of Columbia University, has declared that $10,000,000 is needed to supply the needs of that institution. Of this amount, $3,000,000 would be used to pay off the present indebtedness; $2,000,000 for additional ground, south of the university, and $5,000,000 would be used for the erection of new buildings which are much needed to carry on the work of the university.—Jackson Stern, 31 Nassau street, has prepared plans for a nine story brick and stone apartment hotel, 40x80 feet, to be erected at 57½ West 46th street, for Alfred E. Gadt, 1 Union Square, West. The estimated cost is about $100,000.—George Maurer will erect a seven story apartment house on the North side of 151st street. The cost will be about $25,000.

Architect Notes.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for installing new heating plant in the new rectory of the Church of Our Lady of Victory. Bids due October 31.

New boiler and blacksmith shop to be built at League Island Navy Yard, at a cost of $60,000. It will be brick and steel and fireproof in construction. It will be ready for bids in a short while.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, are working on revised plans and specifications for house 389, to be built at 124 Van Pelt street. It is to be three stories high and built of brick. It is expected that plans will be ready for bids the latter part of this week.

There is an extensive addition to be made to the Harrison school at Camden, N. J., for the Board of Education, City Hall, William D. Brown, chairman. The addition will be three stories and basement high and will be built of brick. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

It is reported that the German American Trust Company will erect a new office building on the site of the present structure at the northeast corner of Broad and Arch streets. Three prominent Philadelphia architects are now engaged in preparing plans in competition to govern its erection.

It is reported that Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, is engaged on plans and specifications for a new parish building to be built for the congregation of St. Patrick R. C. Church, at 20th and Locust streets. It will be two stories high and will measure 66x80 feet, and will be built of stone with slate roof. Further details later.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, will send plans and specifications out for estimates this week for alterations and additions to the residence of Mr. George Crozier, at 2037 Delancey Place. Plans provide for a three story addition to be built in the rear, of brick and to measure 19x45 feet, and general interior improvements.

Totten & Rogers, architect, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owners, State Board of Trustees for Insane. Dr. Maucher, chairman, at Farnhurst, Del., for a two story brick and frame hospital, 120x50 feet, to be built at that place. This hospital is estimated to cost $9,000. Bids go in November 6th.

Architect Thomas Bennett, 1022 Walnut street, has invited estimates on 77 residences to be erected on Chester avenue and 49th street and 51st street, Farson street and Springfield avenue. They will be two and three story, built of brick and will contain all modern improvements. Bids due October 31st, and work will start the middle of November.

M. H. Dickinson, 2d, architect and engineer, Real Estate Building, is preparing preliminary plans for a new residence to be built in West Philadelphia, the owner's name and the exact location withheld for the present. It will be three story high, built of brick and will cost about $8,000. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all the up-to-date improvements.

Duhring Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to a residence to be built at Rosemont, Pa. Plans provide for a three story rear addition to be built of frame and stone, 40x20 feet, and general interior improvements to the present residence. Bids due in about 10 days' time.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new factory to be built in the 33d Ward. It will measure 100x80 feet. One portion will be three stories high and the other one story high. It will be built of brick and slow burning construction, and will be equipped with tower fire escape and will have all appointments of a first class factory. Bids due November 1. Kendrick & Roberts are bidding.

C. F. Brooke, architect, 14 South Broad street, has completed plans and specifications for office building and stable to be built at 18th and Oregon avenue for Crean Bros. They will be built of stone and brick. The office building will be two story high, with the usual appointments. The stable will also be two story high. The first floor will contain 10 stalls, the second floor, hay loft, etc. Will be ready for bids in about 1 week's time.

W. F. Koelle & Co., architects and engineers, Heed Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a mill malt storage and stock house to be built at Frankford, Philadelphia, for A. Erdrich & Sons. It will be four stories high and will be built of brick and fireproof construction. Bids due October 31st. The following builders have been invited to bid: Jno. R. Wiggins, A. Raymond Raff, Geo. C. Dietrich and W. R. Dougherty.

J. Jerome Deery, architect, Betz Building, is working on plans and specification for the interior finishing of the new R. C. Church of St. Veronica, situated at Christopher above Washington street, New York. The work will include alters, pews, stained glass windows, etc.—Mr. Deery has also been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications to govern the erection of new church, rectory and school house for the new parish of the St. Matthews Roman Catholic congregation to be situated at 67th street and Amsterdam avenue, New York. We will be able to give more details later.

T. Mitchell Hastings, architect, 328 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a stable to be built at Rosemont, Pa., for Powell Evans, Esq. It will be two story frame and stone. The first floor will contain stalls, carriage house, harness rooms, etc., the second floor, men's quarters and hay loft. Bids due October 31st. The following are bidding: Chas. Gilpin, of this city; Grays Bros., of Rosemont, Pa.; F. H. Mahan, Ardmore; H. P. Wolf, of Bryn Mawr, and J. D. Lenole, of Wayne, Pa.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, have completed plans and specifications and requesting bids for 16 two story dwelling houses to be built at 54th and Grays avenue, for Mr. Geo. W. Uber. They will have a front of Pompeian brick, with red slate roof, with handsome porches on the front. They will measure 14x39 feet, and will contain all up-to-date appointments. Plans can now be seen at Mr. Miller's office. Bids due in one week's time.—In the same office plans and specifications have been prepared and owner will take bids for a new porico for the North Wales National Bank, at North Wales, Pa. It will have copper tile roof, stone base and colonial columns.

Thomas Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple Camden, N. J., is working on plans for a new cottage for Mr. Reynolds, to be built at Wildwood, N. J. It will be two and a half stories high, built of frame with shingle sides and roof. It will have a porch on the front and will contain all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in a short while.—He is also engaged on plans and specifications to govern the erection of a new house to be built in Camden, N. J., for Dr. Gross. It will be two stories high and will be built of brick and will contain the usual appointments. Will be ready for estimates in one week's time.—Mr. Stephens is also engaged on plans and specifications and will send same out to builders for extensive alterations and addition to the residence of Mr. Harold Refsnyder at Langhorne, Pa.

—In the same office has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owners who will receive bids for a new office building, two stories high, and a one story warehouse, 100x200 feet to be built of brick and slow burning construction, which will be an addition to the Keystone Leather plant to be built at 16th and Mickel streets, Camden, N. J.—In the course of a few days he will request bids on alterations and additions to the store property of I. H. Lee, 312 Market street, Camden, N. J.

The architectural achievements of the Romans deserve the greatest admiration. The Greeks have the boast of having formed their temple from an idea so that everything was in keeping, but the Romans, although they did not invent new forms, had the wit to develop and combine existing forms so as to supply appropriately the demands of an imperial city, the capital of the world. They managed to solve the discord between columns and arches, and used them together. The taste of the Romans was not so delicate as that of the Greeks, who always managed to hit the happy mean between too much simplicity and over-elaboration; the Romans pile on all sorts of ornament to increase the effect, but they surpass the Greeks in their management of large spaces, for their buildings were practically unlimited in size and became models for imitation owing to the ingenuity of the grouping together of large and small rooms, so that each should be in the right place and serve its purpose, and yet be subordinate to the effect of the whole. A great architect and archaeologist has said that the art of building in imperial Rome was the art of ruling the world expressed in stone.—The Architect.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1902, the total alien immigration reached the enormous total of 730,798, an increase of 167,930 over the previous year. In only one previous year, 1882, has that total been exceeded, which shows plainly that the present demand for unskilled labor is greater than it has been for twenty years. It is noticeable that very few of these newcomers have any desire to settle on the land. For the most part they announce their intention of going to one of the four cities of New York, Philadelphia, Boston or Chicago—indicating plainly that it is in the great works of city improvement that laborers are most needed at present. Doubtless they spread to a certain extent afterwards, but many remain and view the number of large constructional jobs, which will succeed each other in New York throughout the next ten years, they will remain to a larger extent than usual in this city. In fact it would not be surprising to see a bigger proportional increase in population in the Greater New York during the current than during the last decade. The character of this immigration, if not very much worse than it formerly was, is at least very different. The Germans and the Irish have become practically negligible quantities. The great mass of the immigrants derive from Italy, Russia or Austria-Hungary; they are mostly South Italians, Hungarians or Slave of one kind or another. In view of the prospect that during the current fiscal year, even the large totals of last year will be exceeded, it is probable that a stronger demand than ever will arise in favor of some effective restriction. If the labor unions ever come to demand it, some qualifying law will doubtless be passed; but it has yet to be proved that any further restriction would not be a mistake. It seems impossible to predict in advance how well any particular class of immigrants will assimilate. When the Polish and Russian Jews first began to arrive in large numbers, their coming was regarded with a consternation, which has of late years been shown up as quite unnecessary. These Jews are adapting themselves to American life with great celerity, and are building up a community of their own on the East Side, which promises to be a valuable addition to the total sum of New York society. The Italians have, perhaps, shown less power of adaptability than have any other people. They cling tenaciously to their customary ways, and return to Italy as soon as they make a little money. At the same time they show qualities, with which this country can ill afford to dispense. A time for restrictive laws may come; but to pass them at the present time would be a severe blow to the economic, and perhaps to the social development of the United States.

Architect Notes.

T. Mitchel Hastings, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has plans nearly finished for a large stable to be built at Dublin, Vt., for Mrs. Isaac Norris. It will be built of stone and shingle, 40x75 ft, and will have the usual sanitary stable appointments.

Hale & Morse, associate architects, Drexel Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to owner, Mr. James Neale, of Minersville, Pa., for a new residence to be built at that place. It will be two stories high, built of stone and plaster, with shingle roof and will contain the usual appointments.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a two and half story frame and shingle residence to be built near Bryn Mawr, Pa., for Mr. W. Brewster Tabor. Bids due November 6th. The following builders are bidding: Mr. Worrell & Grey Bros., of Rosemont; W. R. Dougherty, Emory Gibeau, Jacob Myers, Jno. R. Wiggins & Co., F. L. Hoover & Sons, of this city.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, have plans in the course of preparation for a stone parochial hall and gate lodge for the Rock Creek R. C. Church, in the suburbs of Washington, D. C.—Also working on plans for alterations and addition to the residence of W. H. Ridgway, at Coatesville, Pa. Plans provide for a three story rear addition of stone and brick and general interior improvements to the residence.

Newman, Woodman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new dormitory to be built at Jacob Tome Institute, at Port Deposit, Md. It will be two stories high, 136x34 ft, and will be built of stone. The following builders are bidding: Doyle & Doak, Geo. F. Payne & Co., Thos. M. Seeds, John Duncan, Lewis Havens & Sons. Bids due November 7th.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, is working on plans for a new summer residence to be built at Asbury Park, N. J., for Henry M. Miller, of New York. It will be two and a half stories high, 35x50 feet, and will be built of frame and shingle, and will have a porch on three sides. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

Wilson Bros., & Co., architects and engineers, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for one story addition to the present three story warehouse of Fels & Co., 73d and Woodland avenue. Bids due November 8th. The following builders are bidding: Burd P. Evans, W. R. Dougherty, J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Geo. F. Payne, Jno. R. Wiggins & Co., Wm. A. Hurlock & Sons, Lewis Havens & Sons.

C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new residence to be built at Rockledge, near Fox Chase, Pa., for Mr. Edward A. Murphy. It will be two stories high, 32x36 feet, built of stone and frame, with porch on front and shingle roof. It will contain 7 rooms and bath and will have all modern conveniences. Bids due November 11th. Jos. Ashby, Monroe Stout and D. W. Sperry are bidding.

W. C. Pritchett, Jr., architect, 420 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to the residence of Mr. Walter Lippincott at Bryn Mawr, Pa. Plans provide for a new wing to be three stories high of stone and frame. The following builders are bidding: Jas. Bradin, Appleton & Burrell, Milton Young, of Overbrook, Pa., and Frank Mahan, of Ardmore. Bids due November 10th.

Geo. I. Lovatt, architect, 420 Walnut street, has been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications to govern the erection of the handsome new cathedral for the Roman Catholic parish, of St. Patrick, to be built on West State street, Harrisburg, Pa. It will be built of stone with two corner towers and will measure 120x150 feet. The interior will be handsomely finished in marble and mosaic work with marble altars and stained glass windows, and when completed will be one of the finest edifices the State.

Chas. E. Oelschlaeger, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications for minor alterations and new basement laundry to 1710 Locust street, for Letitia M. Thompson estate. The following builders are bidding: Stacey Reeves & Sons, W. R. Dougherty, Jacob Myers & Sons. Bids due November 7th at noon.—The same architect is working on plans and specifications and will send same out the latter part of this week for estimates for alteration to the restaurant of Joseph Kerr at 101-103 South 10th street. Plans provide for altering the adjoining property into a cafe. It will be handsomely fitted up with all the up-to-date cafe appointments. Bids are due November 14th.

Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for building number four for the Lester Piano Company, to be built at Lester, Pa. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 5, 1902

Obituary.

Mr. Walter Cope, of Cope & Stewardson, architects, at 320 Walnut street, died on Saturday morning last, at his late home in Germantown.

Mr. Cope was well known throughout the country as an architect of rare ability and the possessor of many personal accomplishments.

He was 43 years of age and had been connected with the firm for many years.

He made the plans for many prominent buildings, such as the Law School Dormitory buildings of the University of Pennsylvania, Princeton University, Bryn Mawr College, Fort Washington College at St. Louis, Mo. The Asylum for the Blind at Overbrook and many others.

He was the son of the late Thomas P. Cope, of Germantown.

Notice of Removal.

The Pittsburg Plate Glass Co., announces its removal to its new Pitscain building at the Northeast corner of 17th and Arch streets.

The announcement is in the shape of an engraved circular on cardboard, which is more than usually interesting, because it, in an official way, places on record the wonderful resources of the company in both its many manufacturing plants as well as in its commercial facilities.

The company has, as will be seen from the circular, nine different factories constantly producing plate glass and its product embraces all sizes, shapes and thickness. It has twenty-one warehouses in as many large cities throughout the country and it is gratifying to be able to state that its Philadelphia warehouse and eight story building, is beyond all question the best and handsomest structure devoted to the distribution of its products.

The name chosen for the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co.'s new building, "The Pitscain," while introduced for the first time in this respect in Philadelphia, has been identified with the largest business interests of the State for many years, as the Pitscains of Pittsburg are noted for their aggressive business efforts in both commercial and railroad interests.

The new building was named after Mr. John Pitscain, the president of the company. Hewitt Bros. were the architects and J. E. & A. L. Pennock, the contractors.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

It is stated that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company has decided to construct a power house at the junction of the Bustleton and Bristol turnpikes, above Frankford. W. S. Twining, engineer for the company, will prepare the plans.

Mantle Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth street, has awarded the contract to Hitchings, & Co., of New York, to build the graperies at the residence of Mr. F. W. Taylor, Chestnut Hill. Plin. Masonry, cement and carpenter work not included in this contract.

Frank E. Wallace, W. R. Dougherty, Jas. A. Bradin, R. C. Ballinger & Co., Jho. R. Wiggins, & Co., and Thomas Seeds, Jr., have filed bids on revised plans and specifications for the house to be built at 124 Van Pelt street, known as number 380, with Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street.

C. W. Macfarlan, builder, will erect seven dwellings on Arch street, east of 52d street, and six on Paxton street, south of Arch street. They will be two story and attic high and will measure 16x24 feet, with a rear addition 12x32 feet. They will have mansard roof and will be built of brick and stone with all up-to-date improvements.

Joseph Yeager, mantels, tiles and mosaics, 817 Spring Garden street, has the contract for all tile and mosaic work on 120 bath rooms in the Hamilton Court Apartment House, 30th and Chestnut streets. Mr. Yeager furnished the tile ceiling in the new laboratory building of the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital, 17th and Cherry streets.

Geo. F. Payne Co., builders, 409 South Juniper street, have plans posted for alterations and additions to the summer residence of Mr. Thos. Dolan, at Newport, R. I. Plans provide for a three story addition of stone and general interior improvements. Bids due November 6th. Plans and specifications by Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title Building.

The following builders have filed bids with Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, on revised plans and specifications as prepared by them for the handsome new hotel to be built at Spring Lake, N. J. Details previously noted. J. E. & A. L. Pennock, Thomas Riggs, Cramp & Co., of Philadelphia, and Borden Bros., of Lakewood, N. J.

Thomas Seeds, Jr., builders, 1216 Race street, has been awarded the contract to build the new building for the Darby and Lansdowne Saving Fund and Trust Company, at Lansdowne, Pa. It will be two story, 33x50 feet, and will be built of stone with slate roof and will have usual bank appointments. Plans and specifications by Bunting & Shrigley, architects, 140 North 15th street.

J. Sims Wilson, builder, 1125 Brown street, has been awarded the contract to build the proposed cab call booth at the Reading Terminal and to build the two new signal towers for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, one to be built at Bridgeport and the other at Norristown, Pa. They will be stone and frame with the usual signal tower appointments. Work will proceed at once.

Geo. Ash, builder, 4151 Warren street, has been awarded the contract to build the three new residences at Noble Station, Pa., for Thomas Becket, Louis F. Paret and Thos. K. Ober, Jr. They will be two and a half stories high and will measure 33x40 feet, and will be built of stone and timber, and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans and specifications by Harry L. Reinhold, Jr., architect, 430 Walnut street.

W. J. Grubler, builder, 77 Herman street, have been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to the residence of Walter M. Gorham, near Wissahickon. Work includes new stone addition, interior alterations, such as open plumbing work, hot air heating, new stairways and electric work. Plans and specifications by Mantle Fielding, Jr., 110 South 4th street. The marble, tile and electric work is not included in this contract.

A. Raymond Raff, 1635 Thompson street, builders, has been awarded the contract to convert Nos. 629-31-33 North Broad street, into an automobile warehouse at a cost of $5000.

Isaac Clothier has sold to Martin E. Greenhouse, No. 1315-17 Filbert street, 42x150 feet, for a nominal consideration, subject to a mortgage of $65,000 and has purchased from the same party No. 1027 Market street, 26.5x300 feet 7/8, also for a nominal consideration.

Cramp & Co., builders, 1421 Filbert street, have plans posted for an 8 story bank building to be erected at Savannah, Ga., for the Germania Bank of that place. It will have an ornamental front of stone and terra cotta and will have every appointment of a first class bank. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and will have a passenger and freight elevator. Bids due November 15th. Plans and specifications by Bruce & Morgan, architects, Atlanta, Ga.

Jno. Wanamaker has purchased the lot on the west side of Broad street, between Christian and Catharine streets, from the Jefferson Hospital corporation for the sum of $125,000. It is reported on this lot he will erect a building to be known as the Bethany College, which will be as large as the boys' high school, with accommodations for not less than 2,000 students. In a short time an architect will be commissioned to prepare plans to govern the erection of this structure and work will probably be started in the spring.

Frings & Fluck, hardwood floors, etc., 228 South 8th street, have been awarded the following contracts: Parquetry floors in Philadelphia Club, 13th and Walnut streets; dwellings, 2010 DeLancey place; Mr. Thos M. Seeds, Jr., residence at Pelham, Germantown; planing floors in Bungalow, Ridley Park, Pa.; Mr. Goodman's houses, Chestnut Hill; dwelling, 2203 Walnut street; floor laying and planing at 266 South 16th street; four houses on Pine street, near 43d street, and Penn Sugar Refining Building, Beach and Shackamaxon streets.

Hot Water

for heating large or small dwellings is a perfect revelation to those who are not acquainted with its wonderful potency even under adverse conditions.

Successful Heating and Economy in Coal Consumption is only attained through the efficiency and reliability of the boiler.

As a horse is only as good as his legs, so also a hot water heating plant is only as good as its boiler.

This MF trade mark is stamped on every sheet of the best roofing tin made. This MF mark means "Most Favored," because this brand is most favored by architects, dealers, and builders everywhere. MF Roofing Tin was first made in Wales 50 years ago—later the process was improved in America—and the product developed, until now MF Roofing Tin is more in demand than any other brand. The superior quality of MF Roofing Tin is attested by the first prize awarded it at the Paris Exposition, 1900, where it was in competition with all the world.

The entire tinning process is effected by skilled hand labor, without the use of acids or rolls. The very best plates, a great amount of pure tin and new lead, the utmost care in manufacture, successively contribute to making MF the best of all roofing. It is most economical, because it lasts longest—many roofs made of MF 50 years ago are sound as ever today. MF Roofing Tin is sold by dealers everywhere. Specify it in your building estimates. Ask your roofer,

Architect Notes.

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, are working on plans and specifications and will send same out this week for alteration and addition to the house and stable of George R. Yarrow at New Centreville, Pa. Plans provide for a new wing to be built of stone and to measure 50x23 feet, with the general interior improvements to the residence. New porch and all the up-to-date appointments. The interior of the stable will also be re-arranged and modernized.

Carl P. Berger, architect, South Penn Square Building, has plans and specifications in the course of preparation to govern the erection of 76 twin dwellings to be built in the suburbs. The owner's name and exact location withheld for the present. They will be three stories high and will be built of brick and stone with porch fronts, the interior will be in hardwood finish and they will have every modern convenience. We will give further details later.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new store property to be built at 1615 Chestnut street, for Craig Heberton and to be occupied by John S. Graham, as a show room for carpets and rugs. It will be five stories and basement high, and will have an ornamental front of stone. (Details previously noted in these columns.) Bids are due November 14th and the following builders have been invited to bid: Stacey Reeves, Doyle & Doak, W. R. Dougherty and Thomas Little & Sons.

Joseph Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building, has completed plans and specifications to convert the Elkins mansion at Broad and Stiles streets, into an apartment house. Plans provide for the addition of seven stories on the present building, making it a nine-story, fireproof, brick and stone structure, measuring about 20x150 feet, and will be known as the Majestic Apartment House. The interior will be fitted up in the most elaborate style and will contain 150 suites. Doyle & Doak are bidding.

George Flack Sansbury, Cumberland, Maryland, has prepared plans for a dwelling to be erected at Mount Savage, Maryland, for Mr. W. Bladen Lowndes. It will be two stories high, of frame, hardwood interior finish, two bath rooms, open fireplaces, steam heat, leaded glass, all modern conveniences.—Also plans for a dwelling to be erected at Rawlings, Maryland, for ex-Governor Lloyd Lowndes.—Also plans for a frame dwelling for Mr. Cyril B. Geare, of Cumberland. Steam heat, leaded glass, fine bath rooms, etc.—Also plans for two frame dwellings, for A. H. Amick and D. P. Miller.—Also plans for an addition to the Methodist Church at Hyndman, Pa. The addition will be 19x60 feet, with tower 40 feet high, hard wood finish, steam heating, new pews, sliding partitions, etc. Architect wants catalogue of pews for the auditorium.

Architect J. P. Brenot, Oil City, Pa., has prepared plans for a building to be erected at Rouseville, Pa., for Mr. Frank Nichols of that place. It will be fitted up for hotel purposes and will be of press brick and sandstone, iron, steel and wire work, skylight, gas and electric fixtures, venetian blinds, porcelain bath tubs, steam heat, modern conveniences. The cost will be about $8,000. Bids for its construction will be received until November 15th.—Also plans by same architect for a Roman Catholic Church to be erected at Rossiter, Pa. It will cost about $8,000. Press brick, sand stone trimmings, cathedral glass, steam heat, gas and electric fixtures, all modern conveniences. Bids will be received after January 1, 1903, by the Pastor, Rev. Jno. De Ville, Walston, Pa.

Carl P. Berger, architect, South Penn Square Building, is working on plans and specifications for alterations and addition to house 215 North 11th street for Dr. W. W. Fritz. The addition will be a back building of brick, 17 feet 6 in x 53 feet, to be three stories and basement high. The plans also include entire re-building and finishing of interior and exterior of the above residence, and will include large open hall, dining room, sitting room, bay windows, sewing room, pantry and office basement, kitchen, new bath, study and bed rooms. There will be a lift from kitchen to roof flat. This flat will be handsomely treated by the use of railing columns and trellace. The work will include steam heating, electric wiring, plumbing, mantels, leaded glass, hardwood finishing. Will be ready for bids the end of this week.

M. H. Dickinson, 2d, architect and engineer, Real Estate Building, will send to Frank D. Williams, builder, 1634 Susquehanna avenue, on Saturday, of this week, the drawings and specifications for his "1903" operation, consisting of 120 houses to be erected on Ontario, 18th and Gratz streets, Tioga. They will be two and three stories high, with all modern improvements. The houses on Ontario street will be especially attractive, having Pompeian brick, terra cotta and copper fronts and a specially prepared plan of steam heating, etc.

The same architect has been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications for a colonial house to be erected in West Philadelphia, to measure 35x51 feet, to be three stories high and to contain 22 rooms. To have baths, open stairs, to contain all modern appointments, such as steam heat, wired for electricity, tile works, porches, etc., and will cost about $10,000. The owner's name and exact location withheld.—Mr. M. H. Dickinson is also busy on other preliminary work, which will be announced later.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, will complete plans and specifications and will send same out this week for alterations and to the residence of W. H.

Ridgeway, at Coatesville, Pa. Plans provide for a rear addition to be three stories high and to be built of brick and frame. There are also general interior improvements to be made to the residence such as steam heat, electric wiring, tile work and open plumbing work.—

The same firm have plans in the course of preparation for a handsome new passenger railway station to be built in New England. It is to be built of Granite and iron and will be fireproof in its construction. The office portion will be two stories high and the waiting room part one story, will have every modern convenience and appointment, and to cost $350,000. Further details later.

—Messrs. Watson & Huckel are working on plans and specifications for a handsome new trust company office building to be built on a corner site in this city. The exact number of stories has not been determined yet. It will be built of brick, stone and terra cotta, and will be fireproof. It will contain all the modern office building appointments. The exact location and owner's name will be given later.

A new departure in house planning to keep pace with modern progress, Architect Chas J. Brooke, 14 South Broad street, is now completing detail working drawings for a series of flats to be erected in this city (the exact location withheld for the present), by a syndicate of New York and Philadelphia capitalists. The financial arrangements are completed and work will proceed as soon as possible. Plans show an entirely new and novel but practical arrangement and certainly solves the problem of moderate cost homes near the centre of the city. The plans take in an entire block and will have a children's playground and park, 128 feet square in the centre, having access to all streets. The flats will be built around this space three stories in height and will be built in pairs. Each will have two complete and up-to-date houses on each floor. Each house will contain six rooms. Bath and pantry and dumb waiter. There will be one public entrance to a pair, through a spacious vestibule leading to a large fireproof stair and elevator hall with a door on each side, leading directly into the private hall of each house. Every room is provided with direct light from the open air. The exterior will be in the colonial style of architecture. In the rear of the building are fire escapes, balconies and stairways of the most approved type leading down to the children's recreation park. The flats will be equipped with all the up-to-date improvements; the interior finish will be in hardwood, steam heating, wiring for electricity, tile bath, etc. The general arrangement of the plans throughout, has been designed to overcome the objections many people have to apartment houses. In this plan you do not have to travel 10 or 12 stories to an over crowded public dining room, but are in your own complete house. Mr. Brooke will have the plans and specifications ready for bids in one month's time.

DEAR SIR:

I Will Contract

to heat your residence, however large or small, with Hot Water, and file a Trust Company's bond for ten times the cost, the same to be forfeited if I fail in any direction.

This means that there shall be more than enough radiation at the smallest possible cost for coal. No leaks, no mistakes, no annoyances of any kind. The boiler to be of the best make.

The responsibility all mine, and the cost no greater because of good work and material.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 12, 1902

Architect Notes

W. F. Wilson, McKeesport, Pa., is preparing plans for a frame dwelling to be erected for John Jones, of McKeesport. It will have slate roof, gas and electric light, furnace heat, mantels, sanitary plumbing and all conveniences.

At Washington, D. C., Architects Didden & Son, Corcoran Building, have prepared plans for a building to occupy the site of the old Lawrence Hotel, on E street, adjoining the National Theatre. The structure will be fitted up for hotel purposes. The owners are Robert Portner and Albert E. Carry.

At South Bethlehem, Pa., Architect A. W. Leh has prepared plans for a church for the Slav congregation at Fifth and Linden streets. The structure will be 56x110 feet, of quarried stone, fine interior finish and all modern conveniences. The present edifice will be fitted up for parochial school purposes.

Arthur H. Brockie, architect, 328 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for alterations to the residence of Mr. J. Lowber Welsh, at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. Plans provide addition to be built to the rear to be two stories high, of stone, 22x27 feet, and general interior improvements. Bids due November 14th. The following builders are bidding: James McGinnis, Geo. S. Roth, C. F. Sharp, Alex. Carr.

Charles Bickel, Methodist Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., is preparing plans for a four story steel construction warehouse to be erected at Shady-side Station, for the Bindley Hardware Company. The structure will be of fireproof construction and will have a floor space of 90,000 feet. The estimated cost is about $275,000.—Architect J. A. Long, Park Building, has prepared plans for remodeling the Baer Block at Somerset, Pa., occupied by the Farmers' Deposit Bank. The proposed improvements will cost about $10,000.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, has plans in the course of preparation for a handsome new residence to be built at 13th and Oak Lane (owner's name withheld). It will be two and a half stories high, 28x40 feet, it will be stone to the first floor and the balance frame and shingle with shingle roof. It will have a porch on front and two sides. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be heated by hot air. Best open plumbing work, tile bath and all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks' time.

Chas Balderson, architect, 411 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for two buildings to be erected at College Station, Md., for the National Vaccine Co., of that place. One of the buildings will be one story high, 103x224 feet, and the other structure will also be one story high, 21 feet square. They will be built of brick. The following builders are bidding: J. E. and A. L. Pennock, of this city; W. Yost Bro., J. F. Lynch Bros., J. L. Marshall, F. W. Carver and J. H. German, of Washington, D. C. Bids due November 14th.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and taking bids on cottage and two hitching sheds for the Briarcliff Congressional Church at Briarcliff, N. Y. The cottage will be two and a half stories high, and will be built of frame and shingle. It will be heated by hot air and will have all modern improvements. The two hitching sheds will be built of yellow pine and will measure 20x125 feet.—The same architect is taking bids on three cottages for Briarcliff Lodge, to be built at that place. They will be two and a half stories high, 56x51 feet and will be built of stone, half timber, with a shingle roof. They will be heated by steam with tile baths and all up-to-date improvements.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The contract for the new Pennsylvania R. R. stone arch bridge across the Brandywine at Coatesville, Pa., has been awarded to John Goll & Co., 4539 Filbert street. It will have 9 spans, width of bridge, 54 feet.

Machin & Brown, builders, 131 North 7th street, have been awarded the contract for a four story addition, 35x72 feet, to the plant of the Hale & Kilburn Manufacturing Company at 44 and 46 North Sixth street. Work will cost $14,000.

J. E. and A. L. Pennock, and Doyle & Doak, builders, are bidding on the large new stable for Clarence Moore, to be built in Washington, D. C. It will be four stories high, 82x43 feet, and will be built of brick and stone and will have the usual sanitary stable appointments. Bids due November 19th. Plans by Bruce & Sibour, architects, New York.

Wm. R. Steele & Sons, Witherspoon Building, have plans posted for alterations and additions to Stead & Miller Mill, at 4th and Cambria streets. Plans provide for a 3 story and basement addition to be built of brick and slow burning mill construction. Bids due November 14th. Plans and specifications by W. R. Steele Sons.

Wm. C. Butler, builder, of Beach Haven, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the new residence for Mr. F. P. Orleman, to be built at Seaside Park, N. J. It will be three stories high, 20x45 feet, with a rear wing 16x12½ feet. It will have a porch on two sides and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans and specifications by Harry Macomb, architect, Real Estate Building.

The Building Season Closes with decided falling off from last year's record.

Tables showing the construction of new Buildings, etc., from January 1 to October 31 inclusive.

4355 new buildings of all kinds erected and now in course of erection costing $21,659,096 exclusive of the cost of the land. A falling off from last year's record for the same months of 324 in new buildings but the investment is greater by $2,133,212.00

1960 Alterations and Additions (costing $300 and more) representing an expenditure of $2,940,000. There were 89 less alterations and additions and the investment is $133,500 less than for the same period last year.

The transfers of Real Estate number 12,906 representing a value of $73,498,759.31 while for the same months last year there were but 10,829 transfers and the value was $69,796,181.09.

It will be seen from the above summary that the construction of new buildings has not been in keeping with our predictions made last July nor are the results in accordance with the new business conditions. Our tables of construction work show 283 less two story dwellings and 136 less three story or a shrinkage in the work of our operative builders of 419 dwellings.

The Wards which are responsible for this falling off are as follows: Sixth Ward, 10; Eighth, 1; Sixteenth, 1; Nineteenth, 1; Twentieth, 1; Twenty-second, 33; Twenty-third, 58; Twenty-fifth, 211; Twenty-sixth, 49; Twenty-eighth, 75; Thirtieth, 6; Thirty-second, 10; Thirty-fifth, 19; Thirty-seventh, 64; Thirty-eighth, 114; Thirty-ninth, 132.

The Wards which show an increase are as follows: First Ward, 1; Seventh, 1; Fifteenth, 2; Eighteenth, 5; Twenty-first, 8; Twenty-fourth, 4; Twenty-seventh, 244; Twenty-ninth, 124; Thirty-first, 2; Thirty-fourth, 57; Thirty-sixth, 123; Fortieth, 85; Forty-first, 127; Forty-second, 129, which being a new Ward has its first record.

The three story dwellings, it will be seen, show a falling off from our tables of last November, of

BUILDING LOTS FOR SALE

In considering ground for a building operation for the coming year we would like to direct attention to some very desirable locations that we have on Fifty-eighth Street, between Baltimore Avenue and Woodland Avenue, in the Fortieth Ward.

Along the line of this street we own somewhat over Fifty Acres of desirable building ground that is now ripe for improvement. Fifty-eighth Street, with its excellent double-tracked trolley service connecting with all east and west lines for one fare, will be unequalled for desirable conditions by any other location the same distance from the centre of the city. In addition to the trolley service we have Angora Station, Pennsylvania Railroad, only three blocks north of our ground, with trains into Broad Street Station in a little more than ten minutes' ride.

Our ground will cut up so as to suit any demands, whether large or small. We have some lots suitable for six-room houses, some suitable for eight-room houses and a little further up some fine lots that would be best adapted for twin houses. If you have any idea of buying for an operation next year we can make you very low prices with most attractive terms.

Pemberton & Company

414 and 415 Girard Bldg. Broad and Chestnut Sts.

Now is the time to make a purchase for the coming year before the price of ground advances. At present we can offer the cheapest ground in West Philadelphia that is located on a trolley line and ready for immediate improvement.

Hot Water

for heating large or small dwellings is a perfect revelation to those who are not acquainted with its wonderful potency even under adverse conditions.

Successful Heating and Economy in Coal Consumption is only attained through the efficiency and reliability of the boiler.

As a horse is only as good as his legs, so also a hot water heating plant is only as good as its boiler.

Moving a Little Faster

THE demand for foreign glass grows less as the quality of the American makes is appreciated. It's a case of makers of the domestic article moving a little faster than their European competitors in adopting improvements in manufacturing. Nothing can stop American push and enterprise.

To-day we can confidently recommend our American Sheet Glass to all architects and builders as fully equal if not superior to the best foreign makes.

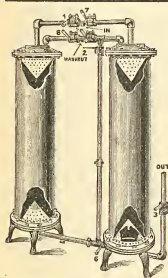

Every facility for prompt and careful fulfillment of all orders entrusted to our care. Your correspondence is invited and will be welcome.

DO IT NOW!!

Insure Your Home, Furniture, Store, etc., in the

DELAWARE

FOUNDED 1835

INSURANCE COMPANY OF PHILA.

Has Paid Over $18,000,000 in Losses

Against Fire

should be adapted to your circumstances, age and occupation.

If you need to emphasize Protection you will buy a Life Policy.

If you wish to combine Savings and Investment with Insurance you will buy an Endowment Policy.

If you are advanced in years and wish to be relieved from financial care you will buy an Annuity Contract assuring you an annual income for life.

If you are undecided as to the kind of Policy, or if you do not now feel able to carry the kind you think you want, THE PENN MUTUAL has a low premium Policy well suited to your case. This Contract enables you to start your Insurance now, and to have your payments credited on any other Policy you may wish to select later—the premium rate of the new Policy to be that of your present age.

The 3 Great Pianos

made by us, with 3 Sounding Boards instead of one

are The Heppe Piano
The Marcellus Piano
The Edouard Jules Piano

PUBLIC LEDGER

June 28, 1902

This invention (three sounding boards instead of one) meets and overcomes the widespread objection to the "muffled tone" in upright pianos. It will be confined exclusively to pianos manufactured by the Heppes.

and are not obtainable elsewhere. They are all Certified Pianos, tested for tone, touch and action by a Jury of Tone Experts who seal their certificates to each good piano.

No other house offers "Certified" Pianos—few have a fixed one-price policy, and none the free exchange system we offer.

We have many used pianos taken in exchange.
Write for our bargain list and terms.

LARGEST OLD BOOK STORE IN AMERICA

Books Bought

If you have a library or a small parcel of books, send your address and we will call and examine them. If you live away from Philadelphia and have a small lot—say of fifty, one hundred, two hundred, three hundred books—not enough to pay us to make a special trip—send us a list and we will let you know by mail how we buy small quantities. We have thousands of such transactions, and never a dissatisfied seller.

Architect Notes

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, is taking bids on steam heating, tile work and stained glass windows, for the new parochial residence of the Church of Our Lady of Victory, 54th and Vine streets. Rev. Father Naulty is the pastor.

Baker & Dallett, architects, Crozer Building, have been commissioned by the Fidelity Trust Company to prepare plans for a five story brick building, 40x200 feet, to replace the structure damaged by fire last spring at 122-24 Chestnut street. We will give further details later.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications for an addition to the residence of Chas. N. Bailey, at Media, Pa. Plans provide for a two story frame addition to be 18 feet square. Bids due November 20th. Jacob Meyers & Sons, are bidding.

Geo. Pearson, architect, 427 Walnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new guild house to be built at Olney, Pa., for St. Albans P. E. Church. It will be one story and basement high, 50x25 feet, and will be built of stone. Bids due November 22.

Architect Notes

At Scranton, Pa., Edward H Davis, Connell Building, has prepared plans for a group of buildings for the almshouse and which will be erected at Hillside Home, near Clark's Summit, Pa. The structures will be of brick and stone, well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences.

Otto C. Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street, is working on plans and specifications to govern the erection of a new plant at Shreveport, La., for the Shreveport Brewing Co., of that place. Plans provide for a brew house, stock house, office building and stable to be built of brick and slow burning construction. Owner will take bids in about to days' time.

Holt & Shober, architects and engineers, Bourse Building, are working on plans and specifications and will send same out this week, for an addition to the Union Market Ice Manufacturing and Cold Storage Co., at Second and Callowhill streets. The structure will be three stories high, two stories will be for cold storage and one story for dry storage. It will be built of brick and steel and will measure 200x75 feet and will be fireproof.

Mantel Fielding, Jr., 110 South Fourth street, has plans in the course of preparation to govern the erection of a handsome new residence to be built at Winchester, Va., for Dr. B. Mitchell Knight. It will be three stories high and will be built of stone and brick with porch on front and sides. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be wired for electricity. Best open plumbing work and will be heated by steam and will have every appointment and convenience.

Heacock & Hokanson, architects, 931 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a one and a half story addition to the plant of the General Artificial Silk Company, to be erected at Nyack and Wycombe avenues, Lansdowne, Pa. It will be built of brick and frame and will measure, 46x31 feet. Bids due Friday, November 28th at 12 o'clock. The following are bidding: W. C. Schuster and Wm. T. Saunders, of Lansdowne, Pa.; H. Marion Zane, F. M. Harris Co., Chas. Gilpin and F. L. Hoover & Sons, of this city.

Newman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for alterations and additions to the residence of Mr. George Crozier at 2027 Delancey place. Plans provide for a three story addition to be built of brick and to measure 19x45 feet, and general interior improvements. Bids due November 29th. The following builders are bidding: Jacob Myers & Son, Thomas Seeds, Jr., J. P. Thompson, Lewis Havens & Sons, Jno R Wiggins & Co., and John Duncan. Hales & Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have plans in the course of preparation for a manufacturing building to be built in the centre of the city at the present time two stories and basement will be built but when finally completed it will be five stories high. The first floor will measure 119x100 feet. The second floor 119x57. This structure will be brick walls, re-inforced with concrete. This manner of construction is entirely new in this part of the country. Will be ready for bids in one week's time.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, has plans and specifications in course of preparation for janitor's house, to be erected on the adjoining lot of the new parish building that is to be built at 21st and Naudain streets, for St. Patrick R. C. Church. It will be three stories high, 15x48 feet, and will be built of Sawyer Fisher brick with Indiana limestone trimmings. It will conform in architecture with the proposed new structure. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will have all up-to-date improvements. Plans will be ready for bids in about three weeks' time.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

M. M. Griffin, of 1407 Filbert street, is receiving sub-bids for the erection of 94 houses to be built at 58th and Baltimore avenue. They will be two stories high, 16x55 feet and will have ornamental fronts of brick with terra cotta trimmings and will contain all up-to-date improvements.

J. S. Cornell & Sons, builders, Girard Building, have been awarded the contract to build a large addition to the residence of Francis I. Gowen, at Chestnut Hill. (details previously noted.)—Also to make extensive alterations to the residence of Mr. E. B. Smith, at Gwynned, Pa. This alteration is to cost $15,000. Plans and specifications by Arthur H. Brockle, architect, 228 Chestnut street.

Frank E. Wallace, building, 1017 Chestnut street, is requesting sub-bids on alterations and additions to Gardiner Cottage at the county seat of Edward N. Benson, Esq., at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. Plans provide for a two story addition of brick and frame and general interior improvements. Bids due December the first. Plans and specifications by C. C. Zantinger, architect, 263 South Fourth street.

The following builders have filed bids with Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street, for a large new brew house to be built at Germantown and Columbia avenues, for Theo. Finkenaar. It will be six stories, semi fireproof structure 50x79 feet. Jno. H. Gill, Stacey Reeves & Sons, Lewis Havens & Sons, The Charles McCaul Co., R. M. Peterson, George Kessler, Roydhouse Avery Co., W. A. Hurlock & Sons and A. Raymond Raff.

H. Marion Zane, Hale Building, builder, has been awarded the contract to build stable carriage house and coachman house for J. R. Seltzer at Highland avenue, Merion, Pa. It will be two storie high, built of stone and frame, 60x26 feet. Plans by Chester H. Kirk, architect, Harrison Building.

Frank E. Wallace, builder, 1017 Chestnut street, has been awarded the contract to build the house 380, at 124 Van Pelt street. It will be three stories high and will be built of brick and will contain all modern improvements. Plans and specifications by Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street.

Thomas Seed, Jr., builder, 1216 Race street, has been awarded the contract to erect the handsome new Jacob Tome Institute Building at Port Deposit, Md. It will be a four story granite structure, 40x30 feet (details previously noted), and will cost $80,000. Plans and specifications by Newman & Harris, architects, Real Estate Building. Work will proceed at once.

The following builders have filed bids with Architects Newman & Harris, Real Estate Building for alteration and addition to the residence of Mr. Thomas Bohanon, at 19th and Mt. Vernon streets. (Details of this work previously noted in these columns.) R. C. Balenger & Co., J. R. Whiteside & Son, J. W. Pierson, Jacob Myers & Sons, John R. Wiggins, J. P. Thompson and Thos. M. Seeds, Jr. John N. Gill, builder, of the Heed Building, has been awarded the contract to build a two story brick addition to the plant of H. Swoboda, at American and Wilcey streets, contract price $7,000. Plans and specifications by Otto Herold, architect, 441 Chestnut street.

The Lalor Engineering Company, 1305 Arch street, have completed plans and specifications and are taking estimates to go in December 10th, on a large, new plant to be built at New Kensington, Pa., for the Westmoreland Boiler Co. The plans provide for the erection of a one story brick and steel foundry, 27x50 feet, a machine shop, 50x80 feet; a cleaning house, 50x50 feet; a boiler house, 17x50 feet, and a three story storehouse, 40x75 feet. All to be built of brick and slow burning construction. This work is estimated to cost $90,000.

The Property Committee of the Board of Education has acted favorably on a number of propositions to purchase lots as sites for new school buildings in the Twelfth Section the purchase of number 524 Buttonwood street for $55,000 and number 526 for $8,000, were recommended. The lots adjoin the Paxson School, Number 317 Callowhill street, adjoining the Saundser School, in the same Ward, will be purchased for $3500. A lot on Hunting Park avenue and Marshall and Locoming streets, in the Thirty-third Section, is to be purchased for $15,000. In the Thirty-fourth Ward, the Committee agreed to offer $25,000 for a lot at Fifty-third and Race streets, for which the owner asks $30,000. In the Fourth Ward, condemnation proceedings will be asked for lots including 610 to 623 South 9th street. In Fifth Section 130 South Third street, will be purchased for $6000 for additional ground for the Wharton School.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 26, 1902

Obituary

The death of Architect Joseph M. Wilson, the head of the well-known firm of Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, 1030 Drexel Building, makes another break in the ranks of the capable and efficient architects of Philadelphia. Mr. Wilson died in his office on Monday morning last. He had suffered from heart trouble for a long time. He resided at 1106 Spruce street.

Beautifying Cities

There has been no one agent so far-reaching in its effect in beautifying cities as the street paving material, whether it be block, brick or asphalt, says the Dayton Herald. When gravel or cobbles or boulders were done away with and brick or asphalt was substituted for the improvement and building of streets the first foundation of clean and handsome cities was laid. These materials have not only enabled the making of clean and noiseless streets but they have forced other improvements—better sidewalks, graceful curbing and a general fixing up of residence fronting, no matter in what part of the city they have been put. Asphalt and cement have worked wonders, have become substitutes for stone and at a much less cost. There never has been such a sentiment for beautifying cities as there is now, and in many places persons are devoting all their energies to the work, not for profit but for the general good. Future generations will rise up and call them blessed.

Cement Copings

Herr Girr, of Herborn, Germany, has patented a method of making water-tight coping for tunnel arches. The inventor employs slabs made of choice Portland Cement, mixed with pure river sand and the proportion of 1 to 3, and rounded like the exterior of the arch. Their dimensions are 2 feet 6 inches by 3 feet 3 inches by 2 feet 3 inches and 1½ inches thick. Their outer surface is corrugated and there are shallow grooves to carry away water from the top of the arch to the ground. The water can, therefore, never run lengthwise along the arch. The slabs overlap each other 4 inches transversely; and longitudinally they fit together at an obtuse angle—The joints being covered with asphalt, pasteboard or tarred zinc.

They are laid in cement upon the extrados of the arch, and are not subject to any strain. If, as the result of carelessness in construction, any of them happened to break, the appearance of damp spots on the intrados would soon reveal the damage which can be remedied by the injection of cement. It is claimed for the system that it is as cheap as ordinary copings, while being far better.—Exchange.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1902.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes

Architect Hugh J. Riley, New York City, has been commissioned to prepare plans for a market house and water works to be erected by the city of Cienfuegos, Cuba, the cost is given as about $4,000,000.

Boyd & Myton, Johnstown, Pa., have prepared plans for a handsome two story brick and stone dwelling to be erected for Mr. James Thomas. It will be finely finished and provided with modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $17,000.

S. C. Richards, Doan Building, Braddock, Pa., has prepared plans for a building to be fitted up for business purposes. It will be four stories high, of brick and stone and will occupy a site at Liberty and Braddock avenues. The owner is Benjamin Braznell. It will be well finished, thoroughly equipped and will cost about $25,000.

Porter & Gainsford, Butler, Pa., have prepared plans for two stores and flat building to be erected at Millville, Pa., for Thomas Lang, of that place.—The same architects have made plans for a two story hotel and store to be erected at Grove City, Pa., for F. K. Squire, of Grove City, Pa. The structure will be well finished, provided with modern conveniences and will cost about $10,000.

Chas. W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherpoon Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owners, who will take bids for a new edifice for the Olivet Presbyterian congregation of Easton, Pa. It will be a one story structure of brick, with a tower and will measure 100x75 feet. It will have the usual church furnishings and will be heated by steam and wired for electricity.

It is reported that a new church is to be built at Franklin and Allegheny avenue, for the congregation of the Allegheny Avenue Baptist Church. Rev. Dr. Steel is the pastor. The proposed edifice is to be one story and basement high, and will measure 98x125 feet and will be built of stone. A firm of Philadelphia architects is engaged on plans and specifications to govern the erection of the same.

M. H. Dickinson, 24, architect and engineer, will send plans and specifications out to builders on or about December the tenth, for a handsome colonial house to be known as work number 23, and to be erected at 46th and Spruce streets. It will be three stories high and will be built of black header brick with every appointment of a colonial residence. It will contain 20 rooms. Details of this work previously noted in these columns.

David Knickerbocker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has sent plans and specifications to F. T. Maguire, builder, 1720 Sansom street, for an approximate bid for a new residence for Mr. C. S. Walton, to be built at St. Davids, Pa. It will be two and a half stories high, built of frame with stone foundation and will measure 22x60 feet. It will have a porch on front; the interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain all up-to-date improvements.

The Messiah Protestant Episcopal Church at Broad and Federal streets, is to be remodelled, the plans call for change of front of the edifice from Federal street to Broad street, and to the rear will be a Sunday School building, in which will be accommodations for the vestry and societies of the congregation as well as a gymnasium and club room. It is estimated that these changes will cost $12,000. $5,000 has been contributed and as soon as the balance has been raised work will proceed.

Chas. W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherpoon Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same to the owners, who will estimate for a new building for St. Stephen's Reformed Church at Perkasi, Pa. It will be built of stone, 60x110 feet. The first floor will be an auditorium to seat about 450 people and a Sunday School room with accommodations for 500 children. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity, with stained glass windows, etc. Hurd P. Evans and John W. Fritzinger are bidding.

C. J. Brooke, architect, 74 South Penn Square Building, has been commissioned by Mr. M. C. Shopshire to prepare plans and specifications for a new residence to be built at Collingdale, Pa. It will be two stories and attic high and will be built of frame with stone foundation and will measure 30x34 feet. It will have a porch on front, the interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans will be ready by date the latter part of this month.

Philip H. Johnson, architect, Fidelity Building, has completed plans and specifications and bids have been invited for the eight pavilions for consumptives to be erected for the Department of Charities and Correction Bureau of Charities at 34th and Pine streets. They will be one story and basement, built of brick and steel and will be so constructed that they can be moved around, so as to have the sun on the buildings at all times. All bids are due at noon December 6th, to Dr. John V. Shoemaker, president of the board of Charities and Correction, Room 305, City Hall. H. B. Shomaker & Co., is bidding.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, is working on plans and specifications for a colonial residence to be built at Vine land, N. J., for D. Harry Chandler. It will be two stories and attic high, 45x50 feet. It will have a porch on each end, with an entrance porch on the front. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be heated by hot water, wired for electricity and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Will be ready for bids in about two weeks.—The same architect has been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications to govern the erection of a new edifice for the Baptist congregation to be built at 4th avenue and Harry street, Conshohocken, Pa. It will be one story high, 60x90 feet, and will be built of stone with slate roof and will contain church and Sunday School rooms. It will be heated by steam, wired and lighted by electricity, will be ready for bids in about two weeks' time.

Architect Elmer F. Jacobs, Morgantown, W. Va., reports, residence, estimated cost, $5,000, for Jno. H. Krepps, Morgantown, W. Va. Architect Elmer F. Jacobs, Morgantown, W. Va., taking bids, will close December 10th, frame construction, 40x42 feet, two stories and finished attic, slate roof, warm air heating, oak, pine and poplar finish, gas-electric lighting. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 3, 1902

Mr. Howard B. French, the head of the well-known building material firm of Samuel H. French & Co., 4th and Callowhill streets, has been elected by the Board of Directors, President of the Equitable Trust Company, to succeed Mr. Wm. F. Harriety, who resigned owing to the pressure of personal and professional business.

Mr. French's selection as the executive head of a large financial institution is highly complimentary as a personal recognition of his sterling character and ability. He represents the highest type of the successful business man as the head of a house which for over 50 years has been known throughout the country for its strict and unswerving adherence to correct business morals as well as methods.

Mr. French's learning and business experience well qualifies him for his new duties, and inasmuch as he has been a director of the institution since its organization, he is entirely familiar with its business. The Board is to be congratulated for its wise selection.

Architect Notes

Foster Garrison, Vandergrift, Pa., has prepared plans for a brick and stone store and apartment house to be erected at Vandergrift for Mr. H. J. Kuhns. It will be well finished throughout and will cost about $7,000. Plans will be ready for bids about the middle of December.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Philip Haibach, builder, 26th and Thompson streets, is bidding on a new bakery at 13th and Delaware avenue, Wilmington, Del., for W. & J. C. Frehofer, 23d and Master streets, of this city. It will be two stories high, 180x16 feet and will be built of brick and will have all up-to-date improvements.

Armstrong & Printzenhoff, builders, Land Title Building, have plans posted for a new round house to be built at the Shellpot shop at Edgemoore, Del., for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It will be built of brick and structural steel and will have a capacity for 30 engines. Bids due December 8th.

Jno. R. Wiggins Co., builders, Heed Building, has filed bids with James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, for the new operating room in the infirmary of the Girard College, in accordance with the plans and specifications prepared by him.

E. P. Churchill, builder, with an office on the grounds, has broken ground for an operation of 34 dwellings to be built on the south side of Montana east of Musgrove street. They will be two stories high, 14x26 feet, of brick with galvanized iron cornices and slag roofs. They will contain all modern improvements. This operation will cost about $79,000.

The trustees of the proposed free library building have thus far received no satisfactory offer of a site. Several properties have been offered but most of those offered are too small. A site with an area of not less than 2,500 square feet and centrally located is needed. Mr. J. G. Rosegarten is president of the board of trustees.

H. Marion Zane & W. J. Gruhler, builders have filed bids with Mantle Fielding, Jr., architect, 110 South Fourth street, for a new graper, as designed by him, for Frank W. Taylor, to be built at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. It will be built of stone, brick and iron, and will have glass roof and will measure 50 x17 feet.

Arthur H. Brookie architect, 328 Chestnut street, has awarded the contract for alterations and additions to the residence of John Lowber Welsh, at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, to Builder John Maginnis, of 132 South Fourth street. Plans provide for a new wing to be built of stone and general interior improvements. Work will start at once.

R. C. Ballinger Co., builders, 218 North 13th street, have been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to a house at Rosemont, Pa. Plans provide for a two story rear addition of stone and frame and general interior improvements. This work will cost about $10,000. Plans and specifications by Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building.

The Crane Ice Cream Company now located at 17th and Filbert streets, has purchased from the Armstrong estate, a large plot of ground at 23d and Master streets, on which they will erect a large modern plant, for the manufacture of ice cream and cake. It is reported that the structure will be four stories high, of brick and slow burning construction. The price paid for the land was $35,000.

Wm. R. Steele & Sons, builders, Witherspoon Building, will erect the new factory building and boiler house at Ontario and Kensington avenues for the Lee Hosiery Mill Company. The factory building will be four stories and basement high, 55x200 feet, the boiler house, 30x60 feet, both to be built of brick and slow burning construction. It will have tower fire escape and will have all the appointments of an up-to-date factory. Work will start at once.

Burgess & Parsons, builders, of Washington, D. C., have been awarded the contract to build the new edifice for Rock Creek Protestant Episcopal Congregation at Rock Creek, in the District of Columbia. It will be two stories built of stone in the Gothic style of architecture and will have the usual church furnishings.

Contract price, $10,000. Plans and specifications by Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Joseph Bird, builder, 1029 Race street, has been awarded the contract to build the country residence for William F. Read, at Lansdowne. It will be three stories and attic high; 66x50 feet, and will be built of stone with a porch on front; the interior will be in hardwood finish. It will have open fireplaces, tile and mosaic work, open plumbing, steam heating and will contain all modern conveniences and will cost about $15,000.

Appleton & Burrell, builders, 1206 Chancellor street, will erect the new factory at 1221-33 Spring Garden street, for Mr. Hugo Belgram. At the present time only two story and basement will be built but when fully completed will be five stories high. The first floor of this structure will be 119x100 feet; the second floor 119x57 feet. It will be built of brick, re-inforced with concrete. Plans and specifications by Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street.

Work will be started this week on the handsome new gymnasium for the University of Pennsylvania. Plans contemplate the building of a big gymnasium which will be one of the finest in the country. The putting up of a stone wall entirely around Franklin Field and the erection of great steel stands entirely about the gridiron, the whole improvement will cost $25,000. It is expected that the new stands will be completed in time for the 1903 football season.

Thomas M. Seeds, Jr., builder, 1216 Race street, has been awarded the contract to build the new store property at 1015 Chestnut street, for Craig Heberton, Esq., and will be occupied by John S. Graham as show room. It will be five stories and basement high, 24x158 feet and will have an ornamental front of stone. It will be heated by steam, wired for electricity and will be equipped with elevators, etc. Plans and specifications by Cope and Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street.

The contract for the erection of the new Majestic Apartment house to be built on the site of the Elkins' mansion on the east side of Broad street, above Girard avenue, has been awarded to Doyle & Doak, 1509 Sansom street. The structure will be nine stories high when completed and will be built of brick and stone with terra cotta trimmings and will measure 210x160 feet (details previously noted), and will cost about $300,000. Plans and specifications by Joseph M. Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building.

Andrew Pinkerton, floor layer and plainer, 2432 N 32d street, has been awarded the contracts for laying and planning the floors of the following buildings: Stronell & Fryer, Juniper and Market streets; the factory at Randolph and Jefferson streets; factory at Howard street and Girard avenue; factory 13th and Quarry streets; factory 16th and Westmoreland streets; sub post office building 10th and Columbia avenue; stock exchange 3d and Walnut streets; amex building 13th and Filbert streets; building at 116-18 North 7th street; Dr. Stewart's residence at Ork Lane; Dental Building, 1002 Lehigh avenue; parquetry floors of the Hotel Hamilton, Trenton, N. J.

Hot Water

for heating large or small dwellings is a perfect revelation to those who are not acquainted with its wonderful potency even under adverse conditions.

Successful Heating and Economy in Coal Consumption is only attained through the efficiency and reliability of the boiler.

As a horse is only as good as his legs, so also a hot water heating plant is only as good as its boiler.

The following appropriations are wanted for the next fiscal year: Filtration plant, $1,468,405; sewage disposal system, $565,000; municipal hospital, $250,000; Connecticut avenue bridge, $100,000, making a total of $2,383,405. Liebermann & Hawn have just concluded the sale of the lot at the southwest corner of Columbia road and Mintwood place, Washington Heights, to an apartment house company, for $50,000. The lot contains nearly 20,000 square feet. The location is admirable, being convenient to both car lines and commanding a fine view of Rock Creek valley and the surrounding country. T. F. Schneider has prepared plans for a seven story apartment house to be erected on the above site. The president of the company is S. Walter Woodward, vice president, T. Franklin Schneider; treasurer, E. Southard Parker; director, Phelan C. Hawn, all of Washington, D. C. The same firm, Liebermann and Hawn, have sold ground to George W. Barkman, builder on Cincinnati street, which the new owner will improve by the erection of nine modern dwellings, each to contain eleven rooms and two bath rooms. Fine interior finish, sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences.

Wants

At Erie, Pa., Council has under consideration an ordinance for the construction of a main sewer on the line of Pennsylvania avenue. The estimated cost is $13,000. It is said bids will be called for.

At U. S. Engineer Office, 2001 I street, N. W., Washington, D. C., November 6, 1902, sealed proposals for dredging in Breton Bay, Md., and Lower Machodoc Creek, Va., will be received here until 12 o'clock noon, December 6, 1902, and then publicly opened. Information furnished on application. Chas. J. Allen, Lieut. Col., Engrs.

Architect Notes

Edwin F. Bertolette, architect, Heed Building, has plans in the course of preparation for a pair of twin houses to be built at Asbury Park, N. J. They will be three stories high and will be built of brick and frame and will have the usual appointments.

At Uniontown, Pa., Architect Andrew Cooper, Uniontown, is preparing plans for a frame residence for H. S. Dumbauld, Uniontown, to be erected in Uniontown.—Baird & Barr, Uniontown, received the contract for the erection of the J. Asendorf residence on North Gallatin avenue.

It is reported that Architect W. Fribsy Smith, of 1345 Arch street, is preparing plans and specifications for an amusement building to be erected in the central portion of the city for the Philadelphia Casino Co. Care of H. D. Le Cato, 712 Girard Building. It is to be built of brick, four stories high, 180x100 feet, and estimated to cost $250,000.

Stearns & Castor, architect, Stephen Girard Building, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a new edifice for Alliance Methodist Episcopal congregation to be built at 9th and Wolf streets. It will be two stories high, of stone, with brick sides. It will have the usual church furnishings. We will be able to give more details later.

Chas. W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherpoon Building, have completed plans and specifications for the Meyersdale M. E. Church, of Meyersdale, Pa., and sent same to the following builders: Chas. Otterman, Dravosburg, Pa.; S. W. Wise, Cumberland, Md.; Meyersdale Planning Mill Co., of Meyersdale, Pa., and Wilmuth & Seith, of Meyersdale, Pa. Bids due December 15th.

It is reported that Architect Joseph Huston of the Witherpoon Building, has been commissioned to prepare plans for a handsome office building to be erected on the south side of East Fifth street, opposite Mahon lively stable, Chester, Pa., for owners, Wm. I. Schaffer and Josiah Smith, of that city. Mr. Huston not being in town, this report could not be verified.

Architects H. L. Reinhold, Jr., Chas. W. Bolton & Co., of this city, and M. N. Beam, of Lansdale, Pa., have been invited to furnish designs in competition for new office building to be built at DeKalb and Penn streets, Norristown, Pa., for Coleman & Wonsetler, whose office is 142 Real Estate Building, this city. It will be two stories high, 25x150 feet and will be built of brick.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, are working on plans and specifications for a new rectory and parish house to be built at Broad and Tioga streets, for the congregation of the P. E. Church, of the Resurrection. It will be three stories high and will be built of stone and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans will be ready for bids in a short while.

At Canonsburg, Pa., Architect John W. Vester, 57-59 Eving Building, Washington, Pa., is preparing plans for remodeling the First National Bank Building, at Canonsburg. Two stories, 36x37 feet, stone front first story, brick or terra cotta on second story, plate glass, marble wainscoting, tile floors, lavatories and toilet rooms, vaults, iron work and banking furniture and fixtures.

Savery & Scheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have plans in the course of preparation for a two and a half story residence to be built at Wynnecote, Pa., for Mr. Henry W. Scheetz. It will be built of stone, with shingle roof and will measure 28x64 feet. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans will be ready for bids in about three weeks' time.

Perot & Bissell, architects, 303 Bourse Building, have completed revised plans and specifications and invited builders D. W. Brown, Wenonah, N. J., and Scott & Kribbe, of this city, to submit bids on handsome new residence to be built at Radnor, Pa. (Owner's name withheld.) It will be two and a half stories high and will be built of frame and half timber, and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Bids due December 10th.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for interior finishing of a new church for the congregation of the Allegheny Avenue Baptist Church, to be built at Franklin and Allegheny avenues. (Details previously noted.) The following builders are bidding: F. H. Starkey, F. L. Hoover & Son, Geo. L. Sipp, James W. Orr, J. Sims Wilson. Bids due December 12th.

Ballinger & Perot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are working on plans and specifications to govern the erection of 12 stores and dwellings to be built in the north-eastern section of the city, the exact location and owner's name withheld for the present. They will be built of Pompeian brick and stone with galvanized iron trimmings. They will be wired and lighted by electricity, heated by hot air and will contain all modern improvements. Plans will be ready for bids in about 10 days' time. The same firm is at work on designs for the ceiling, pulpit canopy for the Church of the Gesu, 18th and Stiles street.

Henry D. Daget, architect, 435 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and sent same to the Continental Tile & Trust Co., who will take bids for a two story factory, 125x35 feet, to be built of brick and slow burning construction for the Hugh French Estate, at Orianna and Cumberland streets. This structure will replace the one recently destroyed by fire.—In the same office has completed plans and specifications and will invite bids the latter part of this week for a new power house to be built at Cape May,

N. J., for the Cape May Power and Electric Light Company, of that place. It will be two stories high, 150x71 feet and will be built of brick and slow burning construction.

Carl P. Berger, architect, South Penn Square Building, announce that the apartment house at 1208 Walnut street, for Charles A. Joy will be seven stories, instead of four. It will have an ornamental front of fancy yellow brick with terra cotta trimmings, with copper roof and will be in the French renaissance style of architecture. It will measure 26x109 feet. The first floor will be stores; on the top floor will be dining room, kitchen and pantry, etc., the remaining floors will contain bed room, four baths to a floor, linen and store room, etc. It will be equipped with passenger and freight elevators, wired for electricity, heated by steam, with tower fire escape, and all modern conveniences and appointments. Mr. John Detlef, builder, has the contract and is already tearing down the present building.

Carl P. Berger, architect, South Penn Square Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for entire remodeling and addition to house 215 North 17th street, for Dr. W. W. Fritz. The addition will be three stories and basement, 17x53 feet, built of brick and stone with new reception hall, square open staircase, office, dining room and pantry on the first floor; the second floor will have bed and sitting rooms, bath on the third floor, bed, sewing, work and study. There will be a roof garden and drying flat on the roof. The interior finish will be in hardwood with mantels, tile work, wiring and lighted by electricity, and hot air heating. The following builders are bidding: Denny & Welsh, Angus S. Wade Co., Chas. J. N. Platt, Jesse R. Pharaoh, Robert Wilkinson, Mitchell Bros., and E. H. Sturts. Bids due December 20th.

At Baltimore, Thomas Kennedy has revised plans for the rectory of St. Ann's Church at Tennallytown, D. C., also has prepared plans for a building to be erected by the Terra Haute Sisterhood, at Tennallytown. The estimated cost is about $20,000.—Joseph E. Sperry will prepare plans for a new church to be erected at Calhoun and Mulberry streets, for St. Paul's Reformed Society. It will cost $30,000.—George C. Haskell will prepare the plans for a stone church for Christ Methodist Protestant congregation. Cost, $15,000.—Charles E. Cassell has made the preliminary sketches for the proposed Preston Apartment House, Chase street and Guilford avenue. Cost $350,000.—Also plans for remodeling the old Maryland Club at Franklin and Cathedral streets, so as to fit it for apartment purposes. A restaurant will be fitted up in the basement. Cost, $50,000.—Elliot & Emmart have made plans for a cottage to be erected at Roland Park for the Roland Park Company. The cost will be $12,000.—Also plans for alterations and additions to the Conococheague Club of Hagerstown, Maryland.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 10, 1902

Removal of the Commonwealth Trust Co.

This well-known and highly esteemed financial institution has taken possession of its new office building at the northwest corner of Chestnut and Twelfth streets. The bank's offices with its adjunct departments, which are located on the ground floor, have very many advantages which the old building did not afford. The interior, with its many partitions of white marble and mahogany, has a striking effect on the visitor owing to its solidity and beauty as well as imparting an idea of strength and utility.

The officers' quarters are conveniently arranged and easily accessible for prompt business interviews and transactions.

Mr. Henry M. Decker is the President; Andrew Malone, Vice President and Wm. F. Kling, Secretary and Treasurer.

Fine Pictures at Auction

M. Thomas & Son's Art Gallery, 1519-21 Chestnut street, is filled with fine pictures and other artistic novelties, which are to be sold to the highest bidder, commencing Friday, December 12th. The collection not only contains many gems, representing the best work of world-famed artists, but it, as a whole, is exceptionally good throughout.

There is a greater demand for pictures now than ever before. Other works of art such as antique and modern furniture, statuary, chime clocks, teakwood pedestals, chairs, etc. This is certainly a rare opportunity to secure valuable Christmas presents at auction.

It is estimated that the sale will take eight days. Catalogues are ready.

Architect Notes

Clark & Hubbard, architects and engineers, Crozer Building, are working on plans and specifications for rebuilding of the licorice factory of McAndrew & Forbes at Camden, N. J., recently destroyed by fire.

Wilson Eyre, Jr., architect, 929 Chestnut street, will receive sub bids on the erection of the handsome new residence at Jenkinson, Pa., for Mr. John W. Pepper, until December 12th. It is to be three stories high, built of stone.

Owing to the death of Mr. Joseph Wilson, of Wilson Bros. Co., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, the firm has been reorganized. The new firm will be known as Wilson, Harris & Richards, comprising of Henry W. Wilson, John McArthur Harris and Howard S. Richards.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Chas. Gilpin, builder, Northeast corner of 15th and Chestnut streets, is making interior improvements and additions to 1000 Spruce street. Work will include tile work, plumbing, etc.

David McClelland, builder, 515 South 20th street, will make additional alterations to 2019 Washington avenue, for Merchant & Co. Work will include new smelting and assorting rooms. Contract price, $3,800.

Lewis Warner, builder, of Devon, Pa., has been awarded the contract to make alterations to house and stable for George R. Yarrow, at New Centreville, Pa. Plans and specifications were prepared by Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architect, South Penn Square Building.

Denny & Welsh, builders, have been awarded the contract to build, for the General Artificial Silk Company, at Nyack and Wycombe avenues, Lansdowne, Pa., a one and a half story addition to their plant. It will be of brick and frame and will measure 46x31 feet. Plans and specifications by Heacock & Holkanon, architects, 931 Chestnut street.

The firm's name of the partnership heretofore existing between Walter E. Ballinger and Emile G. Perot, is hereby changed from Hales & Ballinger to Ballinger & Perot. The personnel of the firm is not changed. Edward M. Hales having retired in July 1901, but still continues his association with the firm as consulting architect.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., 409 South Juniper street, has been awarded the contract to build the two story and basement stone addition to the Arsenal at Harrisburg, Pa. Contract price $15,000.—They will also build the three story rear addition of brick and frame, 16x34 feet, to the store property at 1602 Chestnut street, for W. F. Reed.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., Thomas Little & Son and Chas. Gilpin, builders, will probably receive plans the latter part of this week from Baker & Dallett, architects, Crozier Building, for the five story, brick building, 40x200 feet, to be built at 122-24 Chestnut street, for the Fidelity Trust Company. This structure is to replace the one destroyed by fire last spring.

F. N. Carver, builder, of 1431 L street, N. W. Washington, D. C., has been awarded the contract to build the two buildings for the National Vaccine Co., at College Station, Md. They will be one story high and will measure 103x24 feet, and 21 feet square; they will be built of brick. Plans and specifications by Charles Balderson, architect, 411 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

Bids have been filed by the following builders for alterations and additions to the house and stable of Wm. F. Harriat, at Lancaster and Sherwood streets, Overbrook, Pa.: Burd

P. Evans, Thos. F. Reilly, Michael Magee, W. R. Dougherty, Chas. McCaul Co., M. W. Young and Thomas Dolan, Plans and specifications by C. E. Schermernhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street.

Philip Hailbach, builder, 26th and Thompson streets, has been awarded the contract to build Theodore Finkenauer's new brewery at northeast corner of Germantown and Columbia avenues. It will be four stories high, 50x70 feet, and will be built of brick. It is estimated to cost $30,000. Plans and specifications were prepared by Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street. Work will proceed at once.

R. M. Stout, builder, Heed Building, has plans posted for a new residence to be built near Fox Chase, Philadelphia, for Samuel W. Haines, Esq. It will be three stories high, of stone, 53x26 feet, and will have a shingle roof. It will have a porch on front; interior in hardwood finish with all modern improvements. Bids due December 11th. Plans by private parties.

The Department of Charities and Correction, opened proposals submitted by Henderson & Co., and John H. Jordan for the construction of the proposed eight pavilions for consumptives to be built on the ground of the Philadelphia Hospital. Henderson & Co. bid was $134,000, or $18,149 a single structure; John H. Jordan's figure was $125,000 or $16,228 a pavilion.

J. W. Berner & Co., builders, 225 South Sydenham street, have been awarded the contract to build the new house at 2323 Almond street, for Mr. Reinhold Venter. It will be two stories and will be built of brick and will measure 18x49 feet. The interior will be in hardwood finish and will contain all up-to-date improvements. It is estimated to cost about $2,000. Plans and specifications by Herman Miller, architect, Crozier Building.

Roydhouse, Arey & Co., builders, Fidelity Building, have plans posted for two stations for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. One is to be built at Bel Air and Preston streets, Baltimore, Md. It will be three stories high, of brick, 22x64 feet, and will have a covered platform measuring 22x90 feet. The other one is to be built at Edgewood, Pa., and will be one story high, also of brick and will measure 41x80 feet. Plans by the Company's Engineers.

Architect Notes

E. F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, is working on plans for a frame addition to measure 90x30 feet, to St. Joseph's R. C. Church at Sea Isle, N. J.

Architect A. A. Ritcher, Lebanon, Pa., has prepared plans for a building to be erected at 752 Cumberland street. It will be fitted up for business purposes. The owner is Isaac Wolf Clothier.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have plans in the course of preparation for additions to the William Penn Hotel, at Gwynedd, Pa. The plans provide for a new kitchen, dining room, pantry and bed rooms. Will be ready for bids in a short time.

Adin Lacey, architect, 1020 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications and send same out to builders for estimates for alterations to the residence of Isaac B. Starr, at Wyncote, Pa. The following builders are bidding: W. R. Dougherty, F. E. Wallace and A. Conrad. Bids are due December 18th.

Sam'l W. Haines, of 1107 Market street, has had plans and specifications prepared and is receiving bids from local builders for a new residence to be built near Fox Chase. It will be three stories high, 45x55 feet, and will be built of stone. It will have a porch on the front; the interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all-up-to-date improvements.

Otto Wolf, architect, 1025 Arch street, will complete plans and specifications and send same to owners, who will take estimates for a new stock house for D. W. Lutz & Sons, Brewing Company, to be built at Pittsburg, Pa. It will be four stories high, and will be constructed of brick and steel and will be fireproof in its construction, and will contain all the usual up-to-date improvements.

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, will send plans and specifications out this week for a new residence for Mr. Olney Crosdale, to be built at Doylesford, Pa. It will be a two and a half stories and will be built of brick and shingle and will have a porch in the rear. The interior will be in hardwood finish. It will be heated by hot air and will contain all up-to-date improvements. Bids due December 26th.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, are working on plans and specifications for a handsome new residence to be built at Easton, Pa. It will be three stories high, built of brick and will measure 40x65 feet. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans will be ready for bids in about two weeks time.

M. H. Dickinson, 2d, architect and engineer, Real Estate Building, will send plans and specifications out to builders the middle of next week for a handsome colonial house to be known as Work Number 23, and to be erected at 46th and Spruce streets. It will be three stories high, built of black header brick. (Details previously noted.) The following builders have been invited to bid: David McClelland, John Palmer, F. T. Maguire and C. F. Sharpe. Bids due about December 31st.

Chas. W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherspoon Building, have been commissioned to prepare plans and specifications to govern the erection of a new edifice for the congregation of the State Street M. E. Church, to be built at Sixth and States streets, Camden, N. J. It will be one story and gallery high, and will be built of stone and will cost $30,000. We will be able to give further details later. The same firm announces that the time for filing bids on the Meyersdale M. E. Church at Meyersdale, Pa., has been extended until December 29th.

Ballinger & Perrot, 1200 Chestnut street, architects and engineers, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for an addition to the factory of H. B. Underwood at 1025 Hamilton street. Plans provide for a two story and basement addition, 22x50 feet, and will be built of brick and slow burning construction. The following builders have been invited to bid: A. Raymond Raff, H. B. Shoemaker & Co., Jacob Myers & Sons, W. R. Dougherty and J. S. Cornell & Sons. Bids due December 24th.

Edgar V. Seeler, architect, Real Estate Building, has completed revised plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new house and stable for Miss Helen R. Murphy, to be built at St. Davids, Pa. The house will be three stories high, 132x105 feet, and will be built of stone with red tile roof. It will have a handsome porch on the front and sides. The interior will be in hardwood finish with tile baths, best open plumbing work and all up-to-date improvements. The stable will be two stories high, 73x46 feet, and will also be of stone with red tile roof; the first floor will be stalls, harness and carriage rooms; the second floor, men's quarters and hay loft. The following builders have been invited to bid: John R. Wiggins & Co., Jacob Myers & Sons, Frank Riggs and Kendrick & Co. of this city; Hill and Stevens, of Oak Lane, and W. R. Lingel, of Wayne, Pa. Bids due December 20th.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, plans have been accepted by the commissioners in competition, to govern the erection of the handsome new municipal building to be built between 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ and 14th streets, D and E streets, Washington, D. C., for which Congress has appropriated \$1,000,000. In the accepted plans, as they now stand, the basement floor is practically on the street level. The tax collector's office occupies the entire south front of the basement, having entrances opening right out to the street. The assessors have four spacious rooms along the north and west fronts. The disbursing officer has his office on the east front of the basement, The permit clerk has an office at the southwest corner. Eight elevators lead from the basement to the upper floors. The police department has five rooms in the basement and fire department a like number opening into an interior court. The first floor will contain offices of assessor's department, the excise board rooms, the building department rooms, the plumbing inspector and auditor department rooms. On the second floor will be the police department, the health department, inspector of gas and meter rooms, etc. The third floor will contain rooms for the superintendent of the water department, and superintendent of property, also rooms for the board of children's guardians and third assistant engineer. The fourth floor will be occupied by the engineer department of the District, also rooms for the property clerk, the surveyor, the corporation counsel, etc. The fifth floor will contain board room and offices for the commissioners, the laboratories for the various departments will be probably located in the attic rooms.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Appleton & Burrell, builders, 1204 Chancellor street, has been awarded the contract to make interior alterations and improvements to 945 Ridge avenue for the Middleton Iron Co. Plans and specifications by Arthur H. Brookie, architect, 328 Chestnut street.

Charles Eneu Johnson Co., of 509 South Tenth street will build a three story brick addition to their present plant and will also strengthen the floors of their present old factory. Plans and specifications were prepared by T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building.

Mantle Fielding, Jr., architect, 110 South Fourth street, has been awarded the contract for alterations and additions to the stable building of W. C. Houston, Esq., at Chelton avenue, Germantown, to W. J. Gruhler, builder, of 77 Herman street. Work will include plumbing, masonry, carpentering work, etc.

Chas. Auchter Co., builders, 1526 Bailey street, have been awarded the contract to make interior alterations to the Prospect Brewery, at the northwest corner Eleventh and Oxford streets. The work will include new asphalt and wooden floors and iron beams, etc. It is estimated that this work will cost about $1,500. Plans and specifications by Kurt W. Fouckert, architect, 259 South Fourth street.

G. Albert Wills, builder at Asbury Park, N. J., has been awarded the contract to build the new summer residence at that place for Henry M. Miller, Esq., of New York. It will be two and a half stories high 35x50 feet and will be built of frame and shingle and will have a porch on three sides. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will contain all up-to-date improvements. Plans and specifications by T. Frank Miller, architect, Lippincott Building, Philadelphia.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

David McClelland, builder, 515 South 20th st, has been awarded the contract to make alterations and additions to Hodgs Co. at 911 South 6th st. Work will include new shelves, counters and fixing same up for store purposes.

Angus S. Wade Co., builders, 1501 Sansom street, have submitted bids to Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, for alteration and addition to the house of Mr. Geo. S. Wolff, at Wayne avenue and Winoia street.

F. L. Hoover & Sons, builders, 709 Ransstead street, have filed bid with Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, for alterations to the residence of Dr. J. P. Crozier, 1810 Spruce street.

Roydhouse Arey Co., builders, Fidelity Building, will erect the new two story brick power house at the northeast corner of Sixteenth and Hamilton streets for the Baldwin Locomotive Works Co. Plans by the company's engineers.

W. R. Steele & Sons, builders, Witherspoon Building, have plans posted for a three story addition to be built to the plant of the Newton Machine Company, at 23d and Vine streets. It will be built of brick and will measure 18x 100 feet. Bids due December 20th.

It is stated that the Committee on Property of the Board of Education, have directed Architect Cook to prepare plans for a manual training school at 7th street and Lehigh avenue, to accommodate 600 students. $200,000 has been appropriated for the building and equipment.

W. J. Gruhler, builder 77 Herman street, Germantown, has been awarded the contract to build the new garden building in connection with the hot house and graperies for F. W. Taylor, Highland avenue, Chestnut Hill, Phila. Plans and specifications by Mantle Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth street.

Lewis Havens' Sons, builders, Girard Building, have revised plans posted for the large new plant to be built at New Kensington, Pa., for the Westmoreland Boiler Co. Plans provide for a one-story brick and steel foundry 80x275 feet, a cleaning house 50x50 feet, a boiler house, 50x175 feet, and a three-story storehouse 75x40 feet. The plans and specifications were prepared by the Lalor Engineering Co. of 1305 Arch street.

A. Whitehead, builder, 1624 Latimer street, has been awarded the contract to build the house and stable for J. Hampton Barnes, at Devon, Pa. The house will be three story, of stone and half timber, and will contain all up-to-date improvements. The stable will be two stories high, also of stone and half timber, and will have the usual sanitary stable appointments. The plans and specifications were prepared by T. Meion Rodgers, Architect, Devon, Pa.

Some alterations in the way of improvements are soon to be begun at Broad Street Station, in Philadelphia. The gate fence is to be moved fifty feet further into the trainshed, making a lobby about 100 feet wide. This will necessitate the removal of the track ends and also the station master's office. Plans are being drawn for alterations at the west end of the trainshed. These, however, have not yet taken definite shape, although considerable change is in contemplation.

Doyle & Doak, builders, 1509 Sansom street, have plans posted for a group of almshouse buildings to be erected at Hillside House, Clark Summit, Pa. The buildings include male and female and kitchen and dining room buildings. All of the department buildings will be three stories high; the kitchen and dining room buildings, one story high. All to be built of brick and fireproof construction. Plans and specifications by E. H. Davis, architect, Scranton, Pa.

Alfred C. McGill, builder, 121 North 50th street, will erect 144 houses on the square bounded by 54th and 55th streets, Girard avenue and Poplar street. Ten will be two-story and dwellings, 18 will be two-story, 9-room, brick dwellings, 26 will also be two-story, 9 room dwellings and will be put up on 54th and 55th streets, and the balance (90 houses) will be two-story, five rooms. They will all be built of brick and contain all modern improvements. This operation will be financed by B. Griffith Jones and Frank Moss.

The most important work authorized by the Pennsylvania Railroad Directors is the building of an elevated railroad for freight purposes in Philadelphia, from the bridge over the main tracks at Thirty-fourth street to a point of connection with what is known as the Arsenal or Washington avenue bridge over the Schuylkill below South street. This elevated structure will be 4,460 feet long, 3,200 feet of which will be of structural iron and steel, and 1,260 feet of masonry construction, and will be at an elevation to carry it over Spring Garden street bridge, Ludlow street, the main line, Market, Chestnut and Walnut streets, and the South street bridge, with ample headway over all bridges and streets. The line will be built upon the company's property, no right of way having to be secured, and the work will be commenced and pushed forward to completion as quickly as possible.

Through Pennsylvania

—At Greenville, Mercer Co., the School Board has under consideration the erection of a school building to cost about $60,000.

Architect Notes

Herbert D. Hale and Henry G. Morse, Jr., architects, have removed from the sixth floor of the Drexel Building to rooms 1072 and 1074 of the same building.

It is reported that Mantle Fielding, Jr., Architect, 110 South Fourth street, is engaged on plans and specifications for a new stone and frame residence to be three stories high and to be built at Media, Pa.

Hales & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for installing a steam heating plant at the Jeansville Iron Works plant at Hazelton, Pa. Bids due January 3, 1903.

David Knickerbacker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed plans and specifications and sent same out for estimates for a two story and attic residence to measure 20x42 feet, for Charles S. Walton, to be built at Wayne, Pa. Bids due December 26th. F. T. Magnire, of this city, and J. D. Lengle, of Wayne, Pa., are bidding.

Chas. W. Bolton & Co., architects, Wither-spoon Building, have invited the following builders to submit bids on the St. Stephen's Reformed Church at Perkaskie, Pa. (Details previously noted.) Geo. A. Baird, of Reading, Pa.; F. L. Hoover & Sons, Burd P. Evans, J. W. Fritzing, of this city; Leidy B. Heckler, of Ambler, Pa. Bids due January the first, 1903.

W. U. Jury, Shamokin, Pa., has prepared plans for a new school building to be erected at Shamokin. It will be three stories high, of brick, stone and terra cotta; hard plaster, metal cornices and skylights, electric lights, steam heating and ventilating plant, boiler and pipe covering, furniture, all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is about $40,000.

Wesley L. Blythe, architect, 14 South Penn Square, has been commissioned to prepare plans for a $125,000 hotel at a popular lake and mountain resort in this State. It will be four stories high, of the Italian Renaissance style of architecture and will measure 200x170 feet. On the first floor will be smoking, reading, writing and reception rooms. The upper floors will have 220 bed rooms with fifty-two baths.

Geo. F. Hardy, architect, 608 Mitchell Reserve Building, Broadway and Duane streets, New York, has completed plans and specifications and will invite bids on the erection of a new paper mill to be built at Modena, Pa., for the Megargue Paper Company, of this city. It will be three stories high, of brick and steel with slag roof, heated by steam and will be equipped with the necessary machinery and is estimated to cost $100,000.

Frank Miles, Day & Bro., 925 Chestnut street, architects, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new gymnasium, running track and grand stand for the University of Pennsylvania to be built at 34th and South streets. The gymnasium will be two stories high, of stone and will measure 270x51 feet.

(Details previously noted.) The following builders are bidding: W. A. & A. E. Wells, Doyle & Doak, Geo. Fuller Co. Bids due December 27th.

At an interview with Mr. Joseph Wharton, who has given $100,000 for the erection of a new dormitory to be called Wharton Hall, and to be built at the Swarthmore College, at Swarthmore, Pa. (Previously noted in these columns.) He stated that as yet no architect had been engaged to prepare plans and nothing definite would be done in the matter until some time early in February, 1903.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC 24 1902

The Morning News of Wilmington, Del., has just reason to be proud of its 16-page Christmas number. It not only indicates the push and energy behind its business department, but it is also indicative of the resources of its plant, as well as its editorial and reportorial staff. Competition among the newspapers of Wilmington is just as keen as in any large city, and the top notch of success is never reached through chance, it takes brains and capital and hard work to win in Wilmington, and that the Morning News is a winner is strongly in evidence through its big Christmas number.

Record Almanac for 1903

The Record's Almanac for 1903 is out and this journal has been favored with one of the first copies.

It seems superfluous to say that its 1903 almanac is built on the self-same lines which have made both paper and almanac features of Philadelphia journalism, and which make it no easy task to dispense with either.

Men may come and men may go, but it seems that the Record's old standard of excellence is like a fixed star, for, while it might be possible to over-shadow it temporarily, the scintillations are all there and like those of the star, it needs only a clear vision to see them.

The Spot is the Thing

It was Lady Macbeth, who, in her sleep walking scene, said, "Out Damned Spot," and whether the spot vanished or not Shakespeare does not tell us. The spot, however, placed permanently in the high-grade sash cord made by the Samson Cordage Works on purpose to defeat imitation, will not out, for it is part of an immense business proposition, intended to protect buyers and consumers who appreciate great wearing properties as well as strength and smoothness.

The Samson's Cordage Works has issued a new catalogue, full of information and illustrations as to its high standard products.

Don't forget that every hank of the Samson sash cord bears a label of Samson and the Lion as a trade mark.

The N. & G. Taylor Co. Sprading Out
N. & G. Taylor Company, of Philadelphia, who have been largely interested in the Maryland Sheet & Steel Company of Cumberland, Md., have leased that company's plants, the change taking effect on January 1 next. This property is a very extensive one, comprising open hearth furnaces, plate mills, sheet mills, foundry and plant for the manufacture of harrow disks. They will operate the works on a more extensive scale, doubling the output of sheets and washers, and expect in the near future to add one or more open hearth furnaces of sufficient capacity to also supply their black plate mills adjoining this property with all the tin bars they use. For this purpose a new bar mill will be erected. James B. Strawbridge, who for many years past has been the general superintendent of the various steel works at Middletown, Ohio, will on January 1 move here and become general superintendent of the plant. N. & G. Taylor Company have been running their black plate mills uninterruptedly and continuously for the last three years with which to supply their tin plate works at Philadelphia and they have in contemplation the adding of two more mills, giving them a ten-mill plant and, of course, necessitating the addition of corresponding finishing ends. They will employ some 800 men in the two plants, the annual pay roll running close to $500,000, with an output reaching near 50,000 tons annually of their different products. The firm have a very complete tin plate works in Philadelphia, using 20 tinning stacks.—N. Y. Record and Guide.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Milton W. Young, builder, at Overbrook, Pa., has been awarded the contract to make alterations to the house and stable of Mr. W. F. Harry, at Overbrook, Pa. (Details previously noted.) Contract price, $15,000. Plans and specifications by C. E. Schermerhorn, architect, 430 Walnut street.

A. Raymond Raff, builder, 1635 Thompson street, has been awarded the contract to build the addition to the Oakdale Bakery, at 10th and Susquehanna avenue, at an estimated cost of $7,000. (Details previously noted.) Plans and specifications by Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street.

Kendrick & Co., builders, 1709 Sansom street, have plans posted and requesting sub-bids on the foundry and machine shop to be built at New Kensington, Pa., for the Westmoreland Boiler Co., of that place. Plans and specifications by the Lator Engineering Co., of 1305 Arch street. Bids due January 10th.

Thos. Henry, 2411 Wharton street, builder, will erect a number of houses on tract of land measuring 40x74 feet, extending along west side of 24th street between Wharton and Reed streets. They will be three stories high, with ornamental brick fronts and will contain all up-to-date improvements.

Bowman S. Sterling, builder, has removed from 501 Chestnut street, to 608 Chestnut street, Room 1, second floor.

Lewis Havens & Sons, builders, Girard Building, have been awarded the contract to build the new power house at 410 Cherry street, for The Ladies' Home Journal. Contract price, $10,000.

F. L. Hoover & Sons, builders, 709 Ransstead street, have plans posted for extension number 14, to be built at League Island Navy Yard, for the United States Government. Bids due January 17, 1903.

Wilson, Harris & Richards, architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have awarded the contract for the interior finishing of the second and third floors of the Drexel Building for the New York Life Insurance Co., to Robt Tarlo Co., of this city.

Angus S. Wade Co., 1501 Sansom street, builders, have filed bid with Ballinger & Perrot for the two story and basement addition, 22x 30 feet, to be built of brick and slow burning construction to the factory of H. B. Underwood, at 1025 Hamilton street.

William Conrad, builder, of Ogontz, Pa., has been awarded the contract to make alterations to the residence of Isaac B. Starr, at Wyncote, Pa. Plans and specifications were prepared by Adin B. Lacey, architect, 1020 Chestnut street.

Armstrong & Printzenhoff, builders, Land Title Building, have been awarded the contract to build the new round house to be erected at the Shellport shop at Edgemore, Del., for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. It will be built of brick and structural steel and will have a capacity for 30 engines.

Cramp & Co., and Henderson & Co., Limited, have received plans and specifications from J. Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., for the five story and basement stone structure for the Physical Laboratory, National Bureau of Standards, to be built at Washington, D. C. Bids due January 10, 1903.

The Lincoln Hotel Company, which recently purchased No. 1226 Locust street, 20x79 feet. They will tear down the old structure on the premises and build an addition to its present apartment house at southwest corner of Camac and Locust streets. The structure will also be extended to include No. 232-4-6 South Camac street. This addition will be five stories high and will be fireproof in its construction. The owner will receive sub-bids in a short while.

R. Monroe Stout, builder, Heed Building, has plans posted for a new residence to be built at the southwest corner of Cooper and Woodland avenue, Woodbury, N. J., for Lewis Starr, Esq. It will be three stories high, 37x53 feet, and will be built of stone, with slate roof and will have a porch on the front. The interior will be in hardwood finish and it will have all the up-to-date appointments and conveniences. Bids due December 29. Plans and specifications by Charles R. Peddle, architect, of Woodbury, N. J.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has a bridge at this point and the Baltimore and Ohio has one near by. It is reported that the new bridge will be built to accommodate both railroads. The proposed new bridge is to be built midway between the two bridges. The new bridge, it is said, will be a combination foot and driveway.

At New York City, Babb, Cook and Wilford have made plans for a four story and basement club house to be erected at 73 Cannon street, to be erected by Mrs. E. C. Potter, the wife of Bishop Potter, in memory of her father-in-law, Edward Clark. It will be known as the Edward Clark Club. In the basement will be coffee, and on the other floors recreation and other rooms. There will be a roof garden. Mrs. Potter is also building at Elizabeth, New Jersey, a guild house in memory of her late husband, Alfred Corning Clark. It will belong to Grace Episcopal Church of Elizabeth.

At Detroit, Michigan, the Sisters of Charity, care Rev. Dr. James G. Doherty, 280 Fourteenth avenue, have had plans made for a hospital. Bedford limestone and brick, slate roof, dumb waiter, electric passenger elevators, plate and ornamental glass, steam heat, tile and cement floors, hard plaster, electric lights and bells, wood mantels, bath tubs, washstands, water closets, patent laundry dryers, urinals and galvanized iron cornices and skylights. $25,000. Bids early next month. This city will issue bonds to the amount of $600,000 for the purchase of sites for library buildings provided for by donation of Andrew Carnegie.

Cleveland, O., it is probable that a $2,000,000 eight story marble and pressed brick hotel building, 304x208 feet, will be erected at Euclid avenue, near Kennard street, after plans prepared by Architect C. H. Blackall, 1 Somerset street, Boston, Mass. Apart from the hotel there will be a power house, an automobile club building and the stables. It will have electric lighting throughout. John Y. Hall & Son, 610 New England Building, are promoters of the enterprise.—Architects Knox & Elliott, Mercantile Bank Building, have plans for a 32-suite apartment building, on Wilson avenue, for H. W. Corning, care Standard Sewing Machine Co., Cedar avenue. Four stories, 60x160 feet, steam heat, open plumbing, electric and gas fixtures, etc. $60,000.—Architect J. M. Carere, New York, N. Y., is preparing plans for a large apartment building to be erected at University Circle, Cleveland, for a local syndicate represented by W. P. Ditto of Cleveland. The building will be of fireproof construction and will cost about $1,000,000.—Architect G. A. Tenbush, Tose Building, has plans for an eight-story apartment building, corner Hough and Bolton avenues, and will soon receive bids for the work. Four stories, 55x80 feet, mosaic and tile floors, plate glass, patent plaster, steam heat and open plumbing. Cost $35,000.

At New York, during December the Committee on Buildings of which William Lummis is chairman, will award contracts for nine new school buildings. Of these buildings the contracts have been let for two. The schools to be erected are: Manhattan, Nos. 183, 106 and 24; Brooklyn, Nos. 119, 91, 144 and 145; Queens No. 81 and Richmond No. 34. Numbers 183 and 81 have been awarded, and bids for the others will be called for at once.

Architect R. W. Gibson, 76 William street, has made sketch for a fine dwelling to be erected at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Fifty-second street, for Mr. Morton F. Plant. The lot is 50x100 feet. The final plans for this dwelling will not be completed before next spring.—B. H. Simonson, No. 3 East 14th street, has prepared plans for alterations to Miner's Theatre at 310 to 312 Eighth avenue, and has let the general contract to William J. Taylor, No. 9 East Forty-second street. The contracts for iron, plumbing, heating, lighting, metal work and metal ceilings, have not been let. Welch, Smith & Provot, 11 East 42d street, are letting contracts for the new French Hospital at 450-458 W. 34th st., with the exception of the contract for structural iron.—The Armory Board has approved the plans of Hunt & Hunt, 28 East 21st street, for the new Sixty-ninth Regiment. Some changes are to be made in the plans and estimates will be called for in a few weeks. The site will be on Lexington avenue from Twenty-fifth to Twenty-sixth streets. The cost will be $600,000. Troop C, of Brooklyn, will erect an Armory on Bedford avenue between President and Union streets. The site cost $38,000.—The new Armory for the Seventy-first Regiment, at Park avenue and 34th street, will probably be erected from plans prepared by Clinton and Russell, 35 Nassau street.

Mr. Bell is chairman of the Armory Board.—The Board of Aldermen on December 16, passed the ordinance granting the Pennsylvania Railroad Company the right to tunnel under Hudson River to the Borough of Manhattan, to the projected terminal of the company below 34th street, between 7th and 9th avenues, then eastward under East River to the Borough of Queens, to connect with the Long Island Railroad system recently acquired by the Pennsylvania Company. The company proposes to spend $50,000,000 on the improvement. W. H. Brown, chief engineer, Philadelphia, Pa.

Architect Notes

At New York City, Brower & Gayle, 2787 Broadway, have prepared plans for a twelve or fifteen story apartment hotel to be erected at the south corner of Riverside Drive and 109th street, for Paul B. Pugh & Co.

D. H. Burham & Co., architects, of Chicago, Ill., are engaged on plans and specifications for the new department store of John Wanamaker, to be built on the block bounded by Broadway, Fourth avenue, Eighth and Ninth streets, New York. This structure will be ten or twelve stories high, with every appointment of an up-to-date department store.

Amos W. Barnes, architect and engineer, Northeast corner of 9th and Walnut streets, is working on plans and specifications for a group of manufacturing buildings to include a foundry power house and three two story factories. The foundry and power house will be one story high; all to be built of brick and slow burning construction. Will be ready for bids in about three week's time.

Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, architects, South Penn Square Building, are engaged on plans and specifications for a new residence to be built at Cleveland, Ohio. (The owner's name and exact location withheld for the present.) It will be three stories high, 42x60 feet, and will be built of brick and will contain all modern improvements. Will be ready for bids in a short while.

William L. Elkins has decided to erect a home for the orphan daughters of Masons at the northeast corner of Broad and Bristol streets. Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title Building, has prepared the plans and they provide for a central administration building three stories high, and dormitories to the north and south, connected by wings, with the central building. Work on the new structure will start April 1st, 1903.

M. H. Dickenson, 2d, architect and engineer, Real Estate Building, has completed plans and specifications and invited estimates for the installing of a hot water heating plant in the new residence of F. S. Elliot, Esq., at 46th and Spruce streets. Bids due January 2, 1903.

The same architect is working on plans and specifications for a hot water heating plant for house known as Work No. 23, to be built on Spruce street east of 46th street. Will be ready for bids about January 2, 1903.

J. Franklin Stuckert & Sons, architects, 1421 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for a new storehouse to be built at 642 North 8th street, for the Cocoa Colo Company, of Atlanta, Ga. It will be three stories and basement high and will be built of brick, terra cotta and Indiana limestone trimmings. Bids due January 2d. The following builders are bidding: Angus S. Wade Co., Kendrick & Roberts, H. B. Shoemaker & Co., and George C. Dietrich.

Watson & Huckel, architects, 1208 Chestnut street, have completed plans and specifications and sent same out to builders for estimates for the new parish house to be built at Tioga and Watts streets, for the congregation of P. E. Church of the Resurrection. It will be three stories high, of stone, and will measure 64x120 feet. (Details previously noted.) The following builders have been invited to bid: Burd P. Evans, Arthur Williams & Son, James Johnstone, Kendrick & Co., John Davies, Cornelius Keily and Jacob Myers & Sons. Bids due January 8th.

There is a story about town that the Marks Bros.' stores, 8th and Arch streets, have been purchased by a theatrical manager and will be altered into a theatre.

Doyle & Doak, builders, 1309 Sansom street, have been awarded the contract to build the operating room at the Girard College. Plans by John T. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street.

P. J. Hurley, builder, 1216 Chancellor street, will make extensive alterations to the restaurant of E. F. Bahi & Co., at the southeast corner of 19th and Market streets, at a cost of $2,400. Work will proceed at once.

Frank E. Wallace, builders, 1025 Chestnut street, has been awarded the contract to make additional alterations to Gardener's Cottage at Chestnut Hill, for Alex. Benson, Esq. Contract price $2,700. Plans by C. C. Zantinger, architect, 263 South 4th street.

Machin & Brown, 147-149 North 7th street, builders, have plans posted from the Lalor Engineering Company, of 1305 Arch street, for the new plant of the Westmoreland Boiler Co., to be built at New Kensington, Pa. Bids due January 5th.

Charles Gilpin, builder, Northeast corner of 15th and Chestnut streets, is bidding on the new plant of the Westmoreland Boiler Co., at New Kensington, Pa. Bids due January 5th; plans by the Lalor Engineering Co., of 1305 Arch street.

F. I. Hoover & Sons, builders, 709 Ransstead street, has filed bid with W. Woodward Potter, architect, for alterations and additions to the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank at 427 Chestnut street, according to plans prepared by him.

W. R. Dougherty, builder, 1604 Sansom street, has filed bids for oil waste store house, which will be one story high, of brick and a paint storage house, also one story high, of brick, to be built at the Shellpot shops of the P. B. & W. Railroad. Plans by the company's engineer.

H. Marion Zane and W. R. Dougherty and W. J. Gruhler, builders, have plans posted for alterations and additions to the residence of Mrs. D. L. Brinton, at Media. Plans provide for the building of a three story extension and general interior improvements. Bids due January 3d. Plans and specifications by Mantle Fielding, Jr., architect, 110 South Fourth street.

Appleton & Burrell, builders, 1204 Chancellor street, are requesting sub bids for the superstructure of the Bilgram Building, at 12th and Spring Garden streets. (Details previously noted.) Plans and specifications by Ballinger & Perrot, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street.

Angus S. Wade Co., builders, 1501 Sansom street, have been awarded the contract to build the two story and basement addition, 22x50 feet, to be of brick and slow burning construction, to the factory of H. B. Underwood, at 1025 Hamilton street. Contract price, $5,500. Plans and specifications by Ballinger & Perrot.

Kendrick & Roberts and Hiram Miller & Sons, builders, have plans posted for an angle smithery building, to be built at League Island Navy Yard, Philadelphia. It will be two stories high, brick and steel and will be fireproof. Bids due January 17th. Plans by F. T. Chambers, Engineer of Bureau of Yards and Docks, architects, 1200 Chestnut street.

It is reported that Alan H. Reed, of the firm of Jacob Reeds Sons, has purchased one hundred feet of the beach front at Sovereign avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., extending back 217 feet to a lot 90x100 feet, from William Riddle, of that city. The price paid was $90,000. Mr. Reed owns two lots facing Pacific avenue, 50x100 feet. This with his new purchase gives him the ownership of a half block, excepting that owned by Mr. Riddle.

The Select Council has passed an ordinance authorizing the construction of a southern terminal in Delaware avenue, by the Rapid Transit Co., and granting the company the privilege of constructing a loop from Broad and Market streets to Chestnut or Walnut, and east in either of these streets to 5th and Arch, returning to Broad street.—The Council on December 22 passed an ordinance granting the Pennsylvania R. R. Co. permission to construct an elevated road for freight in West Philadelphia. W. H. Brown, chief engineer, Philadelphia.

John Sweatt & Co., builders, of Boston, Mass., have been awarded the contract to erect the new Rockefeller Hall at Bryn Mawr, Pa., for the Bryn Mawr College. This action is contrary to the original intention of the donor, which was to have the building erected by his own employees and he has also appointed A. J. Houghton, of Pocantico, N. Y., supervising architect. Rockefeller Hall is the name to be given to the new dormitory in honor of Mr. Rockefeller, who gave $500,000 toward the college fund. The new hall will be of stone, two stories in height. In the old English style of architecture and will measure 118x254 feet. Plans and specifications were prepared by Cope & Stevardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

It is stated that the railroads earned during the first half of the month of December, 4.2 per cent. more than for the same period of 1901, and 10.4 per cent. more than in 1900. The advance in freight rates will take effect the beginning of the new year.

Exports during November last were $11,412,458 less than in November, 1901. There is an increased export of manufactured goods as the loss is in the staples such as wheat and cotton, but it must not be forgotten that in November, 1901, the exports of wheat were extremely heavy. The falling off in the staples amounts to $15,180,972.

The Mechanics' Ins. Co.'s Calendar for 1903.

The only change this year in the calendar of the Mechanics' Insurance Company of this city, is the introduction of the company's name and title at the head of the calendar figures for obvious reasons. The fact is, this is one of the most popular calendars in the city and it seems that everybody wants one and that even the fair sex have a way of fixing them up for the boudoir as well as for the sitting room.

This had to be defeated, hence the change, as the calendar is intended for business men and business purposes pure and simple. It possesses, however, one peculiarity not usually associated with publications of this character. When a fellow is going to run against a holiday he is sure to know it if he has one of these calendars, for all are designated by red ink.

The company's office is at the Southwest corner of Walnut and Fifth streets; Simon J. Martin, president, and John A. Snyder, secretary.

Long May It Wave.

An American flag on the 1903 calendar of an American insurance company for American insurers is a symbol so thoroughly satisfactory to every one that it is very doubtful if the old American Fire Insurance Company of this City will ever be tempted to accept any other design, no matter how elaborate.

Chartered in 1810 or nearly 83 years ago, just about the time old England was making inroads on our American shipping in her attempt to establish her utopian principle of the right to search and when the people of our land were inspired by patriotic impulses, there is little wonder that the founders of the American Fire selected that name.

The war of 1812 followed before the company had hardly time enough to get established, but, like the Republic itself, it was founded on the sterling principles of justice and equality, and the old flag symbolizes its integrity and worth as an eminently successful American business proposition. The office is 308 and 310 Walnut street, and Thomas H. Montgomery is the president, and John H. Packard, Jr., vice president and secretary.

The Same to You Samuel H. French & Co.

There is something in a sentiment and the assertion that there is no sentiments in business is rank heresy and excommunication is too light a punishment for the fellow who says it.

"Greetings and Best Wishes to All Our Friends," are the head lines of a very useful desk pad and calendar for 1903, sent to us by the old building material firm of Samuel H. French & Co., Fourth and Callowhill streets.

As a memory jogger, there could be nothing better and there is plenty of room for the omissions as well as the commissions in each space allotted for every day in the year, Sundays alone excepted.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Henderson & Co., builders, Heed Building, have been awarded the contract to build the eight pavilions for the treatment of consumptives at the grounds of the Philadelphia Hospital, at 34th and South streets for the Department of Charities and Correction. (Details previously noted.)

Angus Wade & Co., builders, 1501 Sansom street, have plans posted for a stable and coal tressell to be built at the Southwest corner of 23d and Arch streets, for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Co. The stable will be two stories high, of brick with accommodations for 16 horses. Bids due January 5th. Plans and specifications by the company's engineers.

A. J. & L. J. Bamberger have sold to Mahlon W. Newton, proprietor of Green's Hotel, the store property No. 725 Chestnut street, for $60,000. The lot measures 25x80 feet, and is reported that an addition to the hotel will be built. The structure will be of stone, seven stories high and will contain a store on the first floor and about 100 rooms in the upper floors. A local architect is now engaged on plans and specifications to govern the erection of the same.

The Board of Survey has reported favorably on the proposed construction of the Torresdale Boulevard, to extend from Broad and Cayuga streets to Torresdale avenue, at a point near the Delaware River. About $700,000 will have to be provided to purchase the land through which the new road will run.—It is suggested that a tract of 100,000 acres along the Pennypack near Holmesburg be purchased by the City for park purposes.—It is stated that the schemes, if carried out, will lead to extensive building improvements throughout this entire section of the City.

Cramp & Co., Wm. R. Steele & Sons, and Kendrick & Roberts, Jno R. Wiggins Co., Roydhouse & Arey Co., Lewis Havens & Sons builders, have plans posted for a large new plant for the furniture manufacture of Hale & Kilburn, to be built at 18th and Glenwood avenue. It will be four stories and basement high, and will measure 352x200 feet, with a tower on front 160 feet high. It will be partly fireproof and partly slow burning. It will be equipped with seven elevators and will be wired for electricity and will have the necessary machinery of a building of its kind. Bids due January 5th. Plans and specifications by Lockwood & Green & Co., architects, Boston, Mass.

Chief Engineer Brown, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has awarded the contract for the proposed double track elevated freight road in West Philadelphia. The work is divided into three sections, independent of the iron superstructure, and the awards were as follows: From the beginning near 34th street, to a point north of Spring Garden street bridge, to Sparks & Evans, and the retaining walls to P. McManus; from there to the north side of Market street for column foundation and piers to John Gill & Co., and from that point to the point of connection at the Arsenal bridge for column foundation and piers to Ryan & Kelly. The work is to be begun on January 1st and completed in 90 days.

The members of the Master Builders Exchange wound up the old year with a luncheon, vaudeville entertainment and smoker, at the Exchange, 18 to 24 South Seventh street. The luncheon was served in an admirable manner, and the menu was fine. The large number present enjoyed the fine entertainment and smoker that was given after the luncheon. The committee who had the affair in charge, deserve great praise for the able manner in which it was conducted and everybody there voted it one of the best ever given by the Master Builders. The institution in itself is in a flourishing condition and the exhibition department reflects the distinguished ability of Mr. Matthews, the superintendent.

Italian Marble Mosaic Company, 429-31 Spruce St. have been awarded the contracts for Mosaic work on the following: New Court House and residence, Trenton, N. J.; library building, New Brunswick, N. J.; general hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Delmonico Hotel, Lancaster, Pa.; bank buildings at Utica, N. Y.; Millintown, Pa.; Falls Creek, Pa.; Easton, Pa.; Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J.; fire house, Atlantic City, N. J.; office building, Steelton, Pa.; school building, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; office building, Rochester, N. Y.; Masonic Temple, Reading, Pa.; four residences, Long Branch, N. J.; Y. M. C. A. Association Building, Kane, Pa.; office building, 16th and Arch streets, Philadelphia; Philadelphia Quartette Club building, Germantown and Lehigh avenues, Philadelphia; Church of the Saviour, 38th and Locust streets; barber shop, 105 South 11th street; saloon, 9th and Callowhill streets, and many other contracts throughout the city.

January. The cost, it is said, will be about $2,000,000. Most of the plans have been worked out and provide principally for track extensions, including a branch from a point near Mercer to Sharon and the big plant of the United States Steel Corporation. The double-tracking of the line, which was commenced some time ago, will be rushed. The company's yards will be enlarged and new passenger and freight depots will be erected at several points. At North Bessemer, Greenville and Conneaut Harbor the Bessemer has planned to build large freight terminals. The company also intends to build a branch to reach the United States Steel Works at Donora.

—At West Chester, Chester county, among the numerous trolley lines included in the deal by which the United Power and Transportation Company is to secure control of the Inter-State Railway Company is the "Lima, Gradyville and West Chester Electric Street Railway Company." This trolley line is as yet unconstructed, but is supposed to be, as the name indicates, a continuation of a road from Lima, via Gradyville to West Chester, for which numerous surveys have been made during the past two or three years. The road under the name of the Chester, Ashton and Middletown Street Railway has been completed, the line making a loop through Media, the nearest point to West Chester on the line as completed being Lima, which is probably ten miles from our borough. If the stock of the new company is taken liberally, it is thought that all the projected roads for which charters are held may be completed, and we will then be connected by this ten-mile link with the great network of roads already constructed through Delaware county, as well as the numerous other lines included in the deal.

At Trenton, W. W. Slack, 18 State street, has prepared plans for a two story brick building, 50x58 feet, for the Home Rubber Company. It will occupy a site on Wolverson avenue. —Also plans by the same architect for a three story store and office building to be erected at 101 State street for Fisher Brothers. It will be 36x110 feet, well finished throughout and provided with modern conveniences. Bids for its erection will be received January 15, 1903.

The Camden County Golf Club has decided to give up its present quarters opposite Knight's Park and will occupy the old Vineyard Farm on the Browning road and Haddonfield turnpike. The members have also decided to change the name to the Camden County Country Club. It is the intention to renovate and alter the large building on the farm to fit it for club purposes. These changes will include billiard and pool rooms, shower baths, gymnasium and a first-class cafe. The estimated cost of these improvements is from $5,000 to $10,000.

At Lakewood, the lot purchased for the new fire house at the corner of Washington and Van Buren streets, contains about 10,000 square feet. It will be a two and one-half-story building, facing on Washington street, and having a frontage of forty feet on that street and forty on Van Buren street. The plans include two small stores in the front of the building, facing Washington street, and a lodge or company room in the rear on the ground floor, as well as the room for the apparatus, the lodge room and the apparatus room to be twenty by forty feet in size. On the second floor is to be located a hall with ante-rooms and a stage, the floor space being forty by forty feet.

interior finish, all modern conveniences.—Mr. Patrick Kirwan, 104-106 West Fayette street, has bought property in Charles street adjoining Homewood avenue and will erect a fine brick dwelling on the site next spring. In addition to the dwelling a building for bowling purposes will be erected. The property adjoining the new site of Johns Hopkins University.—The contract for the erection of the new ice plant for the Hammond Ice Company has been let to John A. Sheridan. It will occupy a site on Block street, 190 feet front and extending along the water 450 feet. The estimated cost is about $100,000. It will be equipped with every modern convenience.—Messrs. G. Lamar Kelly and Frank O. Singer, Jr., who are interested in the purchase of the Old Garrett Park, have announced that in addition to the fourteen two story brick dwellings to be erected on Fulton avenue, sixteen similar houses will be built on Lexington street. The work of cutting the street through Garrett Park, to be known as Penrose avenue, will be begun shortly. When the work is completed ninety more dwellings will be erected on Penrose avenue and on Monroe and Saratoga streets. The dwellings will all be two stories high, and will cost about $2,000 each.—Plans have been prepared by Chappell & Boswell, of New York City, for a three story tank house, to be erected for the Baltimore Refrigerating and Heating Company, on Eutaw street, between Barre and Wayne streets. The structure will be 47x75 feet, a boiler house, 71x66 feet, and a machine shop 68x112 feet, will also be erected. They will be one story high.—The Water Board has approved the specifications for meters. It has also decided to increase the number of disc meters to be purchased with rotary meters.—It is stated that Mr. Henry Walters will erect a public bath house for the city at a cost of $25,000.

Washington, D. C.

The chief engineer of the Fire Department has asked the District Commissioners to secure the necessary legislation from Congress, authorizing the purchase of additional property for the proposed new truck house.—Officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad are confident that the year 1903 will see the construction of both the New York and Washington terminals well advanced. The estimated cost of these two projects is $50,000,000, $50,000,000 of which will be spent in New York. The McMillan bill, which provides for the building of the Washington terminal, and which passed the Senate at the long session, has just passed the House. It now goes back to the Senate for concurrence in the amendments offered. President Cassatt is satisfied with the amendments and is sure that the bill will become a law in a few weeks. It is known that President Roosevelt favors it. The bill provides that the site of the station shall be on Massachusetts avenue and that it shall cost not less than $4,000,000. The total cost of the station, tunnels and approaches will be about $10,000,000. The plans for the station have been drawn by D. H. Burnham, architect of the Chicago World's Fair. All the plans for the terminal are far advanced, and contracts will be let as soon as the President signs the bill. The present station, at Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue, will be abandoned, and the company will receive from the Government $1,500,000 for surrendering its right of way over the mall.—A bill has been introduced in Congress, by Mr. Mims, of Indiana, to erect a National Endowed Theatre in Washington. It is said that Mr. Carnegie has offered to endow such an institution provided the Government takes an interest in it.—It is said that the District Commissioners have authorized the laying of 3,620 feet of twelve-inch water main from Twenty-eighth street and Bladensburg road, at a cost of about $6,000.

The Height of Houses.

In Paris the heights of houses is limited, the limit varying according to the width of the street on which the house is situated. Nothing could be better. Hygiene requires that the sunshine find its way into the narrow streets as well as into the broad thoroughfares; while, speaking from an aesthetic point of view, what can be expected of a street where a house of two stories is flanked by a sky-scraper of twenty? Hence, there is a certain harmonious symmetry about Paris streets. One cannot imagine a house of twenty-five stories on the Place de Etoile, facing the Arc de Triomphe. Millions are going to be spent in New York upon the construction of a superb library. The architects are highly cultivated men, and men of taste. They will put up an edifice which will do honor to the city. This edifice is going to stand in a small garden bordered on its four sides by streets, the houses of which are still, at the present time, of a reasonable height; but once the library is built, the neighboring ground will rise in value, and it is probable that before ten years have passed the existing houses will have given place to immense sky-scrapers. Surrounded by these monsters, the library will appear insignificant, and the architectural effect will be destroyed.

The Paris municipal regulations are also very strict in regard to the fronts. In certain streets uniform trees are insisted upon; such is the case, for instance, with the Rue de Rivoli, which is bordered by arcades; and so, too, is it with the Place Vendôme. We like the picturesque, but it must be admitted that very fine effects can be produced with symmetry and uniformity.—Jean Schopfer in the Architectural Record.

At New York, John Hauser, 1961 Seventh avenue, wants estimates the first week in January for the construction of five three story dwellings on the north side of 118th street near Lenox avenue. James C. Picken is the owner.

At New York City, Robert Maynicke, 725-727 Broadway, wants estimates by January 15, 1903, for ornamental iron work for the eleven story office and loft building to be erected at 11-19 West 19th street, and 10-16 West Twentieth st.

At Philadelphia, Pa., a retaining wall will be constructed at League Island Navy Yard. $85,000 has been appropriated for the purpose. Bids for its construction will be received until January 3d. by Mordecai T. Endicott, Chief of Bureau of Yards and Docks, Washington, D. C.

Can You Make These Ends Meet?

Isn't it very difficult to reconcile the statement made last October, by the Secretary of the Treasury of the U. S., to the effect that while the National Banks of the country were entitled (through the deposit under the law with the Secretary of the Treasury of the U. S. bonds on which the people pay interest) to $700,000,000 circulation, they only had at that time $350,000,000, with the statements and recommendations made by Wm. E. Ridgely, the Controller of the Currency, on the night of December 18th, in New York, at the annual dinner of the New York Bankers' Association. Mr. Ridgely, if correctly reported, said, among other things:

"The national banking system will complete the fortieth year of its existence on February 25, 1903. On the whole, it is and always has been a good system of excellent banks, ably and honestly managed.

The one great objection which can be fairly made to the system is the lack of elasticity in the currency which is issued. If this defect can be remedied without impairing the safety of the notes we will have a good currency, well adapted to the needs of the country.

Since they were first issued there has been a contest between the legal tender and national bank notes. As is always the case, the worse money has driven out the better. The legal tender notes which are in no way as good currency as the national bank notes have checked the growth of a proper bank circulation.

Any complete and satisfactory solution of our present currency problems should include some plan for the retirement of the legal tenders. I believe the bank note circulation can be greatly improved by a few quite conservative changes which will add to its elasticity, or, rather, introduce some elasticity where there is now practically none.

The prime requisite for an elastic currency is frequent redemption and freedom of retirement. To have proper and true elasticity, contractibility is as necessary as expansibility. It is more reliable than any tax restriction or regulation.

VALUE OF EXPANSIBLE CURRENCY.

We have frequently seen our whole fabric of credits endangered by the possibility of forced liquidation, with its resulting loss, if not ruin, to many sound and solvent concerns, from this same cause. The best way to provide for such variations in the amount of currency required is by bank notes, and our currency system will never be satisfactory or efficient until our banks are able to supply this.

Instead of being a source of weakness in a crisis or panic, an expansible bank note currency is an element of safety and protection. The experience where they have such a currency demonstrates this.

To introduce any expansibility into our bank currency we must sooner or later get away from bank security in some way; either do away with it altogether or require part bond security and allow a certain portion of each bank's circulation to be uncovered by bonds.

I think the best plan which has been suggested for modifying our bank currency is to allow the banks to issue more than the par value of the bonds deposited. The first consideration should be to make these notes absolutely secure to the holder.

The Government can safely guarantee or insure these notes if protected by the bonds held for a part of their value, and, in addition, by a guarantee fund to be raised by a tax or premium for insurance levied on the bank circulation.

These additional notes should be exactly the same in form and in all respects as those now issued. In fact, the change should be merely the increase of the permission, so that a bank might issue one and one-half times the par value of the bonds deposited, the maximum amount of bonds remaining the same as now, equal to the capital stock of the bank. The banks should be required to carry additional cash reserve against the uncovered portion of their notes.

Between Mr. Shaw's don't and Mr. Ridgely's recommendations, is like placing the people between the devil and the deep sea.

It is quite evident that the speech of Mr. Ridgely, notwithstanding the fact that he is an officer of the Government, was prepared in the interest of the banks and to be read by the public, while the statement of Mr. Shaw is that of an honest official, laboring under heavy responsibility.

Is it hard to guess the influence on trade and commerce the $350,000,000 would have if put in circulation?

Wants.

At Sewickley, Pa., bids will be received after February 1st, for the erection of the $35,000 to $40,000 three story pressed brick Y. M. C. A. building, 60x125, plans for which are now being prepared by Architect T. E. Billquist, 341 Sixth avenue, Pittsburgh. Slate roof. H. C. Bartholomew, secretary.

Blank forms of proposals and envelopes will be furnished to those who address Dr. William H. Hancker, Farnhurst, Delaware. No bids will be considered unless made on such blanks and in the manner therein designated. Bids will be opened at the hospital at 10.30 A. M., Friday, January 2, 1903. Contracts will be awarded to the best bidders. The trustees reserve the right to reject bids not deemed to be to the best interests of the institution. Samples can be obtained by applying at the hospital. William H. Hancker, Superintendent.

Miscellaneous

At New Orleans, La., plans have been prepared for a twelve story brick building to be erected at Canal and Chartiers streets, for A. Lehman & Co.

At Denison, Texas, bids will be received until January 17th for the erection of the Houston and Texas Central round house. Address C. C. Calvert.

At Jacksonville, Florida, it is said that a three story hotel building will be erected at Duval and Main streets. It is said that A. G. Rhodes is interested.

At Lynchburg, Virginia, plans have been prepared by Frye & Chesterman, 213 Ninth street, for a large hotel to be erected on Main street, for Mr. J. A. Morrison.

At Beaumont, Texas, the Oaks Hotel Company will erect a large hotel to cost $80,000.

At Marlboro, Mass., on December 26th fire destroyed the City Hall, entailing a loss of about $300,000.

At South Omaha, Neb., work will soon begin on the proposed Carnegie Library which will cost $50,000. The president of the library board is Mr. Bruce McCullough.

At Worcester, Mass., City Council has authorized a loan of $300,000 for new buildings for the City Hospital and a loan of $100,000 to erect a new central police station.

At Richmond, Va., estimates are wanted for plumbing, heating, ventilating, lighting and power plant for the Virginia State University. Address Howard H. Holt, engineer in charge, or P. Thornton Marye, architect.

At Long Island City, Long Island, N. Y., the terminal of the Long Island Railroad was destroyed by fire last week. The estimated loss is about $200,000. W. F. Potter, Long Island City, is general superintendent.

At Harrisonburg, Va., it is said that the First National Bank will erect a five story building on the site of its present building. It will be finely finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $50,000.

At Hartford, Conn., Isaac A. Allen, Jr., 904 Main street, has prepared plans for a building to be erected on Pearl street for the Hartford Electric Co. It will be five stories high, well finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences.

Birmingham, Ala., John M. Griffith & Son, 135 Adams street, Chicago, Ill., have received the contract for the erection of the $500,000 office building, 100x140 feet, for the Woodward Construction Company, W. C. Weston, architect.

At Columbus, Ohio, it is stated that plans have been prepared by Frank L. Packard, Hayden Building, for an auditorium to be erected in connection with the Eastwood Congregational Church at Broad and Twenty-first streets. The estimated cost is about $40,000. Rev. J. C. Jackson is the pastor in charge.

A City of Mexico special says: Sir Weetman Pearson & Son, the English contractors, who have extensive investments in Mexico, have obtained a concession from the Mexican Government for the establishment of one of the most extensive systems of electrical energy on this continent. They announce that they have the necessary plans completed for expending $12,000,000 gold in constructing an electric generating plant in the mountains of the State of Puebla. It is proposed to establish transmission lines from the generating plant to this city, and to have available 80,000 horse power of electrical energy for electric lights and power for manufacturing concerns here.

At Chicago, Architects D. H. Burnham & Co., 1142 The Rookery, have prepared plans for the new station to be erected by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Washington, D. C. It will cost, including tunnels and approaches about $10,000,000. It is possible that they will also make plans for the new station which the same company will build in New York.—The building committee of the public library, for which Andrew Carnegie has donated $40,000, has ordered a set of plans from Architects Patton & Miller, 153 La Salle street, Chicago, associated with Liese & Ludwick, of Danville, who will be the supervising architects. The building will be a one story and basement, 100x70 feet, or vitrified brick, with white sandstone trimmings, tile roof, etc.—Also completed plans for the Carnegie Library building to be erected at Eau Claire, Wis. The building will be 111x70 feet, vitrified brick, with sandstone trimmings, and will have steam heat, electric light, hardwood finish, tile roof and will cost $40,000.—Also completed plans for a ladies' dormitory, to be built by the Miami University at Oxford, O. The building will be constructed of brick and stone and will have steam heat, combination light, hardwood finish and gravel roof. The cost will be $25,000.—Architects Hill & Woltersdorf, 72 La Salle street, are at work on plans for a fine residence for James Moir, to be erected at Fifth and Arch streets, in Burlington, Ia. It will be of the Colonial type and will cost $20,000.—The International Hotel Company has purchased from Frederic Hebard the Wyoming Hotel at 266 to 274 South Canal street for $160,000.

Among those interested are Emil Demme, Carl G. and Carl C. Roessler and Max Teich. It is understood that they will change the name of the Wyoming to the Kaiser-Hof, and will remodel it upon an elaborate scale after plans by Architect Paul Gerhardt, Schiller building. The building is 100x108 and eight stories high, of fireproof construction, and contains 247 rooms. The entire first and second floors will embrace the restaurant, consisting of an Old English Tavern, German Rathes Keller, French Italian and Old Time Norwegian (Viking) rooms. It is the intention to spend from $75,000 to $100,000 on these improvements. Plans and details will be completed February 1, 1903, by the architect.

At New York City, Sullivan & Kraus, proprietors of the Dewey Theatre, have leased the property 105-109 East 125th street and 104-170 East 126th street. The plot is 71x200 feet, and the new lessees will erect on the site a theatre to be devoted to burlesque. It will be finely finished and will be provided with all modern conveniences. The seating capacity will be about 2000 and it is expected to have it ready for the season of 1903, beginning in September. There will be a roof garden on which work will be pushed so as to have it ready to open on Memorial Day. It will seat fifteen hundred. The estimated cost is about $200,000.

J. B. McElfatrick & Son, 1402 Broadway, has made plans for the Harlem Auditorium at Seventh avenue and 126th street. It will contain a theatre, rathskeller, roof garden and a number of apartments. It will be five stories high, and 100x125 feet. The contract has been awarded to George Vassar's Son & Co., 5 East 18th street. The same architects are making plans for the proposed Broadway Theatre to be erected at Broadway and Stockton street, Brooklyn. It will be three stories high, 185x200 feet, and will contain apartments, restaurants and a theatre, with a seating capacity of 2,200. The cost will be about $200,000. The plans will be finished about the middle of January, after which time estimates will be received.—Nathan Stern, 756 Flushing avenue, Brooklyn, is the agent for the building.—Chief Engineer Brown, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, has said that plans for the New York Church Corporation, 111-117 Fulton street.—Howells & Stokes, 110 William street, are preparing plans for a 9 story fireproof apartment hotel, to be built for the Wyllies Co., 100 William street, New York, 35-37 Madison avenue, a plot 50x225 feet, with an "L" to Nos. 38-40 East 26th street, a plot 50x50. The general contract is held by the Thompson-Starrett Company, Nos. 49-51 Wall street, and the estimated cost is $250,000. It is expected that by January 1st, the work of demolishing the old buildings occupying the site will begin.—It is said that the Broadway-Cortland Co. will erect a modern office building at 165 and 167 Broadway and adjacent property. Robert Waymike, 725 Broadway, will prepare the plans and Henry Corn, who sold the property, will probably be the contractor.—It is said that John Wanamaker will erect a twelve story department store on the block bounded by Broadway, Fourth avenue, Eighth and Ninth streets, recently acquired and directly south of his present store. The plans are being prepared by D. H. Burnham, of Chicago, and details of the new enterprise have not yet been settled.—The plans for the Pennsylvania R. R. terminal have not so far advanced that work can begin in a week after all the franchises are secured and the bill approved by Mayor Low and the Board of Estimates. It is said that about $50,000,000 will be spent in New York on improvements.—The first important step for the acquisition for park purposes of 132 acres of land at Coney Island, thereby wiping out the island's Bowery, and converting the island into a national seaside resort, has been taken. At a meeting, attended by many prominent residents of Brooklyn and officials, the plan was unanimously approved. The assessed value of the land proposed to be acquired by the city, amounts to $1,534,795. It was stated at the meeting that the land desired was all the portion of the island lying between Seaside Park and Seagate, and south of Surf avenue.—John Boese, 280 Broadway, has prepared plans for the new church which will be erected on 45th street near Ninth avenue. The plans call for a church and chapel combined, and estimates will be received some time in January, as soon as the plans are ready. The owner is the Collegiate Reformed Dutch.
